Father Dodsworth had been most zealous and untiring in his work, and it was much to be regetted that the men of the school work absentant less especially to the Professor had taught. Before the examination of the boys Professor Saccomade an address in Italian. In eloquent language, he urged the Italians to profit by the means of education that were offered them in the night-cohool. A boy or young man, he said, in this country without the knowledge of the Luglish language is like a soldier without arms After Professors Saccos speech an examination was held Italian. At the close of the evercises the Very Roy. Father Rector distributed the privas, after which appropriate speeches were made by Mr. O'llyme and Mr. Hearn of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

The National Anthem having been rendered by the boys' orchestra, the audience dispersed well pleased with althy had heard and soon. The pupils however retired to the banquet room, in the rear of St. Patrick's Hall where they partook of refreshuents to which they did full and ample pusitoe, and from which, as far as we have been able to press, no serious ovil consequences have resulted Closing Evercises—How Pupils Rank in the Homer Lets.

The closing exercises of St. Michael's School took place in the De La Salle Institute. The spacious hall was filled by an intelligent and interested audience. The pupils did credit to themselves by the way in which they rendered their programme. They underwent an examination in their different branches of study, and the results were very flattering to the children themselves, as well as to their parents and and teachers. Rev. Father Ryan acted as examiner. He was ably assisted by the Rev. Father Traccy, D.D. At the close Rev. Father Ryan, in a short address, congratulated the pupils on the great progress they had made in their studies, and concluded by giving them a few words of advice as to the manner of speuding their vacation properly. OBITUARY.

Those doing business at the Home Savings and Loan Company, and who were acquainted with Mr Arthur C. Winterberry, will regret to learn of his death, which occurred in this city on the sixth instant. For several years Mr. Winterberry was one of the ledger-keepers in the institution named, and while so engaged made many warm friends by his courtesy and attention. Failing health some mouths ago compelled his retirement from active work, in the hope that change of air and seen might restore his wonted vigor, but this ardent wish was not to be realized. The seeds of discase had taken too firm a hold, and could not be shaken, even by the most skilled treatment. During his illness, which he bore with pious resignation, he was comforted by the tender care of a loving mother, and fortified by the sacraments of the otherch; and when the final moment came, he was not unpropared for the dark journey which leads from time to eternity. At the early ago of 20. Arthur Winterborry takes his leave of earth, to final, wo have been considered up—lice. Father liyan. celebrant; Rev. Father home beyond the skies.

The lecture golds that servites must be carnest the way agreat many example the country's best friend.

The lecture golds that servites must be carnest the country of the Catholic Church. Some of this is deliberate war against the Church, some of its is mere stampidity. The clitro of a Montreal paper referring to a Mass for the repose of the souls of the fallains follied in Abyssina added that the Pope ordered a Te Deum to be sung in all the churches. But papers like The London Times and Standard were proved to be equally absurd offenders. The lecture held up Mr. Britten, secretary of the English Truth Society, as an example to all members of the society in Canada to warth the press and remind it of its blunders and its offences. To believe those who know not, one would be inclined to imagine that the Catholic Church is the fosterer of error and darkness. The lecturer oloquently reviewed what the Church has done for the enlightenment of the world in all the centuries. He referred to science, philosophy, the classics, art and music, and said in the words of the world. The lecturer also spoke of women helpers in the work of the Catholic Church is growing better is due not so much to any sort of enterprise as to the influence of good mothers and gentle women. Roy. Father Slevin S. J., who has been preaching a retreat at Loretto Abbey, lectured on Tuesday evening in St. Michael's Cathedral. Only a brief notice of the lecture had been given, but the cathedral contained a large audience. The object of the lecture was to promote the work of the Catholic Truth Society The object of the lecture was to promote the work of the Catholic Truth Society in Toronto. Allowing for an intermission, Father Slevin spoke for about two hours and he was listened to throughout with the greatest attention. He began by pounting out that in this day the individual is isolated or ignored, and tone is imparted to public opinion by organizations and associations. Even the enomies of Christianity band themselves in league together. The children of evangelical light must not be willing to content themselves with surveying the difficulties without striving to overcome them. It is consequently necessary to draw closer the bonds which unite together the children of the Mother Church. The aim and endeavour of the members of the Catholic Truth Society should be centred in their genuine spirit of loyalty to the church. It was their inalienable right to throw what light they could on social problems. The procepts of sherity hind the Catholic laity as imalionable right to throw what night they could on social problems. The precepts of charity bind the Catholic laity as well as the Catholic clergy. In the primitive clurch the laity co operated very largely in the country of saving souls. They had a voice in the election of Depes and the country of saving souls. They had a voice in the election of Depes and the country of the middle of the election of the saving the conversion of the Roman Empire and in the overthrow of Paganism. Propes, Bishops and clergy were rivalled by the intelligent laity in their labors for the establishment of religious and educational institutions. After alluding to the later ages when Catholicity had become part of the municipallaw and the policy of church and state was to repress all heretical expression, the lecturer said that in these days it is next to impossible to prevent Catholics from hearing false doctrines. This makes it all the more necessary for the Catholic laity to blend their intellectual and religious life. The clergy are overworked and the laity can do much even in the way of disabusing those outside the clurch of their inherited prejudices. In this country and in the United States arong the men who had done much good were John Boyle O'Rienes States arong the men who had done much good were John Boyle O'Rienes States arong the men who had done much good were John Boyle O'Rienes States arong the men who had done much good were John Boyle O'Rienes States arong the men who had done much good were John Boyle O'Rienes States arong the men who had done much good were John Boyle O'Rienes States arong the men who had done much good were John Boyle O'Rienes States arong the men who had done much linding the properties of the states arong the men who had done much good were John Boyle O'Rienes States arong the men who had done much linding the properties of the states arong the men who had done much good were John Boyle O'Rienes States and Indignos of the little modesty and false refinement in the second states of the states a Father Ryan, rector of the Cathedral, thanked the lecturer for his discourse. Ho was glad that so large an audience had assembled to hear Father Slevin on short notice.
