LOOKING FOR SAM JONES

If the Evangelist Goes to Chattanooga the Judge Will Have Him Arrested. Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 7.—Sam P.

arrested on an attachment process if he mes within this county in the present session of the Circuit Court. Jones, at a meeting here last spring, made sensational tharges about open violations of the Sunday closing law. He was here on last Sunday, and in addresses before a mass meeting in the interest of the moral reform licket, reiterated these charges.

Early on Monday morning a deputy sheriff served a summons on Jones to appear before the Grand Jury, which convened his week, and give testimony along the line of his charges. Jones consulted an attorney, and was told that he would not have to obey the summons, as the Grand Jury was not in session at the time the lummons was served.

Circuit Judge Estill thinks differently, and will bring the Georgia evangelist before the Grand Jury by process of law if he comes within his jurisdiction.

sidered a very good vote to get out, considering the lack of interest shown by some of the property-owners, and speaks well for the excellent organization of those who worked for the bylaw. A pleasant feature in the voting was that there was a majority in favor of the bylaw in every division. In Ward 4, in which Dundurn is, the vote was 363 for, 108 against. In Ward 3, at the opposite end of the city to the park, the vote was 363 for and 80 against. In Ward 5, at the opposite end of the city to the park, the vote was 263 for and 187 against. By the vote to-day the city will pay $50,000 for Dundurn Park, spread over 30 years, with interest at $45 per cent. There is no finer park in Canada and it will be of great benefit to the citizens.

It is a singular fact that of all the dramas or produced in New York and London within the last few years, few have received favorable attention from the critics on both sides of the water. Alan Dale, who is known as the most caustic critic in New York, wrote in The New York Journal of the first performance of "London Life," as follows:

"Messrs. J. Duke Murray and Howard Long are exploiting a brand new drama. It is called "London Life," and is by Martyn Field and Arthur Shirley. It is rare that such a good specimen of conventional drama as "London Life" is seen in the combination houses. Messrs. Murray and Long have a winner in a play that has no "sensation," such as a nice real explosion or a human ladder. It succeeds simply because its trite story is well displayed and because its "street" types are human enough. The ladles wert bifterly last hight at the woes
