DIAMOND DUST

Nothing But the Truth—Without Fear or Favour.

TO-NIGHT'S GAME.

The C.E.L. will face the veteran Red Lions to-night at 7 o'clock. Harvey and his gallant little band are determined to do or die in an effort to pierce Hill's armour and thus stop their onward rush for the 1920 pennant, and in a ball game there's no telling what will ever happen. The Institute boys are heavy hitters and seem no way nervous of standing up to Robbie's efforts. The lineups will be:—

RED LIONS

Robertson Churchill
Cahill Thomas
Hiltz Churchill
Callahan Alderdice
Callahan Gabriel
Munn Carter
Ellis Drover
Quick Windsor
Kiely Thistle

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

In their clash with the B.I.S. yesterday the Cubs put over 9 runs to the Irishmen's 3. All their runs were made in the first four innings due to poor fielding and wild throwing. From the fifth to the last the young Harps played well high faultless ball, and showed the fans they can do so if they wish. O'Leary, though still crippled, showed his pluck by sticking in the box for the whole game and did splendid work though in the early stages he got no support at all. It was not until the seventh that the B.I.S. found Claude Hall, and a couple of nicely placed hits with the assistance of wild throws by Sweater Gosse and Freddie Phelan brought in 2 runs. In the final stanza they shoved across another. Both batteries worked well, Hall having 16 strikeouts to O'Leary's 8. Both teams are credited with only 1 earned run each. Hall had no Annie Oakley's but O'Leary issued 6 passes. French is charged with 2 passed balls, and Hall's fast one caught one of the Irish batters on the arm and thus gave him free transportation. Eddie Phelan did the only slugging for the evening, and Scooter Mernot has placed to his credit a three bagger and a double packer. This kid's guardianship of the keystone was brilliant and he has not the slightest fear of spikes. Scooter Sawyer and Manning in the infield of the Cubs played classy ball, while Dickie Power in the Irish outfield pulled down a few long ones in good fashion. There is no doubt the B.I.S.

can come back if they play seriously, and they will likely give some one a jolt in the orphanage games next week.

To the juniors must be given the credit of playing the fastest and snappiest exhibition of the 1920 season. The St. Bon's were victors over the Shamrocks by a score of 4 to 3 in a five inning preliminary. Both batteries did good work, but the palm must be given to young Collins, the St. Bon's catcher. He is an adept at back-stopping and his pegs to the bags are perfect. The fans want more of the junior games and would like to see a game played each week.

We had the temerity yesterday to enter the dressing room of the B.I.S. players, and oh! such rude words they said to us about the horrid things this column prints about their playing to date. We were accused right up the gamut of being everything from a moonshiner to a modern bluebeard. As a matter of fact, at one time we thought they were going to slap us on the wrist. They evidently overlook the main point of the whole issue and that is that we're being paid for telling the public "Nothing but the truth without fear or favour." At the beginning of the season the management of "The Evening Telegram" decided that the sport-loving enthusiasts of this town must be pretty near fed-up with reading neutral safety-first accounts of exhibitions in all branches of local athletics where undeserved bouquets are handed out by disinterested scribes as freely as O.B.E.'s were a short year or two ago.

However, our rashness in entering their abode enables us to make the amende honorable to one of their players and this we very gladly do. In describing the ill fated cruise of the "Hary" in the Wanderer sea on Tuesday night we stated that the official scorer's log had charged one Douglas J. French with 3 errors, and on the matter being called to our attention by the irate Duggy we find that Wallace was really the culprit. In the summary they are next each other in the batting list and most unwittingly we charged French with the pawnbroker's sign instead of the genial William.

Yes, Dug, as you opine it's heart-breaking enough to be limelighted when you're guilty, but when you make only 1 error and then get featured for 3 it is pretty raw, we'll tell the world.

Woodford Enquiry.

COMMISSION NOT A JUDICIAL ONE.

The Commission appointed to enquire into the Woodford charges met in the Tower Room at 11 a.m. to-day. Mr. Rendell, one of the Commissioners, pointed out that the Commission was not a judicial one and the members were only appointed to take any evidence given by the parties to the enquiry. The parties may be represented by counsel, but it is the intention of the Commission not to be hampered with the legal aspects of the case. They will examine into the matter from a business point of view. Mr. Howley, K.C., was present this morning, representing Mr. Woodford, who gave his evidence freely, stating all that transpired to the Saturday after the Supreme Court refused to accept his resignation. According to Mr. Woodford's statement, Mr. Gibbs stated that the vacancy created by his resignation was to be filled by Dr. Campbell. At 1 p.m. on St. Patrick's Day he had an interview with Premier Squires at his home, the latter waiting for him for over a half hour. The result of the interview was that he (Woodford) should resign and the petition against him would be withdrawn. At 5 o'clock that evening he visited Gibbs' office and intimated that he wished another interview with the Premier, Gibbs stating that they were anxious that the resignation should be tendered that night, so that next day at court the proceedings could be withdrawn. Gibbs then wrote out the resignation which gave as excuse for it that, owing to ill health and the necessity of going to Canada to consult a specialist, he (Woodford) was advised by his solicitor not to put the resignation in the morning used. The whole proposition came from the Government. After a consultation with the acting leader of the Opposition (Sir John Crosbie) he went to Gibbs and a meeting was arranged to take place at Squires' office at 9 a.m. on the 18th. At that meeting the three were present and it was agreed the resignation should be tendered before 11 o'clock, both Squires and Gibbs guaranteeing him a position worth $2,000 per annum and emoluments. On being questioned, Mr. Woodford said the position was to be the Superintendent of the Poor Asylum at the salary stated and $600 perquisites. When he rendered his resignation he told His Excellency that he was taking a rest from politics. The refusal of the Supreme Court to consent to the withdrawal of the petition nullified the agreement. It was understood at that time by all the parties to the agreement that the court would consent to the withdrawal of the petition. The Prime Minister and Mr. Gibbs were summoned to appear this morning but satisfied the Commission that they would give their evidence when called upon to do so. The enquiry here adjourned until Monday.

Police Court.

A sailor for being drunk had to pay costs.

A business man of New Gower St. for driving on the wrong side of the road was fined $3 or 7 days.

The man who ran amuck on Water Street last night and assaulted a number of citizens, including a policeman, a clerk and a telegrapher, was examined by a doctor and pronounced insane. He was sent to the Asylum.

A motorist charged with driving on the wrong side of the road near the head of Prescott Street was fined $2 or 5 days.

A string of 14 truckmen were charged with breaches of the traffic regulations. Mr. W. J. Higgins appeared for the defendants, pleading not guilty. The hearing was adjourned until Saturday morning. In the meantime the Truckmen's Union will be consulted.

A motorist for driving on the wrong side of the road, pleaded he did not know the regulations were in force. Notwithstanding his ignorance he was fined $2.

A case of abusive and insulting language, in which a father-in-law was the defendant, the plaintiff, a middle aged woman living in the East End, stated that the man called her dirty and lazy. The father-in-law in his defence said the woman accosted him and asked him questions which he said were women's affairs. He told her to go into her house and clean up some of the dirt which was there. He also said the woman called him a radical, which he interpreted as meaning one living a wild career. He was fined $2 or 7 days.

A charge of lewd and abusive language was preferred against a young man by a married woman of the Higher Levels. The defendant claimed that he had never saw the woman at the time alluded to in the charge. He was fined $2 or 7 days.
