

to be proud; but it is doubly delightful to be assured that there is nothing in its style or teaching in the least incompatible with the simplest and most cherished of those sacred incidents and operations by which our primitive and apostolic Methodism has from the beginning, been characterised.

I am, dear Sir, yours truly,

JOHN McLEAN.

—Watchman, Dec. 6, 1848.

PRINTED BY JOSEPH WOODS.