IMPORTED CLYDE FILLIES

Owing to the rough voyage experienced by my May importation only six were offered for sale, and were sold. The balance, consisting of two three-year-olds, one four-year-old, two two-year-olds and six yearlings have now completely recovered condition. These, with a few home-bred ones, including two yearling stallions of great promise, are now for sale at very low prices, considering their quality and breeding. Don't miss this opportunity of securing heavy-boned, highly-bred young ones cheaper by far than you can import them. Terms liberal.

DUNCAN McEACHRAN.

A FEW CLYDESDALE SELECTS LEFT. I have one 6-year-old Clydesdale stallion that is hard to beat for size, quality and breeding; 6 others, rising 3 years, that are big, drafty, character colts, and bred the best; 3 Percherons rising 3. There is no better selection in Canada, nor no better prices for a buyer. T. D. ELLIOTT, BOLTON, ONT.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Veterinary.

STOCK QUESTIONS.

1. A team of mares have a sore on top of their necks where the collar sits. They have no sore shoulders, and their collars seem to fit well. They have been working steadily. The sores are soft, but not raw.
2. A yearling mare has a bog spavin. Is there any cure? If so, what is it?
3. A middle-aged mare came in season every two weeks. What was the cause, and could you give a cure? She was bred each time.
4. A cow would not give milk out of one of her teats after she had been milking a week. She was milked, and her bag bathed in hot water. We have done this for a couple of weeks and she is no better. Will she get better in time?

J. F. M.

Ans.—1. Put a hot bran poultice on the sore necks each night for two or three nights. Get one ounce of acetate of lead and mix with a pint of water, and wet the sores with the mixture three or four times a day.

2. Apply to the bog spavin a blister composed of one dram of biniodide of mercury mixed into a paste with one ounce of lard. Rub the blister in well for thirty minutes. Repeat in two months if necessary.

3. Nothing can be done for a mare that comes in season at irregular intervals, except giving good food and regular exercise.

4. There is probably some growth in the milk duct. The use of a milking-tube might be of benefit. Such tubes are usually kept in stock in drug stores. If the cow is a valuable animal, it will pay to consult some competent veterinary surgeon.

DIFFICULT URINATION.

Horse has had a lot of trouble with his water. He is a young horse; will weigh about 800 lbs., and is very ambitious. He will go sometimes two or three days without making water, and then when he does, he nearly always does it inside his sheath. This water is of a very dark color at times, and at other times it looks about right. I have given him spirits of nitre several times, but it does not appear to remedy it much, and I am at a loss to know what to do.

1. What is the trouble with this horse?
2. Is it kidney disease?
3. What remedy would you recommend?
4. What is the cause of this horse making water inside his sheath?
5. Is there a cure for it?

L. G. M.

Ans.—It is not possible for a horse to retain the urine for two or three days without showing signs of intense pain. The chances are he urinates at night when you do not see him. Some horses will not protrude the penis through the sheath in the act of urination, and nothing can be done to make them do so, except keeping the parts thoroughly clean. Wash out the inside of the sheath with warm water and soap, then smear your hand and arm with oil, insert your arm well up in the sheath, grasp the end of penis and gently draw it down. Sometimes a bean-like formation is found in the opening into the penis. If such is present remove it, and smear the whole organ with oil. It may be necessary to wash out every five or six weeks to keep the parts clean if he refuses to draw the penis when urinating. An occasional dose of sweet nitre will aid in keeping him right.

We tried everything we could think of but without success. One day one of our neighbors asked what was the trouble with the little girl, and we told him. He advised us to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which we did. I honestly believe it was the only thing that saved my little girl's life.
