WHY IS IT PERMITTED?

The following pertinent comment is from the Hamilton Spectator:— This great family journal has often wondered why judges allow counsel, in cross-examining witnesses, to make the most vile insinuation against the character of the witness, and say things calculated to make the witness angry and reckless of speech. It is not in the interest of truth or justice that a bulldozing lawyer broadly hints that the witness is a very bad man. It is simply to rattle the man in the box, that he may inadvertently recklessly say something not consistent with his previous story. No judge, and only the stupidest jurymen are ever deceived by "evidence" produced in this way, and it has always seemed to us to be not only unjust to the witness, but a waste of time of the court, to say nothing of the deterrent effect upon the man who may know something about a case of vital importance, but who will not voluntarily put himself up to be the butt of the coarse jests, or the victim of vile insinuation on the part of a lawyer.

And it is not good for the bulldozing lawyer's client that he is permitted to browbeat and bulldoze the timid witness. We know a man who has affirmed that if he is ever a jurymen in a case in which a certain well-known lawyer is counsel, he will give his verdict against that lawyer's side, no matter what the evidence may be. Of course it is wrong; but it shows how people appreciate the work of the lawyer who seeks to make somebody believe that all witnesses for the other side are horse-thieves, or worse.

Admiral Sir Henry Keppel of the British Navy, is to marry again at the age of 93 years. Sir Henry, it may be stated, is already the father of the British navy.—New York Telegram.

A woman who has been working in the heathen business for a good many years says it takes $16.75 to get $1 to the heathen. All on account of people who take toll for handling the contributions. She further remarks that if any one will put $1 into a bottle, cork it up tight and throw it into the river, it will stand just as good a chance of arriving in heathen lands as it would by giving to some collector of heathen money.—El Dorado, Kan., Republican.

Parson Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," and a man who makes a specialty of believing in the inherent honesty of all mankind, tells a good story on himself. The other day a young couple appeared at his home to be married. He performed the ceremony with due solemnity, and congratulated the groom searching through his pockets and looking a bit humiliated and ashamed. "I am afraid, parson," he said, "that I ain't got any money to pay you with." Then, after a moment of deep thought, looking up cheerfully, he said, "But I can tell you how you can fix your gas meter so it won't register."—Kansas City Journal.

A CHEAP SQUARE MEAL.

Successful Scheme That Was Worked by Two Hungry Men. "One of the cleverest 'grafts' I ever saw was worked the other day in a quick lunch restaurant on Park row," said the earnestly just below the place as I was going in to get my lunch. One of them followed me in and took a seat just below me at the table. A few seconds later the other entered and took a seat just opposite his friend, whom he did not appear to know. The first man ordered a very extensive dinner, commencing with soup and ending with charlotte russe and coffee. He got the very best that the place could afford, and his check for $1.35 was placed in front of him. The other man took his time about ordering, taking corned beef and beans—10 cents' worth. His check was placed in the center of the table, between the two men. "Number one ate hastily and finished first. He got up, put on his hat and then calmly picked up the ten cent check that belonged to his friend. Without turning a hair he went to the desk, paid 10 cents and walked out. A few minutes later number two, who had been reading the paper, prepared to leave and took up the remaining check. He appeared greatly surprised and called the waiter, asking for an explanation. There was nothing for the knight of the napkin to do but give the man a new ten cent check, as it was very evident that he had not eaten $1.35 worth of food. I suppose that the two met outside and at the next place visited number two got the "square" meal.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

She has been restored to perfect health.

She writes: "About seven months ago I was badly run down in health and became very weak. I was troubled with fluttering of the heart and shortness of breath. When lying down at night I was almost afraid to go to sleep for fear I would never wake up. When I arose in the morning I would feel a little better, but as soon as I started to work my heart would start fluttering, my head would become dizzy, faint weak spells would come over me and it seemed as if black objects were floating before my eyes. I was growing worse every day until I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. When the box was half gone I could feel that they had done me good and by the time it was finished I was in excellent health and would advise all sufferers from heart and nerve troubles to try them."

She Recommends This Cure as the Best for Rheumatism—It Cures in Violent Cases.

"A simple remedy beginning of the day. I had been advised by several of the best doctors at the time."

"As the evidence indicates, my Rheumatism cured Chronic Rheumatism permanently. It was standing cases of lameness, stiff and back, and all pains in a short time. We also recommend my in the earlier stages that the injury to the joints from chronic rheumatism may be permanently cured. I strongly advise you, self, particularly if you are suffering from violent rheumatism. This is rheumatism. Do not check the temporary aches, and probably develop chronic and painful rheumatism. My Rheumatism Cure cured my Rheumatism. I know that."

MRS. WALLBOM. "I have suffered twenty long years. Times would be long if I gave me the most hands would sometimes try to cure me but never received a cure. I obtained a vial of Munyon's Cure from the News Office. I did. The pain has been Munyon's Rheumatism remedy. Anyone cured of rheumatism should try it. Rheumatism Cure will eliminate cases of Rheumatism. M. H. Howwood avenue, 1902."
