

THE OLD BREWERY BAY
ORILLIA

close of the year, to our great regret.

Mr John Culliton was promoted from being a sessional lecturer to a position as Assistant professor, and Mr Eugene Forsey was appointed to the staff as lecturer.

I regret to say that Mr Farthing has just written to tell me that he is entirely unable to work for an indefinite period. We cannot manage his classes without help: but I think we could carry on, in a more or less satisfactory way, with tutorial work, done by graduate students, instead of engaging a locum tenens. If we spent about 100 a month, say about 800 for the session, in this way, it would be possible for Mr Farthing
