The boards were decorated with drawings of animals, flowers and trees in colors. In the girls' section the pupils gave programmes of songs, drills, recitations and dialogues in their rooms, all of which were decorated with excellent pictures of wild flowers, trees and other things in nature study. As the St. Joseph's girls' school is without an assembly room there were no school closing exercises there today, but programmes were held in most of the rooms and accommodation was provided for parents and friends. This school shows an increase in attendance over last year, with about 450 enrolled. There are now ten rooms, an increase of one over last year. The grade 8 I. O. D. E. history prize was won by Gertrude Verinder and Eleanor Chaisson.
Fairville School.
Fairville school closing exercises were held yesterday afternoon out of doors, before the largest number of people ever gathered for a similar occasion, it being estimated that over 800 visitors were gathered on the grounds besides the scholars.
A new and commodious platform had been erected and afforded splendid view of the children taking part in the programme. There were flags everywhere and the platform was banked in green branches, ferns, daisies, etc., and with the bright colors of the children's dresses, the scene was an animated one not soon to be forgotten.
Every number went without a hitch and the childrens work reflected great credit on the teaching staff responsible for their training.
During the exercises, a picture of The Burial of the Unknown the prize offered by Windsor Chapter I. O. D. E. to the scholar making the highest marks in grade eight was presented to Jack Gunter by C. T. Clark.
During the programme, Rev. Messrs. Dunham, Clark and Rice spoke and congratulated both scholars, and teachers on the splendid showing. J. A. Edmunds presided over the gathering and the following was the programme rendered:

Glen Falls School.
The feature of the closing of Glen Falls school this morning was the presentation to the school of a tall flag staff and Union Jack by the Community Club. The finishing touches were given to the flag-staff last evening and this morning the flag was raised, with the singing of the flag song and Oh Canada, by the children grouped outside the school building. The pupils of the two departments were then gathered in the room of the principal, Miss McKel, and interesting closing exercises carried out. The prizes awarded by Pandy Chapter, I. O. D. E., for the highest marks in history in the higher grades, and the best average in any grade in the other grades were presented by Miss Fairweather, the regent. The people regret that they are to lose both teacher, Miss McKel, and Miss Gallagher, this term.
