PARALYSIS COMPLETELY CURED

"Fruit-a-tives" Performs Another Miracle.

Bristol, N. B., July 25th, 1911
"I had a stroke of Paralysis in March 1910, and this left me unable to walk or help myself; and the Constipation of the Bowels was terrible.

Nothing did me any good and I was wretched in every way.

I then took "Fruit-a-tives" for the Constipation and it not only cured me of this terrible trouble, but gradually this fruit medicine toned up the nerves and actually cured the Paralysis.

By the use of "Fruit-a-tives" I grew stronger and stronger until all the Paralysis and weakness left me.

I am now well again and attend my store every day. I say "Thank God for Fruit-a-tives."

ALVA PHILLIPS.

PAPKE DEFEATED BERNARD.

Paris, Dec. 4.—Billy Papke, the American fighter tonight defeated George Bernard, a French middle weight for the middleweight championship, a big purse and an ivory belt especially designed for the occasion.

Papke was awarded the decision in the seventh round when the Frenchman was unable to respond to the call of time. Bernard, who was announced as "France's last hope," never had a chance. In the first five rounds Papke allowed Bernard to do all the work, but the Frenchman was unable to do any appreciable harm. In the sixth Papke began to fight in earnest. The Frenchman went to the floor twice, just managing to struggle to his feet within ten seconds, but he was in such a state of collapse that when the seventh round was called he could not leave his chair and the referee counted him out.

Mr. Carvell learned that the experimental farm at Fredericton amounts to 442 acres, that it was bought from Dell Guner, A. H. Waterhouse, J. Q. Adams, H. C. Jewett and W. W. Boyce, and that the total price was $14,000.

Mr. Carvell further learned that the government has signed a subsidy contract with the St. John and Quebec Railway Company for the portion from St. John to Grand Falls. The portions covered are 87 miles north of Fredericton, 35 miles south of Fredericton, and from the St. John river to the Kennebecasis river.

Mr. Graham was told that 15 level railway crossings have been removed, between Oct. 31, 1911 and Oct. 31, 1912. 65 have been protected and $17,665 has been spent by the government for this purpose.

E. M. MacDonald drew attention in a motion for papers to a change in the operation of the eastern branch of the Intercolonial. He stated that at present when a train of steel or coal or other commodities arrived at Stellarton or New Glasgow en route to Truro, it had to wait for an engine to come from Truro, to haul the train through. He objected to this.

Mr. Sinclair spoke in support of Mr. MacDonald's contention.

Mr. Stanfield drew attention to certain technical difficulties in the problem and asked that the debate be adjourned.

Mr. Cochrane assured Mr. MacDonald that he had no intention of doing otherwise than considering fairly the business interests of Nova Scotia. He moved the adjournment of the debate till he had the papers before him.

The Purchase of Sheep.

Mr. E. M. MacDonald obtained an order for papers concerned with the purchase of sheep by the department of agriculture for sale in Nova Scotia. He based his motion on a letter by G. W. Cameron of Elgin, Pictou, in the Pictou Free Lance, criticizing the quality of the sheep offered for sale.

Mr. John Stanfield said that at the sale of sheep at Truro, according to Professor Cummings the quality of sheep and the results had been good.

Mr. Durrill said that the sale had been conducted by the Dominion Sheep Breeders' Association. The aid had been confined to the far west and the extreme east. The president of the association, Colonel McRae is a prominent Liberal. Pending the receipt of information from that association he moved the adjournment of the debate.

Mr. MacDonald said that Mr. Fisher had contemplated the establishing of an experimental sheep farm in Nova Scotia. He thought that the preferable plan.

Mr. Borden said that there was a great future for the sheep breeding industry of Nova Scotia. He was not prepared to agree that poor sheep had been offered for sale at Pictou and defended the policy of using a responsible association to encourage the industry. The association in question was not of a partisan character.

Mr. E. W. Nesbitt advocated the purchase of the sheep direct by officers of the government.

Mr. Rhodes said that in his county most of the sheep were purchased from prominent Liberals so that there was no politics in the matter.

Mr. Hugh Guthrie said that if the sheep were purchased by Col. McRae they were well selected and everyone had had a fair deal. He declared that the sheep industry would not flourish until the American market was opened.

Mr. Macdonald obtained papers respecting the deepening of the East River in Pictou. He complained that the dredge had begun work this year too late to be of service. He laid the blame on a change of crew.

Mr. Stanfield asked if the general manager of the Nova Scotia Steel Company was satisfied with the work done.

Mr. Macdonald did not know and did not thank Mr. Stanfield for the question.

Mr. Rogers said that the steel company was entirely satisfied with what had been done and it was directly interested in the work.

A Beautiful Evening Gown--
Most Exquisite Conception in Dress

After all, the most exquisite creation of the modiste is the perfectly-fashioned evening dress with all its soft, clinging folds and graceful lines.

In it lies the costume artiste's real opportunity to exercise his delicate sense of color, line, novel conception in application of trimming and novelty of design.

A capital illustration presents itself in the accompanying picture which is a real delight to the artistic eye that catches line and design and draping imperceptibly.

And yet the whole costume is simple and might be built out of medium-priced materials.

While panier drapery over the hip gives coquetry to this delicate gown, the arrangement of the sash of black net lends dignity and length of line.

It is draped over one shoulder and arm and falls straight own the back, being caught against the skirt under a bead embroidered ornament.

The dress itself is made of white satin charmeuse—soft, fine material suitable for an evening gown—might be substituted. It is trimmed with the bead embroidered motifs and bead fringe.

The black velvet hat with its smart trimming adds contrast.
