

If the burden was to be felt any where as heavy; it could be only in the new counties, where the colonists were occupied, in the cultivation of lands still in a wilderness state.

But even those parts of the province, young as they are, would probably find no cause to complain. The Noble Lord at the head of the Government, had already set apart portions of land, to encourage the instruction of the children of their villages; and they had ample ground to look for other appointments for the county schools of their Districts; not to mention, that the applauded merit of their fidelity to the Crown, in the late troubles, may expect aid, as soon as their wants are properly revealed, from the numerous charitable foundations and societies of the mother country, for which it is so greatly renowned.

Least of all, as the Chairman conceived, was it to be apprehended that a Colony-College would fail, unless there was in its own bowels, something repugnant to the energy essential to its success.

It may most assuredly expect the powerful patronage of the Crown, and of all that wish well to science, so friendly to the interests of our common humanity: perhaps, it may be thought worthy of the National attention.

The Right Reverend Bishop of Quebec was not singular in suggesting; that a portion of the Estates of the dissolved order of Jesuits, lays open to such a purpose.

It is not wholly asked for by the Right Honorable Lord Amherst: There is a part to be reserved for public uses; and the extent of that reservation, is a part of that confidence which his Majesty, in his great grace to his people, has committed to that Noble Personage, under whose care the province is, at a moment so auspicious to the laudable design, himself recommends to the attention of this Committee.
