

alone is an adequate cry for the west--neither rearmament alone, which is the means of the one, nor negotiation alone which is the means of the other. The only hopeful policy is peace through strength, arms and diplomacy.

---

s/c