

MC2465 POOR DOCUMENT

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS!

Sealed Tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed 'Tender for Warehouses, St. John Harbour, N. B.', will be received at this office until 4.00 p.m. on Monday, October 24, 1910, for the construction of Warehouse No 7 and the Extension of Warehouse No 6.

Plans, specification and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this department and at the offices of J. K. Scammell, Esq., District Engineer, St. John, N.B., and Geoffrey Stead, Esq., District Engineer, Chatham, N. B.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and place of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature of the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works for the sum of three thousand ($3,000.00) dollars, which will be forfeited if the person tendering declines to enter into a contract when called to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender is not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest of any tender.

By order,
R. C. DESROCHERS,
Secretary.

Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, Sept. 23, 1910.
Newspapers will not be paid for this advertisement if they insert it without authority from the Department.

Are Your Children Properly Fed?

LET us talk about the right feeding of children. Of course, you want your children to grow up strong and healthy; you want to equip them for the battle of life with rugged constitutions and good red blood. Now, the first step is to see that they are properly fed. And these words "properly fed" mean much in the diet of children. For it isn't quantity that counts, but quality.

There is no better food under Heaven for growing children than plenty of first class bread and butter. They thrive on it, grow strong and fat and rugged. Their systems crave it because it is a complete, well-balanced food.

But the bread must be good—the very best, and the best is made from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR which contains the full nutrition of Manitoba Red Fife wheat—for only wheat of this character contains enough of the right quality gluten to balance the starch. Gluten makes bone and muscle, starch makes fat. It takes the right combination of both to make properly balanced bread.

Bread made from OGLIVIE'S ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR is richest in blood building, muscle building, health building gluten. Children like it better and thrive better on it.

With "Royal Household" you need never have anything but the very best results for it is always the same, absolutely uniform, year in and year out and is just as good for Pastry as it is for Bread.

If parents knew this important difference between ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR and other flours they would never use any but "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD".

Send in your name and address also the name of your dealer to The Ogilvie Flour Mills Co. Limited, and get that splendid book of tried recipes called "Ogilvie's Book for a Cook".

The Laugh Line.

Some people waste a lot of valuable time by hasting.

Ever notice how few people are related to their friends?

This old world looks pretty good to the healthy person.

The wise man tries to acquire sense as in life as possible.

A man is apt to call it 'hard luck' when he gets what he deserves.

And most married men do as they please—when away from home.

The meanest of all men is the one who makes capital out of a calamity.

The Boycotter.

Though beef I bravely leave behind, My mood is far from gay, No matter what I eat, I find Some other trust to pay.

'Why not set your cap for that young fellow? He's single, and well off.'

'Yes, he's single; but he knows he's well off.'—London Tit Bits.

Not the Same.

'What do you call your male, uncle?'

'You mean what's his name, boss, or what Ah calls him?'—Houston Post.

New name for Old Dope.

The literary boarder fastened his eyes upon the hash.

'Kindly pass the Review of Reviews,' he said.—Everybody.

A Deterrent.

'Medicine,' said a little girl, 'is something that makes you careful not to catch cold again.'—Universalist Leader.

Ambition.

I used to think when I was young I'd like to start at the lowest rung; But now I'm old, and wise and sadder, I wish to—there was no latter.

Back on Earth.

'I hear your son is something of an aviator, Mrs. Comeup.'

'Well, to tell the truth, he was a bit that way, but he's taken the pledge.'—Baltimore American.

Not Altogether.

Promoter: I'd like to bring a trolley road into your town if I can raise the wind here.'

Uncle Si—'Waal, I'll be gosh derned! I 'pose they wuz still runnin' 'em by electricity.'—Boston Herald.

A near-sighted Methodist preacher was holding a revival in the mountains of North Carolina. A moonshiner, a tall lanky specimen with large bare feet, approached the mourners' bench and knelt down in prayer.

'My brother,' said the preacher, 'I am so glad you have come to give your heart to God,' and then seeing the man's feet behind him, he added, 'and that you have brought your two little boys with you.'—Success Magazine.

Pumpkin Pie.

Some poets sing of mighty deeds While others sing of love, Not insubstantial human needs Nor yet the stars above Will ever inspire me to mount My Pegasus and fly; I sing a thing of some account I sing the pumpkin pie!

Oh, how it sets me all a-thrill With joy to be exact! I feel my spirit surge until It pours, a cataract, Thou ecstasy! Thou crusted bliss! Though source of rapture high! I know no greater theme than this I sing the pumpkin pie!

I rise to height undreamed before, I faint with sheer delight, Away with vaunted classic lore! I soar and at memory's beck, I tread a nobler height, I range the farther sky, Until to save my mind from wreck I eat the pumpkin pie!

Not Coughing Today?

Yet you may cough tomorrow! Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. Your doctor's approval of its use will certainly set all doubt at rest. Do as he says. He knows. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Robust health is a great safeguard against attacks of throat and lung troubles, but constipation will destroy the best of health. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Pills.

She Told Him All.

A good story is going the rounds about a drummer and a waitress. Here is what happened according to the report.

The dapper little traveling man glanced at the menu and then looked at the pretty waitress 'Nice day, little one,' he began.

'Yes, it is,' she answered, and so was yesterday, and my name is Ella, and I know I'm a little peach, and have pretty blue eyes, and I've been here quite a while waiting on table and like the place and I don't think I'm too nice a girl to be working in a hotel; if I did I'd quit my job; and my wages are satisfactory, and I don't know whether there is a show or dance in town tonight, and if there is I shall not go with you, and I'm from the country and I'm a respectable girl, and my brother is cook in this hotel, and he weighs 290 pounds, and last week he wiped up this dining-room floor with a fresh fifty-dollar a month travelling man who tried to make a date with me. Now, what'll you have?'

The dapper little traveling man said he was very hungry and a cup of coffee and some hot cakes would do.—Cleveland Leader.

Swallowed a Frog.

Toledo—Mrs. Guy Weaver recovering her illness of many months, during which she was suffering from a stomach trouble the nature of which baffled her physicians. It was caused, it is now said, by the presence of a frog in her stomach. It was removed by a local doctor.

The intruder was a brownish yellow in color and was about two inches long; it was a lively specimen, and demonstrated its kinship with its brothers and sisters of ponds and puddles by a series of lively leaps.

It is thought that Mrs. Weaver swallowed a frog egg while drinking at a spring on a farm of her parents, Mr. and Smalley, in Freedom, and that it hatched and developed to nearly normal size in her stomach.

Hundreds have seen the frog, which is now on exhibition in the Weaver home in South Chestnut street. Exchange.

Sentence Drunk to Attend Church

Past Liverpool, O., Sept. 17.—An experiment that has for its purpose the reformation of men convicted of drunkenness is being tried by Mayor Samuel Crawford, who compels them to make a daily report to him or his officers and also to attend church services on Sunday.

Refusal results in the carrying out of the jailor workhouse sentence imposed. A register has been placed in the city hall in which the sentenced person must set forth his condition at 7 o'clock each night.

William Carpenter and James Carroll who entered pleas of guilty of intoxication were the first to receive the sentence. They agreed to the terms rather than receive a heavier penalty.

Respect for the Dead.

A big Yorkshireman had come all the way to London to see the British Museum. Unfortunately it was a day when the Museum was closed. The indignant Yorkshireman refused to take no for an answer from the policeman at the gate. 'Ain't this public property?' he cried.

'Yes,' admitted the policeman; 'but,' he added, struck by a bright idea, 'one of the mummies died on Tuesday, and do you begrudge us one day to bury him in?'

'Oh, excuse me,' said the Yorkshireman in a husky voice. 'In that case I won't intrude.'—Universalist Leader.

Went 2496 Times to Sunday School.

Keypoint, N. J.: In the little First Baptist Church Sunday school, Samuel Winterton, champion "good boy" of Keypoint, rose proudly to his feet to answer present for the 2496th consecutive time.

When Samuel was five years old his mother's sister, now the wife of the Rev. Francis Callhopper of Flatbush, carried her young nephew to the little church and placed him in the infant class, of which she had charge. From that day he became a regular attendant and has an unbroken record of 48 years.

When the first Christmas came around the youngster was called to the pulpit to receive a book as a reward for faithful attendance. He still treasures the volume. That moment was one of the proudest the boy had ever experienced, and then and there he resolved that unless physical disability interfered he would win a book every year.

Ministers and teachers came and passed to other fields or to another world but Samuel Winterton was never missing from his accustomed place.

Twelve years ago Mr. Winterton fell from a wagon and fractured an arm. That broken bone meant a broken record also, and the neighbors, but they had reckoned without Mr. Winterton. The following Sunday he appeared in his usual place with the injured limb done up neatly in splints.

In 1897 the late Dr. Louis Klopsch offered a fine indexed and illustrated Bible as a prize for the person who could show the authenticated record for attendance at Sunday School. That Bible was a suitable inscription on its fly leaf, occupies a position on the centre table in the Winterton parlor.

Couldn't Understand Plain English.

By the extraordinary contortions of her neck, he concluded that she was trying to get a glimpse of her new blouse; by the tense line and scintillating flash about her lips he concluded that her mouth was full of pins.

'Umph-goo-suff-wuff-sh-Hispog?' she asked.

'Quite so, my dear,' he agreed. 'It looks very nice.'

'Ouff-wuff-so-gs-ph-uf-ugh-light?' was her next remark.

'Perhaps it would look better if you did that,' he nodded; but it fits very nicely as it is.'

She gasped and emptied the pins into her hands.

'I've asked you twice to raise the blinds so that I can get more light, James,' she exclaimed. 'Can't you understand plain English?'—Chicago Record Herald.

Well Informed.
