PERTH.

Brockville, Ont., July 24.-Henry Smith, of Harlem, ex-president of the cheese board, has decided to make a trip to England at an early date, with a view of investigating the cheese market there and endeavoring to form some plan whereby the cheese may be shipped direct, independent of local middlemen. His idea is not to sell to an English commission mer-chant, but to try to arrange with some responsible dealer who will buy from 200 to 400 boxes of cheese every shaw with malicious damage to prop-erty and cutting the top of his buggy. The case was settled by Bradshaw paying damages and the costs of the week. Mr. Smith and his brother-inlaw, Mr. Joseph Knapp, are owners, -Mr. G. R. I believe if the commissioners wish to increase the growing popularity of Springbank Park and offer further inducements to excursionists and visi-tors from outside places to come and spend their money among our citizens, it will be necessary for either the city or the water commissioners to erect several pavilions for the protection of excursionists from rain storms. BORN UNDER PECULIAR CIRCUM-STANCES.

On the arrival of No. 3 on the Canadian Pacific Railway yesterday a Swedish woman, who had taken ill on the train, was removed to the Grand Pacific Hotel, where she gave birth to a child. Dr. Jento and Mrs. Louis Franks were hastily summoned, and rendered the necessary assistance. The woman and child—a boy—are doing well. Mr. Dahlgreen, a boarder at the hotel, fortunately spoke the Swedish language, and acted as interpreter. The woman and her husband were journeying from Rochester to Chicago. Their baggage was released here, in order that they might remain until the mother completely recovers. GARDEN PARTY.

The garden party at Huron College given by the Church Aid of St. John's Church, was fairly successful, despite the coolness of the evening. The success was greatly due to the president of the aid, Mrs. A. H. Smith, assisted by Mr. Smith and the ladies in charge of the various tables. Miss Florence Grant had the flower table. At the ice-cream table were Mesdames Williams and Manigault. The candy table was looked after by Misses Imlach and Mrs. St. John Hyt. Misses Imlach, and Mrs. St. John Hyt tenrauch was at the apron table. From 6 o'clock till 10 a most enjoyable time was spent. The Huron College lawn, which was used through the indness of the Western University and Huron College, is one of the finest in the city. It was beautifuly decor-ated with Chinese lanterns. Market Clerk Wilson was kept busy all the morning keeping on open on Talbot street, so that those who wished could go away. He did this to save blocking. Many farmers drove into the passage and were compelled to back out. The clerk says the City Council should take some steps to provide better accommodation and pass a bylaw compelling people who bring their produce to the market to unhitch the horses and take them off the square, so that the vehicles could be put closer together. By this means one-third more room could be obtained. Inspector Sanders says that hours without food or water. Along King street, Talbot, the north side of the market, and under the market verandas the crowd was so dense that progress was almost impossible The chief commodities offered for sale were vegetables, butter, eggs and apples. Roots of all kinds are excep tionally large. Onions, carrots, beets and turnips could be bought for a mere song. Very little grain came in, and only a few loads of hay. Butter sold at 17 to 18 cents per pound for best, and eggs, 8 to 10 cents per dozen. Fine apples could be bought for 25c per bag. Raspberries continue to come forward, and are in good de-mand at 7 and 8 cents per box, or $1 per pail. Today's was the largest market held

Cape Town, July 25 .- The House of Assembly has unanimously adopted the report of the select committee on the subject of the Jameson raid on Johannesburg. The report finds that Mr. Cecil Rhodes, who at the time was Premier of Cape Colony, was fully acquainted with the preparations for the raid, and that Mr. Alfred Beit, a dlrector of the British South African Company; Dr. Jameson and Dr. Rutherford Harris, also a director of the British South African Company, were active promoters of the raid. The reing. Squire Lacey remanded the pris- port further declares that there is no evidence that Mr. Rhodes intended that the Pitsand force should invade the Transvaal uninvited, but at the same time there was an absence of any peremptory command from Mr. Rhodes forbidding the raid. Rhodes and Harhad left it, not having time to dispose ris, it is alleged, drafted a telegram of it when he saw the account of his containing such prohibitory commands, ris, it is alleged, drafted a telegram doings in the "Advertiser." Mr. Young but the message was never dispatched. With these facts in view, the report says, the committee cannot acquit Mr. Rhodes of responsibility. The report further alleges that all the funds for the raid were contributed by the British South African Company, and with the knowledge of the London office, the money being afterwards re-funded by Mr. Rhodes. In closing, the committee say that they are forced to the conclusion that the conduct of Mr. their returns. South London shows a Rhodes was not consistent with his

Arresting a Dead Body for Debt Notes and Queries. 'An instance of this being attempted occurred in Stirlingshire so late as In that year the Rev. James Lapslie, minister of the parish of Campsie, died, and in "The Parish of Campsie," by John Cameron (Kirkintilloch, 1892), the proceedings of the crditor are stated thus: "On the day of the funeral the body was arrested at the mouth of the open grave, and further procedure barred by some legal process, until the arresting creditor had satisfaction given him for the payment of debt owing by the deceased. Sir Samuel Stirling. sixth baronet, became surety to the arresting creditor, and the body was then consigned to the grave. This incident greatly annoyed his friends."

"I extract the following from "Popular Errors Explained and Illustrated," by John Timbs, F. S. A.:
"It was long erroneously believed that the body of a debtor might be taken in execution after his death; which idle story we remember to have seen repeated in connection with the embarrassment of Sheridan at the time of his death, in 1816. Such was, however, the practice in Prussia till its abolition by the Code Frederique. JOHN HARDY, the inventor of the vacuum brake, died recently in Vienna, where for many years he had been employed by the state railroads. He was born in 1820, worked for a time under George Stephenson, and is believed to be the last survivor of his

B., July 20 .- The many cases of marvelous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion for some time have awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely, Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining great celebrity throughout the Province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and Mc-Cormick, stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use, was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled have caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.
