

NEW AND USEFUL WORKS FOR YOUNG PEOPLE.

THE FOLLOWING
INSTRUCTIVE AND INTERESTING
BOOKS

Are now ready, or in preparation,

AT

H. R. THOMAS'S

JUVENILE REPOSITORY & SCHOOL LIBRARY,

7, HANOVER STREET,

Hanover Square, London;

AND MAY BE HAD OF

WESTLEY AND TYRRELL,

11, Lower Sackville Street, Dublin.

I. The YOUNG NATURALIST; a
Tale. By A. C. MANT. A new Edition improved.
3s. 6d. half bound. With a beautiful Frontispiece.

"Young Persons of either sex will find not only amusement, but some instruction in this little volume. It is by no means a book of Natural History; but the juvenile adventures of the Young Naturalist and his companions are interspersed in an agreeable manner, with much information on subjects connected with Natural History, as well as many important moral precepts. The pains which the Author takes in exposing the vice of cruelty to animals, are highly commendable, and must produce the most beneficial effects on the minds of her young readers."—Monthly Critical Gazette, for August 1824.

"This is a pleasing Tale, and well calculated to instil principles of morality in a juvenile mind, through the medium of an imaginary story."—Literary Chronicle, Aug. 28, 1824.