JUNIOR CHAUTAUQUA GET READY NOW!

Interesting Story of Junior Chautauqua Every Boy and Girl Should Read.

The Lucky Number Parade this year is going to be a parade. We want you to make it the largest children's parade ever held in your town. How can you do this. Now let us make a few suggestions: then you set your minds to work and get up some scheme that will be even better.

First look at some of the pictures of parades. You will see what some other towns have done in past years. What? You can beat it? Well, we believe that would make you go some; but nothing is impossible, and we hope you will do your level best. Now for some suggestions.

Why not have the Boy Scouts all in line in the Lucky Number Parade? Let them put on their navy uniforms and full equipment and let them carry their big Scout flag, too. The more the merrier. Have every scout out that day.

And the Girl Scouts, too. Nothing ever makes a prettier sight than the Girl Scout uniforms, when they are worn by the type of girls we know you have in your town.

And the Camp Fire Girls, and the various other boy and girl organizations in town. Get them all to turn out for the Lucky Number Parade.

Decorate your bicycles and get on your dandiest pony.

How about floats? Don't you think that you and five or six others could get up a dandy float. Let it represent "Canada," "Chautauqua," or "Junior Town" or "A Mother Goose Party" or "The Wop," or any one of a dozen or two different things that you will think of.

Ask your father and mother to help. We doubt that will be glad to lend his car or his horse and wagon and that what fun you can have decorating it and planning the costumes. Perhaps some store in your town would like to be advertised in the parade, and would agree to let you use their delivery truck to decorate. Ask your teacher to help, too.

But you and your friends don't have to depend on an auto or a horse and wagon. Just get a bunch of live-wire boys and girls together and plan some simple costumes of bright color. Dress up like Indians, or Clowns, or Milkmaids, or Shepherdessees, or your favorite historical characters; anything—just get on some fancy costume (use your last year's Halloween costume) and join the ranks of the Lucky Number Parade.

And now for the good news! We are going to give to the group of boys and girls (or girls and boys) who get up the best set of costumes for the parade, free admission tickets to Children's Afternoon at Chautauqua.

Don't you want to be in that lucky bunch? Of course we will have the six free season tickets, too, for the holders of the Lucky numbers, as we did last year.

Now get busy. Think, and then act. All out for a jolly good time. Join the Jolly Juniors at Chautauqua.

HARTLAND SCHOOL NOTES

Last year Hartland school garden, C. D. Dickson, principal, took first position, obtaining a neat certificate, which will be framed and placed in the school. A prize of $3 was also obtained from the Director of Elementary Agricultural Education to be used for the purchase of something useful in nature or science study. This year the garden should win again as it seems to be in first class condition under Mr. Dickson's care.

Also Mr. Dickson has just stated that the school has won the first prize of $12 (for graded schools) awarded for physical training by the Strathcona Trust. The teacher retains two-thirds of this and the balance will be used to purchase some book or picture or other memento or trophy of a patriotic nature as suggested by the Trust, with approval of inspector and trustees. Mr. Dickson deserves hearty congratulations on his success along these lines and his future career will certainly be watched with interest. The school officials wish him every success in his new field of labor.

It has just been discovered that when Miss Jane McBeath, one of the new teachers, took the High School entrance exams. She won the Lieutenant Governor's medal and had the additional honor of being 3rd among over 1100 pupils of the province. She only missed 2nd place by three marks, being led by pupils from St. John and Fredericton. Miss McBeath was a pupil of L. R. Hetherington, one time principal of Hartland school. The pupils, parents and ratepayers should note with increasing interest, pride and loyalty, all these things relating to the success and progress of their school. Remembering, pupils, it is your school; parents, they are your pupils and ratepayers you are putting your money into a real business proposition that will pay the very best and highest dividends.

HAY CROP IS FAIR AVERAGE

In spite of the drought, doubting and fears, the hay crop throughout Carleton and Victoria will be a fair one. Some farmers told The Observer they never had a heavier yield or better weather conditions. Of course the crop is better on low, flat lands, and the report that many farmers will have to dispose of their herds to prevent them from starving to death is not at all applicable to the upper St. John valley.

The grain crop is certain to be very light as the stock is short and the heads were stunted before the drought broke.

On the whole potatoes are looking good, and those who have opened hills in large fields report many potatoes to the hill, good size and good formation. Bugs and the dry weather favorable to their well-being, and they are therefore abundant. On the other hand farmers and the dry weather favors the speedy action of their spraying solution so the war between bugs and poison is evenly waged. There will be no danger of rust as long as the weather keeps dry.

CHAUTAUQUA TICKETS TRANSFERABLE

Chautauqua tickets are transferable. In spite of the fact that an article last week stated they were not transferable, it has since been learned that they are transferable to members of a family or to a number who have clubbed together and bought a season ticket. One thing must be thoroughly understood: two people may not enter the tent as one ticket, but if a family buys a ticket, they may go tonight, another tomorrow afternoon, John in the evening and sister Sue the next day—all on the same ticket. But none may go together on the same ticket. Remember that the price of a Chautauqua season ticket—$2.50, pays for the admission for 12 entertainments; and remember that if you were to hear the Bohemian girl or any of several other beautiful numbers in a large city the price for such entertainment and instruction would for a single admission cost you as much as a whole season ticket would in Hartland. If you buy a season ticket and attend only one or two of the entertainments you have enjoyed those entertainments cheaper than you could have in any other way.

Large cities have entertainments equal to our Chautauqua almost every day in the year. Single admission cost from $1.00 to $4.00. This year there has brought to Hartland the most classical, musical and hi-tonic entertainment it is possible to get together and you are brought in touch with this rarely exciting and educational atmosphere: 12 sessions for only $2.50—12 times for a trifle more than 20 cents for each entertainment. Secure your seats at the earliest opportunity, don't delay. Seats will never be cheaper, but good seats will be more difficult to be obtained if you put the matter off. Ask any ticket seller, or communicate with A. W. Kyle, Hartland, N. B.

WHAT GRAND FALLS SAYS

The Hartland team came here Monday night for their regular league game and lost it by forfeit.

In the fourth inning, of what was to be a seven inning game, Kyle, the Hartland centre-fielder, came to bat with two men down and a man on first. The F. F. pitcher tossed up a doozer to him and Kyle, thinking it an easy one decided to take it on the shoulder, which he did. The umpire decided he shouldn't take first on the play, and Kyle objected to the decision. It looked to all present as if Kyle took the ball intentionally and didn't get out of the way of it when he could have done so. At any rate the umpire motioned Kyle back to the plate and he refused to stay there. Then the umpire gave the Hartland boys five minutes to continue the game. They refused to carry on and left the field after which the umpire awarded the game to Grand Falls, 5-0.

FARMERS PICNIC AT GRAND FALLS

The First Annual Picnic of the United Farmers of New Brunswick August 3 and 4, 1921

At Grand Falls Wells-in-Rocks picnic grounds—a heavy welcome is extended to all, old and young. There will be all kinds of old time features to make things interesting. A dancing contest of old-time French jig dancing will take place, open to all, ladies and gentlemen. Three prizes will be given to winners. You will see dancers from 10 to 65 years of age. There will be platforms erected for dancing and waiting, which will continue all day and evening. Good music will be in attendance.

An old-fashioned tug-of-war will take place—eight on each side. Grand Falls is open to all comers. This will be exciting. Base-ball games each afternoon.

There will be speakers to interest the farmer, who will tell of the progress and future possibilities of the farmers of New Brunswick.

Prof. Morrell has been engaged to perform on a wire fifty feet in the air. He will perform difficult feats while in the air. This man performed on a wire across the gorge at Grand Falls in 1904.

All are requested to bring their lunch baskets the same as an old fashioned picnic, but we will be prepared to accommodate those who cannot bring their lunches. Good beans baked in a bean hole will be on sale. Admission to grounds will be only 25c.

KNOCKED OUT BY LIGHTNING

On Monday a severe electrical storm passed over accompanied by fierce wind, in some localities hail. Little damage is reported, but one mighty bolt appeared to encompass Hartland and knock the out of everything that was metal.

George Moores, employed in a bridge construction, was sawing a stick of timber when the flash came and he was completely knocked out and remained unconscious for the space of 15 minutes. He was carried to the company's office and Dr. Belyea was summoned. After half an hour Mr. Moores was able to be driven home.

NEW ENGINE WORKING

The new Fairbanks-Morse engine recently purchased for the town has been installed in the pumping station and is working in first-class manner. This engine is after the Diesel type, and does not require batteries or magnets. It is of 15 horse power capacity and operates the pump easily, forcing into the mains 14,500 gallons per hour. In the present dry conditions 8 hours operation of the pump each day keeps the reservoir filled. The cost of operating the plant with the new engine is just one half that of the old.

WINDSOR WHISPERINGS

The Farmers' picnic on Orser's hill was well attended and a decided success.

A concert given by the Missionary Society on the evening of June 28 was good. Nearly $50 was raised, making it possible for us to send $100 to India to help the work on there.

On June 30, Mrs. C. P. Wason arrived home from Woodstock where she underwent an operation at Dr. Prescott's hospital. She is gaining nicely.

On July 13 Raymond Dickinson and Miss May Stoddard were united in marriage. The people of Windsor gave them the usual hearty welcome. They will reside here.

Our genial young blacksmith had the bad luck of losing his home by fire, so we are out of a blacksmith shop for a while.

Whooping cough is the order of the day. Mrs. Henry Smith has been real ill with it, having taken a cold as well. Manzer Prosser's whole family has it—his wife, mother and six children; also, Wm. Forrest's three children, Clifford Dickinson's two, J. E. Tedford's two, one at Frank Orser's and two at Robert Faulkner's. Several others seem to be taking it.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robinson of Waapeke spent several days here with his mother, Mrs. Geo. Robinson, and relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Orser made several days visit with their daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Dickinson calling on old neighbors and friends.

Mrs. Porter is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Shaw, and sister, Mrs. D. McKinnis.

Buy an oil stove at Carr's and save money. It's cheaper than burning wood, and Oh! the comfort.
