IMPROVEMENT OF HARBORS ON MASSACHUSETTS COAST

BARNSTABLE, Mass., Aug. 4.—The general tendency of the inhabitants of Southern Massachusetts to seek a livelihood in the cities, has received something of a check during the last few years by reasons of the success attending the business of the entertainment of the summer visitors. And much of this success has been due to the helping hand policy of the state in the improvement of the harbors and the highways. The weather this year, in spite of the unfavorable spring, has also caused but little complaint, and midsummer reports from many of the resorts indicate that if the present conditions hold for a few weeks more, the harvest from the temporary sojourner will make 1907 one of the most prosperous in many years.

The state of Massachusetts began the improvement of the little harbors as supplementary to the government work in the deep waters, about fifteen years ago and not long after the work of making the roads and highways of Cape Cod something more than passable was also started. At the close of the present year there will have been expended on these little inlets along the coast line from New Bedford to Newburyport, over $600,000, and at the same time 285 miles of road in those counties bordering on the coast will have been improved.

The great increase in power boats during the past few years has emphasized the need of harbors which may not necessarily be of great depth, but which may be accessible at any time, and there is at present scarcely ten miles along the Massachusetts coast, except on the back side of Cape Cod, where it is not possible for these boats to find a safe haven in stress of weather. But the hotel-keeper and the owners of summer residences, have not derived all the benefit from the state's bounty. Consideration has also been given to those hardy inhabitants who supplement the summer entertainment business by winter fishing, especially the shell fish branch. Of the seven different appropriations which the last legislature made for the harbors of Cape Cod and the adjacent bays, five were for the development of wharves which are used almost exclusively by fishermen.

NINETEEN PRISONERS

IN POLICE COURT TODAY

Most of Them Were Drunks—A Violent Driver—Another Stealing Case From Sheffield Street.

No less than nineteen arrests were made by the police on Saturday and Sunday. The majority of the prisoners were charged with drunkenness. Twelve of the number were fined $5 each for being drunk, and while some had the cash, others went to jail to do 30 days with the gang.

Ray Winters, a small boy, was arrested on Saturday night for throwing eggs at a book agent who was lecturing on the north side of King Square. The boy pleaded guilty to the offense and was told that if he did not do a fine of eight dollars. His mother was in court, and on his promising to be a good boy and to attend school regularly when the summer vacation was over, he was allowed to go home with her.

John Mullin was charged with being drunk, disorderly and with breaking the furniture in his father's house, also with threatening to assault his father. He pleaded that he was drunk at the time and did not know anything about the occurrence. He was remanded.

John Francis who was brought here from Halifax by Detective Killen, is charged with having stolen money in his possession, knowing the same to be stolen. Johnnie was dressed up in a new blue suit, patent leather shoes, and was quite a dandy. He disappeared from Sheffield street shortly after Wm. Lantry reported the police that he had been robbed of $400. Francis pleaded not guilty to the charge and was remanded to jail.

Lucy Sheers, a remarkably black woman, was taken into custody by the police on Saturday night. She was charged with being drunk and disorderly. She was remanded to jail.

The prisoner denied any knowledge of the man's money and said that he had no conversation with him whatever. The magistrate pled many questions to Lucy, and the cross-examination was very funny. She was remanded, and an order sent out to have the other inmates of the Sheffield street house brought to court.

Edward Cronin when asked by Police Marshal yesterday morning about one o'clock what he was doing about the streets, told the officer that he belonged to Quaco and that he had just arrived in the city with a load of potatoes and did not board any place. This morning he informed the court that it was only ten o'clock when he was arrested and that he had said nothing to the officer. He was remanded to jail with the others.

BLOOD OF SWINE IS

NEW CURE FOR CANCER

Satisfactory Results Secured in the Experiments of a Berlin Scientist.

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—Dr. Bier, principal professor of surgery in Berlin University and late Professor Bergmann's successor, published a remarkable article in the "Deutsche Medizinische Wochenschrift" regarding experiments conducted on cancer patients in Berlin hospitals. By injecting the blood of animals cleared of all fibrous matter, and notably the blood of swine, into cancerous sores or their vicinity, he has succeeded in altering their apparent complexion and given them a different character.

Under the microscope the results do not appear quite so favorably, but he believes he is on the right track, and that if he has not been able to heal he has sensibly approached this end. Dr. Bier states cases in which the injection of swine's blood has enabled him to operate where otherwise an operation would have been impossible. In other cases patients have experienced a sensible relief from the process.

CHINA, AWAKENED,

MAY ATTACK RUSSIA

War Correspondent in East Says She Will Soon be Strong as Japan.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 2.—The newspaper Retch was confiscated today for publishing an article by M. Klimoff, a well-known war correspondent.

M. Klimoff says that China is awakening, and by organizing her army and fleet is preparing for war. She is, too, improving her ways and communications, and Japanese officers are awaking throughout Manchuria. The article further says that the relations between the Russians and Japanese are extremely hostile. The Chinese Government have forbidden the Russians to hunt on the Chinese bank of the Amur, and will not allow the sale of cattle to them. Moreover, Chinese officers refuse to have anything to do with the Russian general, M. Klimoff concludes: "The symptoms of coming war are only too evident. China will soon become as strong as Japan."

LAUNDRY MACHINE MAKERS

ORGANIZE A COMBINE

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The news of the formation of a combination of makers of laundry machinery has been received in the financial district with interest, as it is the first combination that has gone through successfully. It is stated, in several months, one of the features of the American Laundry Machinery Manufacturing Company, as the new combination is known, is that no bonds have been issued and the financing has been done wholly in stock. Its authorized capital is $12,500,000, of which $2,500,000 is preferred stock.

There will be a meeting of the St. John Dramatic Club in the Mayor's office at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

RIOTERS AND POLICE

IN FIERCE CONFLICT

Political Demonstration in Sicilian Capital Leads to a Serious Disturbance

PALERMO, Aug. 3.—The police having forbidden the demonstration in favor of signor Naxos, which it was intended to hold here yesterday afternoon in the Bellini Theatre, a crowd of demonstrators burst into the university and held the meeting there. They afterward formed a procession and marched to the French consulate. In the attempt to disperse the crowd several policemen, carabinieri and citizens were slightly injured. In the evening the crowd again attempted to hold a demonstration in the Strada dei Quattro Canti. Among the rioters were many old jailbirds. The answer to "move on" was answered with hisses and groans and showers of stones by which some officials and police were hurt. Suddenly two revolver shots were fired from the balcony of a house. The police returned the shot and the rioters fled. A young music teacher named Pinturo, aged 25, was killed by a bullet, and several rioters and policemen received bullet wounds. Order was finally reestablished.

STRIKING POLICEMEN

BESIEGED BY SOLDIERS

Amuse Themselves by Discarding to the Crowd Many Department Secrets.

VIENNA, Aug. 3.—A remarkable situation has arisen at Neuaudde Gallia, on account of a strike of the municipal police force for higher wages. The prefect ordered the strikers yesterday to leave the police barracks, but they refused to go. A number of gendarmes were summoned to eject them, and a battle with swords followed. Several persons were injured on both sides, and the police finally repulsed the gendarmes, and barricaded themselves in the barracks. A company of soldiers was then sent for, and proceeded to invest the barracks with the intention of starving the police out. The besieged policemen accepted the situation philosophically, and amused themselves this afternoon by shooting police secrets from an upper window to crowds of townsmen assembled in the streets.

Where would you like to hit

Talk about spit balls—!!

Some were wise and some were foolish, and they that were wise slashed every time, fanning the air frequently but occasionally hitting, while they that were foolish took no chances but hit the umpire foot-toe too often. It didn't matter. The Reds never could find the ball. It was a long drive to the left garden where cowpops bloomed, or to second where great deeds were done by McCallum. There was no difference in the play. The Reds were mugs in the field and every Green who reached first slide around to the tempting case of ginger ale on third. And then it was home, sweet home. The Greens stacked up fourteen in six innings, while the Reds made only eight. Robertson crewed over the beer bottle on third that he was unable to pitch anything but curves, and struck out five men in one inning—the chug-chug being out of order for a time. Harbour was a marvel at stopping the balls, especially when at bat, but he used his back as a target a little too often. The game was a remarkable exhibition of what men may become if allowed to wander far from civilization, and would have furnished many striking texts for Sunday School conventions. The only incident calling for harsh criticism was the conduct of Ledingham who, to give the Reds a rest, carefully took down his double windows, stowed them away, and delayed the game until a search party was organized to look for them. Next Saturday, unless the police interfere, Ononette will whitewash Westfield.

THE DOUKHOBORS ARE COMING EAST

Seeking an ocean port on the Atlantic. This is where St. John will get a fair show at last. That harbor is just the place for Doukhobors to double their feet in, and no danger of getting beyond their depth.—Halifax Echo.

At any rate their feet would be clean when they came out.

PENNSYLVANIA MINES

KILLED 226 IN A YEAR

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 4.—The annual report of the Pennsylvania Department of Mines shows that there were 226 employees between the ages of 14 and 21 years killed in the coal regions of Pennsylvania during the year 1906. Of these 128 were killed in anthracite mines and 98 in bituminous mines. Outside the outside in the anthracite region 37 were killed while there were no fatalities outside the bituminous mines.

The report states that it is a regrettable fact that three of the so-called miners killed were 14, 15 and 16 years of age, respectively, and that the foreman who hired these boys to do a miner's work should be sentenced to a term of imprisonment.

A GREAT GAME.

George Warwick sent out notice to the gang at Ononette, that diddies would be doing on Saturday P. M.

In his father's pasture lot, back of Mister Estey's house, and everyone was wanted, there'd be heaps of fun for them.

Teams up the road from Gilliland's and down the road to White's intended playing baseball, with ginger beer and yell.

The folks turned out from all the camps, in strange and wondrous rigs, and the battle of the season started sharp at seven bells.

For the Red Tops, Bobby Patterson and Dave Ledingham, and for the Greens Ralph Robertson and Fred Barbour were batter-

Jes. Up the roads were red tops, and down the roads were greens. Steve McAvity coached the first and Sandy Mac, the latter.

Now Tommy Blair of the Royal Bank had sat in a three months draft.

And caught such a cold that his voice was weak and would not permit him to use it.

But as umpire it was his principal task to make some sort of a noise.

A few days later he visited those islands to the southwest, as far as Cuttyhunk and named them after his sovereign Queen Elizabeth.

A five days' celebration which will begin at Wood's Hotel tomorrow and continue during the next four days at the Centre.

SAY THAT ROOSEVELT WILL GO TO SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

OSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 4.—With in a week two positive statements have emanated from some of the fashionable summer colonies of New England to the effect that the President and Mrs. Roosevelt have accepted invitations which would place them for a brief space in the centre of the summer social whirl.

It is stated here with much positiveness that with the one exception of his visit to Provincetown, Mass., on the occasion of the anniversary celebration of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers, August 20, the President will remain at Sagamore Hill throughout the summer.

In this connection it is pointed out that Mr. Roosevelt's only participation in social functions since he became President, has been that participation required by official etiquette and none other.

The strictest curtailment of visitors and the rule that no one is received except by previous engagement has added greatly to the president's leisure this summer, and he admits that it has been his most enjoyable vacation since he became President.

SCHOONER ASHORE

SOUTHWEST HARBOR, Me., Aug. 4.—The tern schooner William B. Herick of Boston, Captain C. C. Nixon, ran onto Green's Ledge, while coming out of Somers Sound at high water this evening, the ebb of the tide leaving the vessel in a dangerous position on the rocks at a late hour tonight.

The Herick is loaded with 75,000 paving-stones consigned to Baltimore. A tug went out to the distressed vessel tonight but it will probably be necessary to unload her cargo before she can be pulled from the ledge.
