Court May as Well Take Crossoner's Money as Saloon.

Charles Smith, colored, charged with cutting and wounding Fred Peterson, at a dance last Monday night, held at Ben Workman's house, 15 Wood Market, goes up for trial. Magistrate Jelfs comnitted him this morning, after the evidence for the Crown had been given. A. M. Lewis declined to elect and pleaded not guilty for his client. The court room looked like a corner of darkest Africa. Judging from the evidence it might be inferred that seldom has old Terpsichore presided over such a rowdy aggregation, owing to the free dispensation of bottled goods.

Fred Peterson, the complainant, said mith caused the trouble, for, said Pet-Smith caused the trouble, for, said Peterson, "while I was talking to two ladies Smith butted in." He took no notice of the interference at the time, but subse-quently, when he was downstairs with the ladies, Smith called him a series of unmentionable names, whereat defend-ant was invited out to fight, and the in-vitation was accepted. Then Peterson told of the mix-up. During one time it was on several tried to hold him back. Later he saw Smith with a razor in his hand and he subsequently received two cutifs on the head. Peterson admitted that drink was passed around freely, thouga nobody was drunk. Complainant also inferred that as Smith evinced no desire to apologize for the vile names he had called him (Peterson), he considered it his duty to make him. Dr. McLoghlin told of dressing Peters son's wounds and said there were two ocuts on the scalp, both to the bone, and one was particularly dangerous. A little army of colored witenses, all of whom were guests at the dance, told what they knew of the incident, and each story was at the dance and the first thing he knew about the row was seeing Peterson on the floor, bleeding profusely. "When I saw blood I simply walked out of the dor and went home." said Amos. George Bennett heard Smith call Pet-erson a mame in the unstaing recomrson, "while I was talking to two ladies

George Bennett heard Smith call Pet-erson a name in the upstairs room and he also heard Smith repeat the insulting names downstairs half an hour later, al-ter which the men clinched and he saw Smith pull out a razor from his hip pocket and cut Peterson. Several tried to part the men. In the cross-examina-tion Bennett was submitted to by Mr. Lewis, he admitted telling Smith's fath-er he would shoot defendant because the latter had threatened to knife him. Joseph Bentley gave a long disserta-tion of what happened, and on the de-ings of the set in general. One story he told was that Amos Black initimated loudly that there were a whole lot of the black men in the city who needed laying out. City Engineer Macallum and Secre-tary Breunau, of the Board of Works, who have been away for the past week attending the American Municipal Union convention in Little Rock, Ark., return-ed home yesterday. They picked up a lot of valuable information, particularly about pavements, in which Hamilton is very much interested at present. At the convention experiments were con-ducted with a new kind of wood block, which was soaked in water for three which was soaked in water for three days without expanding the fraction of an inch. He was also much impressed with the new "rubber" pavement used in Chica-go. It is dustless and is said to wear much longer than the ordinary asphalt or macadam. Another advantage is that it never becomes slippery. Mr. Macallum was elected to the excentive committee of the association. Two Bombs Thrown at Them at Ahmedabad --- Both Were Unhurt---Dragoon's Heroism --- Man Loses a Hand. Ahmedabad, British India, Nov. 14 .--

LORD AND LADY MINTO.

E State

Lord Minto, the Viceroy of India, and Lady Minto had a narrow escape yesterday from being killed by bombs They were driving through one of the streets when, without warning, two bombs were thrown at their carriage. A dragoon, who was riding alongside, spurred forward and with outstretched sabre inter cepted the first bomb, hurling it some distance away into a sand heap. The second bomb struck the Viceroy's jemidar, a native lieutenant, who was holding an umbrella over Lady Minto, and fell harmlessly to the ground. Neither bomb exploded, as the soft sand acted as a buffer. On examination they were found to contain picric acid. Just prior to this, as the carriage passed through one of the streets, a bomb exploded some little distance away. Police and others, at tracted by the explosion, ran up and found a man on the ground with his hand blown off. He proved to be an innocent bystander. The bomb throwers made their escape in the excitement and as yet no arrests have been made. Attempts have been made in Indiaduring the last year or two against the lives of Lord Minto, Lord Kitchener, Sir Andrew Fraser, Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and many other officials.
