A VICTORIAN ROMANCE.

Strange Story Recalled by Death of British Baron.

The death of Sir George Chetwynd at Monte Carlo recalls the most famous love story of the Victorian era. Chetwynd was one of the famous figures of the turf and polo set and appeared in a famous turf cause celebre when he brought a libel action against Lord Durham a libel action against Lord Durham for a speech at the Gimcrack Club in which the peer criticized the run-ning of Sir George's horse Fullerton in the racing season of 1887. The Jockey Club refused to inves-tigate the matter and Sir George brought an action against Lord Dur-ham for $100,000 damages ham for $100,000 damages. The case was brought before three arbitrators, James Lowther, M.P.; the Earl of March, and Prince Soltykoff. Though the graver charges of pulling were found by the arbitrators to be unfounded there arbitrators to be unfounded, there were such unsatisfactory conditions about the running of the Baronet's horses that they awarded him only a farthing damages and ordered each side to pay its own costs. Sir George took this as a slur upon him and resigned from the Jockey Club. His jockey was sub-sequently warned off the turf.

sequently warned off the turf. Sir George's turf career had a romance. He was married in 1870 to the Marchioness of Hastings, who died in 1907. This lady, whose beauty and form led to her being called "the pocket Venus," was the only daughter of the second Mar-quis of Anglesey. They called her lady bird in the days when Queen Alexandra was a young bride. Lady Florence Paget as she then Lady Florence Paget, as she then was, was engaged to marry Henry Chaplin. She drove with him one morning to a well known West End shop to buy part of her trousseau. She was passionately attached to the wild Marquis of Hastings, and she left the West End shop by a different door, leaving Chaplin behind. She met the Marquis outside and married him.

him. Three years later a dramatic re-venge came. Chaplin won the Derby with Hermit, a rank outsider, at 66 to 1, and the Marquis of Hastings went a cropper and lost so heavily short a clopper and lost so heaving on the race that he was ruined. Shortly afterward he committed sui-cide at the age of 26. "Judge not that ye be not judged," says the text on his tombstone at Kensal Green Competence Green Cemetery. Three years afterward his widow married Sir George Chetward ins whow had a son and two daughters. The story of the Marquis of Hast-The story of the Marquis of Hast-ings' ruin on Derby Day and his sub-sequent suicide after marrying Chaplin's fiance has been the basis of more than one melodrama in Drury Lane that has later been seen in America. Chaplin is now a Vis-count and is still alive at the age of 76. Chetwynd was 68.

Trial is Inexpensive .- To those who Trial is Inexpensive.—To those who suffer from dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism or any ailment arising from deraugement of the digestive system, a trial of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills is recommended, should the sufferer be un-acquainted with them. The will be in-expensive and the result will be another customer for this excellent medicine. So effective is their action that many cures can certainly be traced to their use where other pills have proved ineffective.
