

Mark Envelopes for Mail Orders for Goods on this page "City Ad."

EATON'S DAILY STORE NEWS

Hair Dressing, Manicuring and Chirophyd Sections, Second Floor, Yonge St. Annex.

Hosiery—Many Grades With Low Prices

The needs of your family rather than the cost of the hosiery is the determining factor in your purchasing. Here is one occasion, however, when it would be wise for you to anticipate your needs and come in Tuesday for a supply of certain of the varieties mentioned below.

Boys' Ribbed English Worsted Hose—Made from bright glossy yarns; have double heel and toe and a seamless finish; sizes 6 to 10. Special Tuesday, per pair29

Men's Silk Socks—In a variety of different colors and designs; of best French makes, and finest finished goods, with all sizes in the lot; are odds and ends that we want to clear. Half price Tuesday, per pair50 to 2.00

Men's "Lumbermen" Long Socks—With a cord at top; are a good strong make; medium sizes. Half price Tuesday, per pair18

Women's Pure Wool Plain Black Cashmere Hose—Made from fine spun English yarns; double heel and toe and are seamless with fashioned leg; 2-ply sole, heel and toe; in all sizes. Tuesday, per pair25

Women's Plain Tan Cashmere Hose—Made from finest spun pure cashmere yarns, with two-ply soles, heel and toe; have seamless finish and are fashioned; all sizes. One of our best lines. To clear at less than half price, per pair18

—Main Floor—Yonge Street.

Gloves—January Sale Benefits

The January Sale goods in Glove Section were bought and selected with the same good judgment and careful buying as characterizes our best lines.

Men's Horsehide Gloves—The seams are all welted; the thumb is continuous; they are fastened with one clasp, and are heavily lined. Reduced for January Sale, per pair65

27 dozen Women's Ringwood Gloves—With close-fitting wrist and honey-comb back; in black only. January Sale, per pair15

Children's Heavy Ribbed All-Wool Mitts—With tight-fitting ribbed wrist; in white only. Less than half price, January Sale, per pair10

—Main Floor—Yonge Street.

Men's Fur-lined Coats, a Special Value

A fine black beavercloth shell, fashionably tailored, Canadian muskrat lining, well-furred skins, storm collar of otter; these have been reduced for January Sale to55.00

Men's Night Robes

Men's Night Robes, of strong medium-weight flannel; extra long and wide bodies, finished with gussets to prevent the sides ripping; neat stripes in pink and blue; sizes 16 to 19. January Sale price47

—Main Floor—James Street.

Coats and Wraps For Women Surpass the Expected January Reductions

There is no hesitation about the revision of prices in our Cloak Section. Regardless of the weather and just at the height of their usefulness, we are giving wonderful values, in fur coats and other wraps for women.

The fur coats are well represented by the following samples, which give a fair idea of the unusual price advantages:

Lot 1—Shells of fine imported pure wool broadcloth; in loose back and semi-fitting styles; from black, navy, brown and green; have storm collar and revers of marmot, mink, Persian lamb or blended sable, and linings of muskrat, hamster or lock squirrel.

All sizes are not shown in each style or color, but all are embraced in the lot. We have set the clearing price at25.00

Lot 2—A few coats only with shell of finest Austrian broadcloth; cut in loose-fitting styles; including black, navy, brown and green; have large storm collar and revers of finest full-furred natural mink, with lining of high-grade muskrat. These were amongst the highest priced goods, but go on Tuesday, each, as illustration, at49.50

Clearing Evening Wraps

An attractive lot of loose-fitting broadcloth evening coats; in pastel shades of king blue, scarlet, tan, fawn, apricot, sea green, drab, navy, grey, stone, amethyst; have large shawl collar and large art metal buttons. A few imported coats are among them at half price. Each15.00

Women's Winter Coats

Full length semi-fitting military collar coats; in frieze and boucle chevrot; in dark greens; also loose-back coats in chevrot and beaver cloth; with flat velvet collar; braided trimmed. Will be cleared Tuesday for, each2.98

Walking Skirts Give Special Value

Fashionable skirts; made from mill ends of skirting materials, including novelty and fancy woads and vicunas; in shades of blue, grey, stone, brown and red; are extra good value at each1.98

—Second Floor—James Street.

T. EATON DRUG CO. LIMITED

January Sale Prices in the Drug Section

- Cloth Brushes, Each15
 - Toilet Soap, Per dozen30
 - Hot-Water Bags, red rubber; 2-qt. size, Each65
 - Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites; about 14-oz. bottle25
 - Winter Cream for the hands, Per jar25
 - Cream of Tartar, Per lb., 25; or 6-oz. package10
 - Aromatic Cascara, 3-oz. bottle15
- Main Floor—James Street.

Artificial Flowers and Ferns

- Artificial Bouquets—Of pink roses and violets, with natural preserved maidenhair fern. Tuesday, half price, each8
 - Japanese Air Fern—In bunches; emerald green in color; that's very pretty for table decorating. This is an everlasting fern. Per bunch15
 - Plant Food, in 1/2-lb. and 1-lb. packages—This is a plant food highly recommended by the government inspectors. By its use plants are kept in a flourishing condition. Per package15 and 25
- Fifth Floor.

THE T. EATON CO. LIMITED

PRINCIPAL PETERSON ON "POETRY IN SCHOOLS"

Large Audience Heard the First of the University Saturday Lectures—Reply to Harold Begbie.

Principal Peterson's address on "Poetry in the Schools," at the university on Saturday afternoon took a most interesting turn, and was much more attractive than the little might have led many to expect. The address was the first of the university course for the season, and Prof. Mavor and his committee always secure an interesting program.

In illustration of his views Principal Peterson read a number of poems. Joaquin Miller's "Columbus," Richard Hovey's "At the End of the Day," and Henry Newbolt's "Play the Game" were the first of these. Dr. Peterson knew Newbolt at Oxford. He thought the poem embodied the spirit of the saying, so long attributed to the Duke of Wellington, that England's battles were won on the playgrounds of Eton. It was a pity it referred to cricket, which had a hard struggle to hold its own among other games, but the spirit of the poem was applicable to them all.

The improvement of sport. He was glad that Toronto and McGill could equally rejoice in the improvement in sport, and when the university teams met they always played a clean game. That was always brought home to the speaker by the fact that the defeated team always brought home a number of hymns, and he was reminded, to say that all hymns are remarkable. He added Addison's "Hymn to Creation" and Katherine Tynan Hinkson's "Singing Stars" as admirable specimens.

Harold Begbie, when in Canada, had professed a high opinion of the curriculum of this country because he could find no Milton-minded men here. It was conscious of a future, but only of the market place and the wharf.

Dr. Peterson asked him to give Canada a little time. It had taken three centuries for Shakespeare for England to produce a Beagle. Dr. Peterson then read Mr. Begbie's poem of Britain overseas, which he described as rather wonderful. In noble verse it concluded: "Shakespeare's tongue for our country."

25 subjects for study any attempt to bring the pupil in contact with more than eight or nine was bound to fail. He had heard of one authority who thought agriculture was the only subject which should be taught in a rural school. The speaker believed manual training was desirable if it were only to overcome the aversion children have for working with their hands.

Ray Lankester lately advocated the abandonment of literature and history in favor of physics, physiology and biology, but Darwin had regretted that he had not paid more attention to poetry and music, and thus brought into use a part of his brain which had become atrophied. Dr. Peterson had himself found great solace in the recollection of an early poem which called Solomon's idea, how much was he wiser "that keeps his heart, than he who takes a town."

To speak intelligently with a grateful and agreeable cadence was Dr. Peterson's definition of education, which he considered to be a greatly neglected art. Poetry should be read in a style, a half way between speaking and singing. Poetry was regarded as an artificial subject. The teacher favored arithmetic because he knew there would be no attack upon it, and that people loved the multiplication table and every figure upon it.

Character First. In the making of a man Dr. Peterson regarded the fine elements of importance, and in their relative order were character, physique, intelligence, manners and information. In examinations information is given first place. Poetry would remedy the prevalent bad English spoken in Canada, of which he gave various examples. Among these were the various contortions which had taken the place of "yes." The conversation of poetry was "yes, yes, and 'Nay,' take their place was of evil.

Children, like their elders, enjoy trying to understand things, and even to Scott made the mistake of trying to write down to the child's mind, the domination of the senses, is pure and clear, and may be filled with lovely pictures.

A little boy of 8 years, on hearing the brave ballad of Sir Patrick Spens will open his eyes and cheeks will glow and "The Ancient Mariner" will claim him and he will learn that the prayeth best who loveth best all things, both great and small."

NATIONALIST MEMBER NEARLY ASPHYXIATED

Mr. Gilbert and His Family Might Have Been Victims of Closed Flue in Furnace.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—(Special)—Arthur Gilbert, the Nationalist member for Drummond-Arthurs, was, along with his wife and children, almost poisoned to death yesterday by coal gas which entered the house through a closed flue in which the near tragedy occurred belongs to the Dominion Government. Mr. Gilbert resides at 115 St. Patrick street, and on Saturday the employees of the public works department did some work around the furnaces. Apparently they had shut off the dampers before the gas had been burned out of the coal, for Mr. Gilbert and his family were soon under the influence of the poison.

About 6 o'clock in the evening Mr. Gilbert recovered consciousness, and having reached the door, made an attempt to call help. He fell down in a stupor and passerby thought he was merely a sleeping inebriate. Eventually the family were got out of the building, but Mr. Gilbert and his family and servant were unconscious for some hours, but are now out of danger.

LICENSE BOARDS

Provincial Government Has Already Appointed Fifty-Six of Them.

The provincial government has appointed boards of license committees for over about half the census districts of Ontario. Boards have been appointed for the following license districts: Haliburton, East Hastings, North Hastings, West Hastings, Centre Huron, South Huron, East Kent, Kingston, Lanark, Lennox, Lincoln, Manitowish, North Middlesex, Norfolk, East Northumberland, North Oxford, East Parry Sound, West Parry Sound, Peel, Addison, North Bruce, South Bruce, Carleton Place, East, Durham, East Elgin, Frontenac, Glengarry, Centre Grey, North Grey, Halton, East Peterborough, West Peterborough, North Simcoe, South Simcoe, York, East York, West York, and Windsor.

WANT SUNDAY CARS

Toronto, London and Port Arthur Companies Apply for Privilege.

Will the Ontario Legislature give the Toronto and York Radial Railway the privilege of running Sunday cars? Application for the foregoing privilege is contained in an application from the Toronto and York Railway, under special conditions to be fixed by the railway and municipal board. The Sunday car question will also be up in connection with London and Port Arthur.

Power to make a series of extensions is also applied for by the Toronto and York Radial, including one to the Village of Markham, and on the Metropolitan division, to the Village of Pefferlaw.

"The King's Business"

Evangelistic Meetings To-day.

10.30 a.m.—Y.M.C.A. Union meeting for all ministers, Dr. Chapman and Mr. Alexander.

12.15 noon—Christie, Brown & Co., Mr. and Mrs. Asher.

3 p.m.—Metropolitan Church, for women only, Mrs. Alexander.

8 p.m.—Gipsa Industrial School, Mrs. Asher.

8.45 p.m.—Dovercourt Presbyterian Church, illustrated service for young people, Rev. J. J. Lowe.

7.45 p.m.—Westmoreland district, Westmoreland Methodist Church, Evangelist, Rev. Thos. Needham; singer, Mr. H. E. Litchman; Mr. De-Williams; Mr. Alexander.

7.45 p.m.—College and Bathurst district, College Street Baptist Church, Evangelist, Rev. J. W. Allen; singer, Mr. Harvard S. Saxton.

7.45 p.m.—Dundas and Dovercourt district, Wesley Methodist Church, Evangelist, Rev. J. C. Goodson; singer, Mr. Frank Dickson.

PREACH HELL OUT OF MEN AND NOT MEN OUT OF HELL

Dr. Chapman Views Problem From the Subjective Side—After Meeting Like Minstrel Show.

It begins to look as if Dr. Chapman's harvest is on its way. Both the Saturday night and Sunday afternoon meetings for men in Massey Hall brought out armies of men, filling most of the seats in both cases. No crowd of football rooters could have been more enthusiastic than the gathering yesterday, every hymn coming with a volition, and every prayer with a volition. Mr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman broke from the trend of his argument to dwell on the dangers of idleness, and spoke of the many dangers that have been traced to it. "You didn't commit the sin that's bearing upon your mind now when you were at work," he said, accusingly, "it was while you were idle, with your mind unoccupied."

Dr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman broke from the trend of his argument to dwell on the dangers of idleness, and spoke of the many dangers that have been traced to it. "You didn't commit the sin that's bearing upon your mind now when you were at work," he said, accusingly, "it was while you were idle, with your mind unoccupied."

Dr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman broke from the trend of his argument to dwell on the dangers of idleness, and spoke of the many dangers that have been traced to it. "You didn't commit the sin that's bearing upon your mind now when you were at work," he said, accusingly, "it was while you were idle, with your mind unoccupied."

Dr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman Views Problem From the Subjective Side—After Meeting Like Minstrel Show.

It begins to look as if Dr. Chapman's harvest is on its way. Both the Saturday night and Sunday afternoon meetings for men in Massey Hall brought out armies of men, filling most of the seats in both cases. No crowd of football rooters could have been more enthusiastic than the gathering yesterday, every hymn coming with a volition, and every prayer with a volition. Mr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman broke from the trend of his argument to dwell on the dangers of idleness, and spoke of the many dangers that have been traced to it. "You didn't commit the sin that's bearing upon your mind now when you were at work," he said, accusingly, "it was while you were idle, with your mind unoccupied."

Dr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman broke from the trend of his argument to dwell on the dangers of idleness, and spoke of the many dangers that have been traced to it. "You didn't commit the sin that's bearing upon your mind now when you were at work," he said, accusingly, "it was while you were idle, with your mind unoccupied."

Dr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman broke from the trend of his argument to dwell on the dangers of idleness, and spoke of the many dangers that have been traced to it. "You didn't commit the sin that's bearing upon your mind now when you were at work," he said, accusingly, "it was while you were idle, with your mind unoccupied."

Dr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman Views Problem From the Subjective Side—After Meeting Like Minstrel Show.

It begins to look as if Dr. Chapman's harvest is on its way. Both the Saturday night and Sunday afternoon meetings for men in Massey Hall brought out armies of men, filling most of the seats in both cases. No crowd of football rooters could have been more enthusiastic than the gathering yesterday, every hymn coming with a volition, and every prayer with a volition. Mr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman broke from the trend of his argument to dwell on the dangers of idleness, and spoke of the many dangers that have been traced to it. "You didn't commit the sin that's bearing upon your mind now when you were at work," he said, accusingly, "it was while you were idle, with your mind unoccupied."

Dr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman broke from the trend of his argument to dwell on the dangers of idleness, and spoke of the many dangers that have been traced to it. "You didn't commit the sin that's bearing upon your mind now when you were at work," he said, accusingly, "it was while you were idle, with your mind unoccupied."

Dr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Dr. Chapman broke from the trend of his argument to dwell on the dangers of idleness, and spoke of the many dangers that have been traced to it. "You didn't commit the sin that's bearing upon your mind now when you were at work," he said, accusingly, "it was while you were idle, with your mind unoccupied."

Dr. Chapman's message was a study in the power of Jesus' Name. Dr. Chapman began his sermon, taking as a study the story of David and his son Absalom, using the text from II. Samuel, xviii, 30, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" "This story of David's wild and reckless son, and of his death on the bough of a tree at the hands of a soldier of his father is one of the greatest dramas of the Old Testament. I am not going to dwell on that part of it, however; I am going to use it as a burning example of the Biblical warning, 'Whoever a man loveth his mother or his father more than me, he shall be despised.'"

Rev. Father Morrissey

A Combined Treatment That Really Cures Catarrh.

Canadian weather, with its extreme cold and sudden changes, gives almost every one Catarrh, and makes it hard to cure. Some recommend internal remedies—some external applications.

Father Morrissey used both—tablets to be taken three or four times a day to invigorate the system, purify the blood, and help it throw off the disease, and a soothing, healing, antiseptic salve to be applied inside the nostrils. This combined treatment known as attacking the disease from within and without, soon cures. Mr. A. C. Thibodeau, General Merchant in Rogersville, N.B., writes on Jan. 2nd last:

"Father Morrissey's No. 26"

"A few words as to the merits of your Catarrh Cure. For the last 10 years I have been troubled with Catarrh of the nose and stomach, and during that time have tried all kinds of other remedies with no results, until I tried your Catarrh Cure which I am glad to say has cured me. I highly recommend it to those who are suffering with this disease."

Don't trifle with Catarrh—cure it with Father Morrissey's No. 26. 50c for the combined treatment at your dealer's. 65

Father Morrissey Medicine Co. Ltd., Chatham, N.B.

Sold and guaranteed in Toronto by: The Broadway Drug Company, corner Spadina Avenue and College Street; Hennessy's Drug Store, Limited, 107 Yonge Street; J. W. Wood, corner Carlton and Parliament Streets, also 770 East Queen Street; W. T. Peare, 1631 Dundas Street; also 1945 Dundas Street; The Hooper Drug Company, Limited, 52 West King Street.

Shadow... SASSES... person who... their eyesight... Let us give... Whenever... to see the... before you... and have your... Do not delay... will remedy... difficult to... reasonable.

blz... phone... using this... and cannot... of it. Write... Luke... CIAN... ge Street... onto

D 35 YEARS... Cleaning... ANDERSON & CO... St. West North... will call for orders... out-of-town orders.

should recognize... including Him with... thoughts and in... because, by Di... He is the Church's... Father—the One... are acceptable to... How could we... Advocate, our At... in the future... reign, this will... because then He will... stand, standing... until by His me... and landing faith... and degradation and... justification and Female Pills... THE STANDARD... recommended for... scientifically prepar... in north. The result... quick and permanent... stores.