

P 616.242

N 514c

Next year I purpose celebrating THE CENTENARY OF HOMEO-PATHY by publishing Hahnemann, the Discoverer of Homœopathy, being No. 7 of the Montreal Tracts.

THOMAS NICHOL, M.D.

140 Mansfield Street, Nov. 11, 1889.

---

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF THE MONTREAL HOMEO-PATHIC DISPENSARY.

(From October 1, 1888, to September 30, 1889.)

Immediately on organizing, it was discovered that the original idea, namely, a Dispensary for children only, was too narrow, so adults were at once admitted. Then we found that Dispensary patients liked to come at any time that suited them, so they are now seen at any hour of the day. Lastly, we saw that an Outdoor Department was an absolute necessity, so since October last we have seen patients at their own homes regularly.

During the year we saw 249 patients at the Dispensary and made 591 visits to patients at their own homes.

Of course it will be distinctly understood that the Dispensary is NOT open to those who are able to pay.

THOMAS NICHOL, M.D.

WILLIAM NICHOL, M.D.

The Montreal Homœopathic Dispensary,
140 Mansfield Street, October 1, 1889.

112221