FIRST BAPTIST BREAKS RECORD

Attendance in Sunday School Yesterday Was a Big One—The Services.

Yesterday was observed as "Mothers' Day" at all the services in First Baptist Church. The pastor preached in the morning upon "Tithes 2-11 and took for his theme "God's Grace and Mothers' Love." At the afternoon session the record in the attendance at the Sunday School was broken in the entire history of the church which covers a period of nearly 80 years. There were 400 present yesterday and the offering was nearly $40. This is a splendid showing and the energetic superintendent, Mr. Fred Chalcraft, as well as the pastor expressed themselves as well pleased with the record. The Sunday School is making rapid progress and the aim now is for 500. There were 80 in the Primary Department yesterday and extra accommodation will have to be provided for the school in order to take care of the demands of the growing school. A strong committee has been appointed to take this matter in hand. Two members of the Sunday School presented lovely attendant yesterday with a beautiful fresh rose. These were greatly appreciated by the children as well as the older members of the school. The responsive exercises for the day were prepared by the pastor and proved most fitting for the occasion. Our duty to our mothers was strongly emphasized and an untold good will surely follow this inspiring service. The Primary department under the direction of Miss Annie Winter and Miss Hope Elliot is doing excellent work. Yesterday the little ones sang "Smile whenever you can," and "Two little hands to work for Jesus," with splendid effect. In the evening the church was filled to overflowing. The pastor preached on "The memory of the just is blessed." The musical service was thoroughly enjoyed by the great audience. Miss Hutchinson sang with great feeling sweetness and power, "Home Sweet Home." Miss E. Senn sang sympathetically that moving song of Gounod's "Eye hath not seen." The choir sang "Far from my heavenly home" by special request. The organ numbers by Mr. Wright, especially "Home, Sweet Home" were heartily received. Mothers' Day, May 11, was surely a Red Letter Day with us.

STYLES IN HANDCUFFS.

The Old Time "Twisters" Were Instruments of Torture. It is in the Aecid that we find the first reference to the handcuff. Vergil informs us that Proteus was, by means of such a device, fettered and rendered helpless by Aristaeus. It is of record that about 400 years before the Christian era an army of victorious Greeks came upon several chariots of Carthaginians which, among other things, contained a large number of handcuffs. Our term "handcuff" is derived from the Anglo-Saxon "handcup." In the case of nobles, while "footcops" were reserved for kings. The terms employed in the fourteenth century were "shack bot" and "swivel manacle," and the specimens thereof which have come down to us show that the instruments were as cumbersome as their names. Only two kinds of handcuffs were employed previously to the nineteenth century. One, thus flexible, was very similar to that now in use, and the other, which was called "the figure eight," was utilized to restrain violent prisoners. This "figure eight" was greatly dreaded, since severe pain was occasioned the restrained person did he attempt to move a limb. There used to be a form of handcuff, now happily abolished, called the "twister." This consisted of a chain with handles at each end. This chain was placed about the wrists, the handles were brought together and clamped until a firm grip was obtained. The least struggle on the part of the unfortunate captive resulted in the greatest suffering, for the chains bit deeply into his flesh. A similar form of handcuff was that called by the French "la ligote." In some parts of Europe there is still used an exceedingly primitive form of handcuff. It consists of a V-shaped piece of metal, wherein the wrists are inserted, the open ends being drawn together by means of a cross hook, which, however, must be maintained taut during the whole time the captive is held. The most ingenious and effective of all handcuffs is that used in the United States and, indeed, adopted by the police of most civilized countries. It is much lighter and much less clamped than the old flexible handcuff and is not painful to the wearer.—Harper's Weekly.

Lord Brougham Bided His Time and Repaid George IV.

With all of his knowledge and talent Lord Brougham was eccentric and slovenly in his personal habits. While he was a young and comparatively unknown barrister he was asked to a dinner at which the prince regent presided. Mr. Brougham's hands needed washing. The regent's keen eyes rested until a firm grip was obtained. The least struggle on the part of the unfortunate captive resulted in the greatest suffering, for the chains bit deeply into his flesh. A similar form of handcuff was that called by the French "la ligote." In some parts of Europe there is still used an exceedingly primitive form of handcuff. Want Gas

New Merger Will Extend Service from Galt to Waterloo.

A Berlin despatch says: In consequence of an interview with Mr. E. Sweet, solicitor of the Dominion Natural Gas Company, Brantford, Mr. D. B. Detweiler of this city has called a meeting of the municipal representatives of Berlin, Waterloo, Preston and Hespeler to discuss a joint action of these corporations in securing an extension of the present natural gas mains from Galt. A meeting will be held in this city at 2.30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. An effort was made some years ago to secure an extension of the service from Galt, but without success, owing to the limited supply of gas and the size of the mains. Since the organization of the $5,000,000 merger it is proposed to increase the number of wells and more towns and cities will be supplied. Artificial gas is being supplied at $1 per thousand, and it is reported that natural gas of higher efficiency can be supplied at less than half this rate.

OLD NORTH GERMAN LLOYD CAPTAIN ENDS SERVICE

CAPTAIN DIETRICH HOEGEMANN.

Ending a distinguished career of forty-four years at sea, thirty-four of which have been in the service of the North German Lloyd Line, Captain Dietrich Hoegemann, commander of the Kronprinzessin Cecilie and commodore of the North German Lloyd fleet, will retire to a well earned leisure ashore when the Kronprinzessin Cecilie returns to Bremen. She will leave New York again on May 13. Twenty-two years of Captain Hoegemann's career as a sailor have been spent in active command without an accident of any kind, and in that period he has been responsible for the lives of more than seven hundred and fifty thousand passengers, not one of whom met with injury when under his care. Captain Hoegemann estimates that in all his years as a sailor he has travelled 2,387,743 miles. When in dress uniform he wears on his breast the insignia of the orders of the Red Eagle, the Prussian Crown, the Knights of Oldenburg, the Swedish Order of Waserman and the Order of the Italian Crown. On his retirement he will make his home at his villa near Bremen.
