

C161641

- 14 -

portent and measure of our future relationships, that we shall carry on together, in the spirit of these war years. It is required not merely for our own sakes but for the sake of a world which has learned what cooperation in war can accomplish, and which must now understand the cooperation that we must achieve to make peace secure.