He Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES" Instead,
And Is Now in Perfect Health.

MME. F. GAREAU

153 Papineau Ave., Montreal.
For three years, I suffered greatly in the lower part of my body, with swelling or bloating. I saw a specialist, who carefully examined me and gave me several tonics to take, which did not help me. Then I heard about "Fruit-a-tives" and I bought a box. I was so pleased with the results that I bought another box. I am now in perfect health and I give "Fruit-a-tives" the warmest thanks.

A long fight for the under dog ever helped him. It was never to help him, it was to help you. It is a thing that you would say youth is a thing not to be grateful for, but rather a thing to be grateful for.

When anyone begins a state by saying "Candidly, I want to say," it usually prefaces some disagreeable news. I am about to do so. I have been telling how on the trigger we are; and how we really are. I know how unreliable you are; well you are as good as anybody's. I know how the American watchdog was, now it is propaganda. I know how creditable to be an American, he'll make up his mind never seen a painting or statue pressed me as much as a wild apple tree in early bloom. Nature is more interesting to me than art.

How a good fellow who is bright and intelligent, and whom I greatly respect, when I receive a letter from him, I find it full of spelling checks. I know how men love to put on their coats, as protest against their treatment. How men love to declare war! How men love to raise the devil! And how men realize that once the devil is loose, it is extremely difficult to get him in chains again!

MIRACLES OVER?

PERDITION AND FALSE BELIEF TO OVERSHADOW FACTS ANY LONGER?

A woman who has been sick and becomes well after taking a scientific preparation—can you find the remedy must be good? I have these extracts taken from a letter written to me by Mrs. H. Cross, King Street West, Toronto—suffered for several years with rheumatism and could not get up or down stairs. My doctor bought me a box of Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules, and almost immediately I felt relief. The swelling went down and the stiffness of my knees. I might say that I am using T.R.C.'s I had almost everything under the sun to succeed. I am a happier and more woman now, and I cannot thank you enough for the aid T.R.C.'s have given me.

The same story from hundreds of Rheumatic sufferers. They T.R.C.'s and T.R.C.'s fixed them. You suffer, try them.

"DON'TS" IN USE OF MACHINE

Don't forget to oil the sewing machine frequently. The treadle and pitman should be oiled in their bearings almost as often as the working parts above the table.

Don't allow the machine to stand uncovered when not in use, as it collects dust and lint. The working parts below the cloth plate should be dusted and lint removed frequently with a small camel's hair brush. The parts above the cloth plate should be wiped often with cheesecloth.

Don't run the machine when the presser foot is down and there is no material in the machine, as this roughens the underside of the foot and blunts the feed.

Don't run the machine while it is threaded without a piece of material under the foot, as this causes the thread to knot around the bobbin and makes a big, ugly, bunch of thread on the underside of the work when stitching is begun. There is often a tendency on the part of the operator to stitch several inches after the end of the seam has been reached. This is a bad practice.

Don't pull the material while it is being stitched, as this causes a stretched, tight, ugly stitch and very often blunts or breaks the needle. The feed will take care of this unassisted and will push the material through as fast as the machine can take care of it.

This is a straw hat entirely covered with flambriated satin ribbon, with black velvet ribbon around the crown, and is regarded as an exquisite creation.

APRON IS A BECOMING AFFAIR

Tricky Thing of Pink Striped Gingham Donned by Many of the Happy Little Brides.

An apron is really a pretty and a charming thing when its artistic possibilities are considered, and it may be made a becoming affair. Usually it is the little bride who affects aprons that have charm; her morning aprons are tricky affairs of pink striped gingham, with a smart flare in the skirt part, and a coquettish little bib above the waist line—and very crisp strings that tie in a big bow behind. An elderly housekeeper would feel a bit foolish in such an apron—even though when she goes to a matinee she wears a dainty blouse quite as youthful as any the little bride would select.

The house apron of the average good housekeeper is made of checked gingham with a narrow belt band that pins at the back. This unbecomingly but extremely practical affair is donned when household labors demand protection of the gown—but you never catch the housekeeper at the front door in it, as sometimes you catch the little bride in her bewilderingly becoming pink print apron. There seems to be no good reason why every house apron should not have the qualities of grace and becomingness. Why wear checked brown gingham if pale blue chambray matches one's eyes; or blue checked gingham if something in pink print will set off one's complexion? And why a straight, shapeless apron when a really smart one with circular shaped skirt with a bib with extensions that button at the back of the neck can be obtained at modest price or manufactured in an hour or two in the home sewing room?

PART CAPE AND PART COAT

A practical and graceful garment, part cape and part coat, is among the endless interpretations of the cape that have answered the demand for spring-time wraps. It is in fact a short, full coat with flowing sleeves and a girldie, having a long cape lined with figured satin hanging from the shoulders. The full collar and bands on the sleeves are of satin.

Worms in children work havoc. These pests attack the tender lining of the intestines and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the hook variety that cling to and feed upon interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.
