AFTERBIRTH RETAINED

The Cause and Cure of a Not Uncommon Trouble.

Cows of All Ages Are Sometimes Affected — Remedies Suggested Where Veterinary Cannot Be Had — Grape Pruning For the Garden.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

RETENTION of the afterbirth, foetal membranes or placenta, commonly called "the cleanings," is not uncommon in cows. Its cause is more frequently met with in cows in low condition and unsanitary surroundings, no care, food, attention or surroundings act as preventives. It is noticed in cows of all ages, all breeds, cows in all conditions and at all seasons. We cannot understand why it occurs, or why it cannot be prevented, but experience teaches us that such is the fact. Good care, comfortable surroundings, avoidance of cold and dampness, especially in cold weather and giving a warm mash for a day or two after calving tend to aid expulsion of the membranes, but even all precautions frequently fail. The administration of medicine is ineffective. In ordinary cases the membranes are expelled shortly or in a few hours after parturition, while in other cases they are retained for hours or longer and then spontaneously expelled. In other cases spontaneous expulsion does not take place until after decomposition, when they are expelled in putrid and small pieces. The symptoms are usually evident by the protrusion through the vulva of a portion of the membranes, but in rare cases this symptom is not present, the membranes being wholly contained within the uterus. In such cases, provided the cow has been untied it is hard to know whether they are retained or have been eaten by the cow. Cows have the objectionable habit of eating the afterbirth. We cannot account for this taste, and when possible it should be prevented. In some cases the consumption of the membranes does not appear to affect the health or general condition of the animal, in others it causes trouble, and in some cases death from various conditions.

Treatment.—When the membranes have been retained for 24 hours or over in warm weather or for forty-eight hours in cold weather they should be carefully removed by hand. Where a veterinarian can readily be procured it is probably wise for the ordinary stock owner to employ him, but a stockman who understands the anatomy of the parts, and is not afraid of a dirty and sometimes tedious job can operate himself. The lining membrane of the womb is covered with many little lips (called cotyledons) which are attached by constricted necks, with surfaces varying from one inch or less to three or four inches in diameter, to which the membranes are attached. The operator should have an antiseptic lotion as a 2 per cent. solution of one of the coal tar antiseptics in warm water. A gallon of two of this should be injected into the womb. The operator then disinfected his hand and arm with the same, introduces the hand into the womb and carefully separates the membrane from each cotyledon, being careful not to tear off any of them. If a few are removed the consequences are not likely to be serious, but it is better to remove none. When the whole has been removed a little more of the antiseptic should be injected into the womb. It is good practice to give the cow 40 to 50 drops of carbolic acid in a pint of cold water as a drench, or syringed on her food three times daily until all discharge ceases. — J. H. R. O. A. College, Guelph.

Grape Pruning For the Garden.
The average neglected grapevine is generally such a tangled mess that it is very difficult to describe how to prune it. The owner should determine what sort of a trellis he means to fasten his vine on. If there are a number of vines in a row the general practice is to grow it on two wires, these to be drawn tight on posts about 16 feet apart, first wire three feet and second wire five feet from the ground. If only one or two vines are in a place it can be grown on a trellis made of two narrow strips of board nailed to posts. One thing never to be overlooked is all fruit is produced on last year's wood. Most neglected vines have too much old wood. Try to get one or two upright canes of two-year-old wood or older with four arms or younger canes equally distributed on the two wires. These arms should not be over six feet long, giving four arms of this length. This is sufficient bearing wood for any vine. Suppose the upright part is satisfactory and there are four arms on it, from these arms laterals or side shoots will grow, on which the fruit is produced. A vine should be pruned after it freezes before winter and before it thaws in the spring. Pruning in mild weather causes bleeding from the cuts. The laterals that bore fruit should be cut back, only leaving one bud to sprout the following season and the fruit will grow on that sprout. It is quite easy to occasionally renew one or more arms by training a young branch to take the older one's place. When that is done cut off the old branch. With a little practice pruning is easy, the common fault being to leave too much wood. If in doubt as to the above method of pruning, write for Illustrated Bulletin 237, "The Grape in Ontario."

Scarcity of Feeder Cattle.
With the growing scarcity of feeder cattle and the advance in value of farm lands, the baby-beef industry is of increasing importance and is receiving the attention of farmers in all live stock sections of the country.

Frank Fitch, a prominent farmer of Oriel, dropped dead in a feed stable in Woodstock Saturday after driving into the city.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

Millions of people have already seen "Friendly Enemies," the international comedy success which A. H. Woods will present at the Grand to-night, and millions more will see it before the phenomenal run of the piece is brought to a close. It is safe to assume that when the history of "Friendly Enemies" is written, it will be found that more than three-fourths of the present generation of English-speaking playgoers have seen the piece. Not only does "Friendly Enemies" embody the timeliest problem of today, but it presents that problem in so moving and dramatic a story, with so deft a mixture of humor and pathos, of jest and gravity, of fun and seriousness, that it has proved irresistible. It has appealed to men and women and children of all classes and conditions, not only in the United States but in England and Australia. In these three countries its success has been equally sensational and equally unprecedented. Its story is too familiar to theatre-goers to need repetition. Briefly, it concerns the clash of two lovable, human and eccentric German Americans who are the greatest friends in the world in all matters except one. That one concerns loyalty to their adopted country. One is a hundred per cent. American; the other is still in sympathy with the German traditions of his youth. He is converted to Americanism, but the manner of his conversion and the incidents and play of character that preceded it cannot be adequately described here. President Wilson in a speech from his box in the National Theatre, Washington, D.C., on the occasion of the premiere of "Friendly Enemies," said: "All that I can say has already been said most admirably in this most beautiful play. All the sentiments I could express have been admirably represented—sentiments that I hope, will soon grip the world." The play will be presented by a notable company.

Wm. Chorley, an Englishman, who served with the C.E.F., died at Kingston as a result of drinking wood alcohol.

Joe Matte, the Hamilton Tiger defence player, turned out with St. Patrick's N.H.L. team yesterday and will play against Quebec tonight.

DOCTOR WARD, The Specialist

SPECIALIST IN THE TREATMENT OF NERVOUS CONDITIONS, NERVE EXHAUSTION, BACKACHE, LUMBAGO, RHEUMATISM, STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLES, ACNE, SKIN DISEASES, CATARRH, ASTHMA, RECTAL TROUBLES, PILES, FISTULA AND BLOOD CONDITIONS. The knowledge gained from many years' experience in treating diseases just like yours is of much value to you and assures the ailing man of prompt relief. When a man knows that he is again feeling well—he is rid of his ailment—he feels that a heavy load has been lifted from his shoulders, I give every patient the benefit of the knowledge acquired through the long experience of a graduated, licensed and registered specialist, in order to bring about the most satisfactory results in the shortest possible time.

NERVE EXHAUSTION
A CONDITION AFFECTING MANY MEN—THE GREAT AMERICAN DISEASE—IT IS BROUGHT ON BY OUR MANNER OF LIVING—OUR WORRY AND HURRY—AMERICANS EXHAUST MORE NERVOUS ENERGY THAN ANY OTHER RACE OF PEOPLE.

There are a great many men who need treatment for their nervous system. These men do not know what is the reason they don't feel right—why they can't work like they used to—why they tire so easily and why they are irritable, nervous, despondent, weak, pale and lack ambition. These conditions require the expert knowledge and treatment of a specialist who has had many years' experience in just such ailments. A specialist learns by experience to know just the right treatment at the right time, so that the patient can be dismissed at the earliest possible time. Men affected with nervous exhaustion have no endurance—no ambition—everything they attempt is an effort. Life to them appears as a long, gloomy future. Their appetite is poor and variable—they become irritable, cross and discouraged. They have pains and aches in various parts of the body and there is often indigestion and pains in the stomach. Sleepless, wakeful and restless nights follow.

RHEUMATIC AILMENTS
SCIATICA AND OTHER FORMS OF RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, PAINS IN BACK, SWELLING, ACHING, PAINFUL CONDITIONS IN ANY PART OF THE BODY—INFLAMED AND SWOLLEN JOINTS OF LEGS AND ARMS—MANY OTHER SYMPTOMS.

Hundreds of men are suffering with some form of Rheumatism. Many of these men go from day to day suffering untold agonies thinking they cannot be cured. They have tried liniments, rubbing, massage, salts and other treatments without experiencing any relief, and they are now going through life thinking they are doomed to that burden called Rheumatism. If these men could only know how easy it is to get rid of many rheumatic conditions I know they would not suffer another single day. Then all sufferers of rheumatism would be strong and healthy if they could get rid of the condition. Rheumatic patients are nearly all strong and robust before being attacked by this ailment, and therefore it is so hard for the man to understand why he should suffer the agonies of such a condition. When a man gets rid of such a condition he feels that a heavy burden has been lifted from his life, and he starts right out to make up for lost time both in money and pleasure. When a man comes to my office suffering with the above condition he is given a most careful examination, and he is given treatment that he feels is giving him great benefit.

HARMED FRIENDS
Theatrical Ends The Wall Street
cer of Swindler Who Killed His Guardian.

Bessie Barriscale, who will be on the screen of the Grand Theatre Friday and Saturday in "Beck's Roads," in this film has the part of a woman who forces her own hand from the fingers of an unwelcome. The locales of this Robert Cole picture are the Canadian Northwest, the City of St. Louis and New York City.

"Beckoning Roads," which Barriscale produced, opens at Marquette Shay (Miss Barriscale) a child, showing how she living her entire early life and loneliness of a vast Canadian ward of her kind guardian Grayson. Grayson is busy, a little time to give to the girl gets most of her education Cecil Barrington, a young Englishman.

Takes Her Revenge.
After a time Grayson seeks revenge, desiring to take Marquette to the United States and place her in a school. Unfortunately he is a swindler who induces him, he and Marquette have moved to Louis, to invest in worthless Grayson kills himself, a broken Marquette who has wedded the of the swindler, leaves him and to New York.

There she meets the very man who was responsible for the financial death of her guardian. She a trap for him. Becoming his enticement clerk she engineers a manipulation which ruins the man who had ruined her former husband. Then she is reunited with her husband, who is a worthy young man who had never entered into "crooked" work of his father.

Keep Uric Acid Out of Joints

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well known authority. We are advised to dress to keep the feet dry; avoid eat less meat, but drink plenty good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and of foods that produce uric acid. Uric acid is absorbed into the blood. The function of the kidneys is to filter from the blood and cast in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the body of this impurity. In damp and cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to double work, they become sluggish and fail to eliminate uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the eventually setting in the joints muscles causing stiffness, and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy a few ounces of Jad Salts; put a spoonful in a glass of water drink before breakfast each day for a week. This is said to be uric acid by stimulating the blood to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of lemon juice, combined with thousands of folks who are suffering from rheumatism. Here you have a simple, effervescent lithia water which helps overcome uric acid is beneficial to your kidney.
