Poetry.

STANZAS.

I sat beneath the cloudless sky,
And stars were shining bright;
The shadowy river rolling by,
Was gemmed with starry light.

The shadowy river rolled away,
But still the stars were there;
From midnight to the break of day,
I watched their golden glare.

I listened while the southern breeze
Along the waters played,
And kissed the stream, and through the trees
A gentle music made.

Till morning came and showed to me
The river rolling on,
In eddying current lazily,
But all the stars were gone.

I saw the flowers. I saw the trees,
And grassy glades around,
And heard the gentle southern breeze
Among the branches sound.

Although the same, it seemed not so!
I better loved the night,
The dim, obscure, mysterious flow,
And flickering starry light.

I thought of Fate, that rules us here
With adamantine wand;
Of human life, so cold and clear,
Tied in an iron bond;—

Inexorable, changeless lot,
By all the brave defied;
Who wast till yields the stubborn knot,
Devided, not untied.

The stream flows on for all who live
Material shores betwixt,
The little comfort it can give,
With many a sorrow mixed.

But lucent shadows lurk behind,
Disclosing in the dark
A brighter glory undefined,
That waits the kindling spark.

This mystic wistful hope, we know,
Of better things concealed,
Remains a dearer prize below,
Than any good revealed.

Frazer's Magazine.

LANGUAGE OF TREES.—There is a pathos and sentiment about some of the eastern poets, that is truly affecting. A correspondent of the Boston prate writes as follows :—

Suppose a tree's long reaching limbs,
Should 'gainst a window dash,
In one of nature's breezy whims,
And break it all to smash,
Amid the clatter and dismay,
What think you would the fragments say?
"Ye ministers of grace defend us!
Not that, friend Charles—they'd cry "tree mend us!"

ST. JOHN COFFEE HOUSE,

AND GENTLEMEN'S

Oyster Saloon,

THE Proprietor most respectfully informs the Public of saint John, that he has taken that Commodious House in Cross street, (nearly opposite his old stand,) and formerly known as Mrs. Brook's Boarding House, and that he has, at a very great expence, and a disregard of time and trouble, fitted it up in the most approved manner, after the style of similar establishments in Great Britain and the United states. He flatters himself that he has among his friends and well wishers, a great number of highly respectable gentlemen, and to them he would now tender his most sincere thanks for the very liberal patronage he has received from them. To those who may henceforth honor the ST. JOHN COFFEE HOUSE with their patronage he will pledge himself to give every satisfaction both in the quality and style in serving up of the viands which he may place before them; as also to have at the earliest moment any and every variety which this and the American markets can produce.

Families can be supplied with the choicest Oysters, raw or cooked in any style, delivered at their own dwellings, the quality of which shall be unquestionable.

Clubs and Dinner parties attended to with the least possible delay and at the most reasonable charges.

☞ Gentlemen will please call and judge for themselves and they will have a proof positive.

Dinners, Lunches, &c. prepared. Gentlemen accommodated with private rooms.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF

Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR

Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.

THE most celebrated and infallible remedy for Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and every form of Pulmonary Consumption, is the HUNGARIAN BALSAM OF LIFE, discovered by that eminent medical chemist, Dr. Buchan, of London, England, and extensively known as the "Great Eastern" Remedy.

It has been tested for upwards of seven years in Great Britain and on the continent of Europe, where it is universally considered the great, and only remedy for this awful malady, and now introduced to the public under the immediate superintendence of the inventor. Within three years it has been distributed from Maine to Florida, and from Canada to Wisconsin, and its effects are every where alike ASTONISHING AND TRIUMPHANT.

As a preventive medicine, and an antidote to the consumptive tendencies of the climate, it is invaluable. As a remedy for severe and obstinate cases of inflammation of the Lungs, croup, &c. it is unrivaled. But the Proprietors so confident of the merit of this great remedy, in the worst forms of consumption, that he prefers to have it used by the DYING INVALID, rather than by persons afflicted with some simple and less dangerous disorder of the throat and lungs:—this may seem strong language, but it is the result of experience in thousands of cases, sustained by the most intelligent and unimpeachable testimony. It is not pronounced an infallible remedy in all cases, but it is THE MOST INFALLIBLE remedy known to the civilized world. It is the best preventive of hereditary consumption—it is the best defender against the influences of climate—it is the best remedy for incipien consumption—and it is the great and only remedy for that fearful softening of the lungs—inflammation of the membrane, and tuberculous decay, which are the last effects of that dreadful scourge, and which are erroneously supposed to be beyond the reach of medical aid:—the agent or proprietors of other and farther beyond the reach of hope.

Such is not the case with the Hungarian Balsam It is always salutary in its effects—never injurious It is not an opiate—it is not a tonic—it is not a mere expectorant. It is not intended to lull the invalid into a fatal security. It is a great remedy, a grand healing and curative compound; the great and only remedy which medical science and skill has yet produced for the treatment of this hitherto unconquerable malady. It is in fact the best remedy in the world!

[From the John Bull, newspaper, London.]

There is certainly some mysterious and occult virtue in the famous "Hungarian Balsam of Life which the medical faculty are unable to discover or Dr. Buchan would not be permitted for so many years to enjoy the magnificent monopoly of the treatment and cure of Consumption in Great Britain. No satisfactory analysis of this famous compound has ever, to our knowledge, been offered to the public.
