

1000 PROVERBS

- A bad workman quarrels with his tools.
A bird in the hand is worth two in a bush.
A happy heart makes a blooming visage.
Absence cools moderate passions, and inflames violent ones.
A burden which one chooses is not felt.
A cat may look at a king.
Aching teeth are ill tenants.
A chip of the old block.
A clear conscience fears no accusation.
A contented mind is a continual feast.
A creaking door hangs long on the hinges.
A drowning man will catch at a straw.
Adversity flattereth no man.
A fat kitchen makes a lean will.
A fault confessed is half redressed.
A fool and his money are soon parted.
A fool can make money; it requires a wise man to spend it.
A fool may give a wise man counsel.
A fool's bolt is soon shot.
After death the doctor.
After dinner sit a while, after supper walk a mile.
After meat, mustard.
A friend in need is a friend indeed.
A full purse never lacks friends.
