Saturday night was a great day in New York, if you will pardon the slight irregularity in expression. A hig Republican parade for in expression. A hig Republican parade for that sight had been advertised and boomed ng the week, and the result was really a big show, by all accounts. Strictly speaking, the Republican parade was intended to be an afternoon display, and its duration in the down-town or business district was from about half-past two till seven o'clock. The ad himed things so that their crowd would be way and Fifth-avenue by a w nightfall, by which time they expected that he Republicans would have got tired out, and would have vacated the streets.

For they appear to have thought that, if New York could speak, it would say "Two big crowds, sure; one of you will be good enough for me, at a time." Eventually good enough for me, at a time." Eventually the pharty war managers on both sides responsively, ere to the points subject the precision for this should be given mostly the party managers on both sides respectively, ere to the points subject the precision of the property of the points subject the precision of the property analysis on both sides respectively, ere to the points subject the property analysis on both sides respectively, ere to the points subject the property and the Eventually the thing was managed pretty well; whether the credis for this should be given mostly to

Detroit and the International Association. To be or not to be a ball town, is the ques-tion that confronts Detroit. Having once failed most miserably, one would naturally jump to the conclusion that Detroit had bet for try to worry along without the excitement incident to the maintenance of a baseball club. There are, however, many who favor a club here next season and are willing to put cold cash into the scheme. A National League Olub is out of the question, as is also an American Association team. Therefore, a minor league must be looked to. The most minor league must be looked to. The most pretentious one, for which Detroit would be suited geographically, is the International, which includes Buffelo, Syraouse, Rochester, London, Hamilton, Teronto, Troy and Albany. The latter two towns will be dropped for business reasons, and the plan is to get Detroit and Toledo to take their places. This would be a good thing for the international League. The question is, would it be a good thing for Detroit of Detroi

The question is, would it be a good thing for Detroit?

There are a good many arguments to be advanced in its favor. First in the reduced price of admission. There is no question that hundreds stayed away from the League games between the transport of the tr cause of the large dollar which it was meres-sary to possess morder to achieve the desired ebject. With 25 cent call, many enthusiate, who were deterred by 50 cent-ball will go to who were centred by the deficience between National and minor league playing. Providing the Detroit club made a good showing in the race, this objection would not hold.

It is the quality of the contest between the clubs rather than the quality of the playing of men in the clubs that interests speciators.—Detroit Free Press.
