Arrival of Mikado's Army at Far Northern Russian Port Has Been Effected in Shortest Possible Time-The Czecho-Slovaks Cheered Over Presence of the Allied Troops.

VLADIVOSTOK, Monday, Aug. 12.—
(By the Associated Press).—Japanese forces have landed and joined the British and French. The Allied contingents received ovations at many points on their way to the front. The British occupied the first line and sent out scouting parties. cupied the first line and sent out scouring parties.

The presence of the Allied force is creating an excellent effect among the Czecho-Slovaks. The Japanese were most efficient looking as they paraded in heavy marching order through the town between silent lines of townspeople. They were reviewed by naval and military officers at Czech headquarters, where their commander was warmly congratulated.

JAP FORCE IN MANCHURIA.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Japan's movement of troops to Siberia through Manchuria is under the agreement with China which followed news recently that former German and Austro-Hungarian prisoners in Siberia had assumed leadership of the Soviet forces along the borders of Manchuria, and were pressing upon the Chinese frontier in the direction of the town of Manchuria, and were pressing upon the Chinese frontier in the direction of the town of Manchuria, compelling many Japanese and Chinese to seek refuge in flight.

It was agreed, as a provisional measure, that a portion of the Japanese troops stationed in South Manchuria should be ordered to proceed immediately toward Manchuli. The size of the expedition cannot be disclosed for military reasons. Stations in Manchuria along the railroad and elsewhere vacated by the Japanese probably will be occupied by Chinese troops, is said to be invested by hostile bands of mixed German and Austrian prisoners and Red Guards, but if the Japanese forces reach the railroad to the westward and in the neighborhood of Lake Baikal it is expected that the railroad between that point and Vladivostok will soon be free from these elements.

WILL RESPECT CHINA'S RIGHTS.

TOKIO, Aug. 18.—Concerning the sending of Japanese troops through Chinese territory, Manchuria, the Japanese Government situated solely by a spirit of harmonlous co-operation. Japan and China face a threatening danger, and, in undertaking to combat it, the Japanese Government will scrupulously respect the sovereignty of China as well as the rights and interests of the local population."

Will Help Seminoff.

It is believed in Japanese circles here that the provisional force is intended to be sent northward and westward by way of Itarbin, and consequently they may be able to relieve the Cossack General Saminoff, who has been sorely beset in the neighborhood of Chila, and has been obliged to play hide and seek across the border line between Mongolia and Siberia to meet the attack of the German-led Bolsheviki forces. It is assumed that as the Japanese troops were ordered to move four days ago they are now close to the Mongolian border.

The section of the Siberian railroad directly westward of Vladivostok, which would ordinarily be used to transport troops, is said to be invested by hostile bands of mixed German and Austrian prisoners and Red Guards, but if the Japanese forces reach the railroad to the westward and in the neighborhood of Lake Balkal it is expected that the railroad between that point and Vladivostok will soon be free from these elements.

WILL RESPECT CHINA'S RIGHTS.

PORT STANLEY, Aug. 18.—Word came last night by cable to the effect that Flight-Lieut, Meek, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Meek of Southwold, had been killed in action. The news was a hard blow, not only for his relatives, but for hundreds of the young man's friends in this district. He had been farming with his father until he joined the 70th Batta-lion and trained at London before proceeding overseas. When he was wounded at the front and returned, he acted as a member of an M. S. A. fribunal, and upon completing his duties, he joined the air force and had been flying for some months.

The Daughters of the Empire at Port Stanley are flying a flag at half-mast in his honor. Another brother, Lieut. Mervin Meek, is overseas, and a sister is in training with a base hospital at Toronto.

Three allied expeditions, at Archangel, Murmansk and Vladivostok, have begun to move against the Bolshevists. The Czeche-Slovaks are fighting the Bolsheviki in European Russia and in Siberia. These forces are factors in undermining the Bolshevists. When the Bolsheviki took control of the stricken country, their chance for success depended on their ability to improve the economic condition of the stricken country, their chance for success depended on their ability to improve the economic condition of the stricken country, their chance for success depended on their ability to improve the economic condition of the structure of the stricken country, their chance for success depended on their ability to improve the economic condition of the structure of the conomic condition of the Masses. They have failed, and the situation has grown steadily worse. Germany needed Russian grain, but she got comparatively little, probably only 200,000 tons, including that from the Ukraine. This grain was obtained only after threats and the bullying of peasants. In return Germany is giving nothing.
