PEACE MESSAGE BY U. S. PRESIDENT

Says Way is Pointed Out, and Mankind Must Consecrate Lives to Realization.

London, June 29.—A peace message from President Wilson to The Daily Mail and The Weekly Dispatch is printed this morning in the latter publication. It follows: "Many things crowd into the mind to be said about the peace treaty, but the thought that stands out in front of all others is that by the terms of the treaty the greatest possible measure of compensation has been provided for peoples whose homes and lives were wrecked by the storm of war, and security has been given them that the storm shall not arise again. Insofar as we came together to ensure these things, the work of the conference is finished, but in a larger sense its work begins today. In answer to an unmisgiving appeal, the league of nations has been constituted and a covenant has been drawn which shows the way to international understanding and peace. We stand at the crossroads, however, and the way is only pointed out. Those who saw through the travesty of war for mankind must now consecrate their lives to its realization."

BEACHES

NO UNIVERSAL PEACE UNTIL CHRIST COMES

"The Signing of the Peace Treaty: Is it Peace?" was the subject of a powerful sermon preached by Rev. J. Boyd, pastor of Waverley Road Baptist Church, before a large congregation yesterday. "Is it peace? My answer is 'No,' and that for the following reasons," said the preacher. "First, Germany does not acknowledge herself beaten; second, she has not shown the least regret nor repented her wrong-doing to either God or man; third, she considers the terms imposed to be unjust, and will only carry them out at the point of the bayonet; fourth, the nations who have signed, especially the three great powers—France, Britain and America—have covenanted to stand by France in case Germany again attacks her.

"It is therefore evident that the great powers have not much faith in her signature. It is not in the plan of God, because God is still the ruler of men, and never was that fact more clearly demonstrated than during the late war.

"No real universal peace can be established until Christ comes," said the preacher, who closed by asking: "What should be our attitude in face of these facts?" and answered "By giving ourselves to watchfulness, patience and prayerfulness."

RAISING BLOCKADE RESTS WITH GERMANY

Will Be Lifted When Information That She Has Ratified Has Been Received.

Paris, June 29.—The official notification to Germany that the blockade will not be raised until the treaty is ratified by Germany was in the form of a resolution adopted by the council of four and presented to the German delegation before its departure from Berlin. The resolution is as follows: "The superior blockade council is instructed to base its arrangements for rescinding restrictions upon Germany on the assumption that the allied and associated powers will not wait to raise the blockade until the completion of ratification of the treaty at the end of the treaty with Germany, but that it is to be raised immediately upon receipt of information that the treaty of peace has been ratified by Germany."

Conditioning the raising of the blockade upon Germany's ratification of the treaty is regarded in German circles as a sure plan for securing a speedy ratification because of Germany's food and raw material needs. As Russia was practically blockaded as a result of the blockade by the central powers, the opinion is held that when the blockade against them ceases there will be no blockade against Russia. However, Soviet Russia's lack of credit and inability to make financial arrangements is looked upon by financial advisers connected with the conference as a bar to Russia's resumption of trade on a large scale.
