DEGRADATION OF SPAIN

Uncle Sam's Pockets Will Overflow With Spoils.
PEACE TREATY SETTLED.

Defeated, Spain Gives Up Cuba, Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines.

Receiving a Dole of $20,000,000—Spain Had No Hope From the Start of the Negotiations, and Could Not Renew the War—The U. S. Rejected All Other Compromises—How a War, Started Out on the Pretence of Finding Cuba, Ends in a Game of Grab—Articles to Be Signed Wednesday.

Paris, Nov. 28.—Spain has accepted the United States' offer of $20,000,000, and, at a joint session of the Peace Commission this afternoon, consent was given, without condition, to relinquish Cuba and to cede Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines.

The document presenting this acceptance contained only three hundred words. It opened with a reference to the final terms of the United States, and said that the Spanish Commissioners, after having taken cognizance of the terms proposed by the Americans, replied that their Government had tried to give as equitable an answer as possible, but that they were not prepared to commit their Government to the acceptance of the principles embodied in the American argument. "Spain rejects these principles," the note continues, "as she always has rejected them."

Basing her attitude upon the justice of her cause, the note then says she still adheres to these principles, "which she has heretofore invariably formulated."

U. S. Rejected Everything.
However, the note adds, in her desire for peace, she has gone so far as to propose certain compromises, which the Americans have always rejected. She has also attempted, it is further asserted, to have submitted to arbitration some of the material points upon which the two Governments differed. These proposals for arbitration, it is added, the Americans had equally rejected.

These allegations, in Spain's reply, to attempted arbitration, refer to her proposal to arbitrate the construction of the third article of the protocol and also to submit the Spanish colonial debt of Cuba and the Philippines to arbitration. The last proposition has been made in a written communication. Since its last presentation, and in return for such arbitration, Spain offered to cede the territory in dispute. The Americans refused both propositions for arbitration.

Spain Still Protests.
Spain's reply to-day, in substance, continued by declaring the United States has offered, as a kind of compensation to Spain, a country very inadequate to the sacrifices that country was at this moment making, and she feels, therefore, that the United States proposals cannot be considered just and equitable. Spain has, however, exhausted all the resources of diplomacy in an attempt to justify her attitude. Seeing that an acceptance of the proposal made to Spain is a necessary condition to a continuance of negotiations, and, seeing that the resources of Spain are not such as to enable her to re-enter upon war, she is prepared, in her desire to avoid bloodshed and from considerations of humanity and patriotism, to submit to the conditions of the conquering nation, however harsh they may be. She is, therefore, ready to accept the proposals of the American Commission as presented at the last sitting.

To Draw Up Articles.
The reading and the translation of the document occupied less than five minutes. At the conclusion of the translation the Commissioners empowered Senor Ojeda, secretary of the Spanish Commission, and Secretary Moore of the American Commission to draw up articles, which are to embody the relinquishment of Cuba by Spain and the cession of Porto Rico and the Philippines. These articles, which may be considered as constituting the condition of peace, will be ready for submission on Wednesday.

A great deal of interest was taken in today's meeting. The two Commissions arrived at the Foreign Office, in carriages, in the rain, almost simultaneously, and, repairing to the conference room, immediately transacted the only business before them.

No Wonder Rios Was Graved.
Senor Montero Rios, the president of the Spanish Commission, has usually preceded the presentation of a Spanish communication in writing by verbally summarizing the same. But to-day Senor Rios was silent and unusually grave. His face was deeper lined, and he clearly showed the mental strain under which he was laboring as he approached the final relinquishment of Spain's colonial possessions.

Without a word Senor Montero Rios produced two typewritten sheets and passed them to the interpreter of the United States Commission, Mr. Ferguson, who read them substantially as follows, the outcome of the Spanish document being furnished

C.P.R. TRAIN DERAILED.
On the Shuswap-Okanagan Branch of the C. P. R., But a Passenger-Engineer Was Hurt.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—The C.P.R. low death rate in accidents is again demonstrated. In a smash-up on the Shuswap, Okanagan branch, a C.P.R. northbound train, six miles from Sicamous, consisting of baggage, express car, passenger coach and superintendent's private car, left the track. One box car, and three cattle car hung to the rails. Three box cars crashed down a 15-foot dump. The train was ripped up, but not one single passenger was injured. All were crowded on the engine, which reached Sicamous on time, making the usual connections with the westbound express. The track was cleared for traffic last night.

SIR WILFRID OUGHT TO COME HOME

American Members Said to Be Working Independently of Canada for a Fisheries' Treaty.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 28.—The American members of the Joint High Commission for the settlement of disputes between the United States and Canada, desire, it is reported here, to arrange a fisheries treaty with Newfoundland, independent of Canada upon the basis of the Bond-Blaine convention. Canada strongly objects to this proposal, and the fisheries difficulty bids fair to neutralize the efforts of the commission. It is believed here that Lord Herschell will urge the Imperial authorities to harken to the case of Newfoundland, should the subject of a separate convention come before the British Cabinet for decision.

MRS. MARY E. HAWES IS DEAD

The Well-Known English Philanthropist, Artist and Journalist Passes Away in London.

London, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Mary Hawes, wife of the Rev. Hugh Reginald Hawes, incumbent of St. James, Marylebone, London, and long and favorably known in philanthropic, artistic and journalistic circles, is dead.

The late Mrs. Hawes, whose maiden name was Mary E. Joy, was a daughter of the late T. M. Joy, portrait and subject painter. She was superintendent of the Mercy (animal) branch of the British Women's Suffrage Association; vice-president of the Central National Society for Women's Suffrage; vice-president of the Maternity Society of England; directress of the Chancery course in the National Home Reading Union, Surrey House, Victoria Embankment, and a member of the society of women journalists and the society of authors. She exhibited oil pictures in the Royal Academy, British Institution and Dudley Gallery, and she did a good deal of designing all her own diagrams and those of her husband, author of "Music and Morals," and at one time editor of Cassell's Magazine.

THE COSTLY JEWELS

Stolen From the Duchess of Sutherland on a Train Recovered in London.

London, Nov. 28.—The police here have arrested two men who had in their possession a considerable quantity of the jewelry recently stolen on board a train between Paris and Calais from the Dowager Duchess of Sutherland, The Dowager Duchess of Sutherland, while on board a train bound from Paris for London, by way of Calais early last month, lost a satchel containing jewelry worth £30,000. The Duchess reported the loss to the police, but she had no clue to the thief. It was thought the satchel was taken while the Duchess was outside her compartment on the train. The train was stopped at Dover, and the jewels were recovered. There are a necklace valued at $22,000. Immediately after the discovery of the theft the Duchess offered a reward of $20,000 for the recovery of her property.

AN AWFUL DEATH ROLL

Is the Result of the Terrific Blizzard on Sunday.

WORST IN FIFTY YEARS.

The Terrible Sea Prevents a Recovery of Bodies From the Wrecks.

And It Will Be Several Days Before the Names of Those Lost Outside of Boston Harbor Can Be Ascertained—Crews of Many Vessels Were All Lost—List of the Wrecks So Far as Known—Destruction and Death Everywhere.

Boston, Nov. 28.—Not until this morning when daylight offered a safe opportunity for investigation and exploration did the awful havoc wrought by the storm in Boston harbor and vicinity become apparent.

Not since 1852 has a storm caused such destruction of property and loss of life so near the city. The tugs that started early this morning to explore the harbor and offer assistance, wherever it was possible, found a condition of affairs almost unprecedented in the marine history of Boston. On every side an awful spectacle of disaster and death was presented. Almost every shoal and reef in the harbor was the resting place of some wrecked craft, over which a wild sea still dashed, carrying the vessel higher up on the shore or slowly grinding it to fragments. Many wrecks were covered with ice, and this, and the fact that a terrific sea was running, made it impossible to learn their names.

Recovery of Bodies Difficult.

The waters also presented any attempt to recover bodies known to be in some of the wrecks, and it is probable that it will be several days before a complete list of those lost can be obtained.

At Hull Beach, where two barges and two schooners went ashore, more than a dozen bodies were visible in the fierce surf, but it was impossible to get at them.

At Shag Rocks, between Boston Light and the Brewsters, where the schooner Calvin F. Baker was ashore, two sailors were taken from the rigging by the waves, nearly exhausted, and the dead body of another was recovered. Three others from this vessel were drowned, but their bodies could not be found. The list of dead, as far as reported this afternoon, is as follows: From the schooner Calvin F.
