

Internal Economy Commission

I think there is something more basic to the flag issue than a national flag. My family have been Canadians for a great number of generations. Canadians were in Canada in 1776. I can assure you that if you push us too far we will move north and south. In fact I would move south tomorrow under certain circumstances.

We have been paying for those many miles of railroad through wilderness. If you do not like westerners, we will get out. We will move north and south, and I am sure it would be economically favourable to us to do so. That is something that the members of the Liberal party should consider, because we can jump right into the middle of this issue. You may think that is not possible, but I remind you anything is possible. We are tired of being pushed around by a minority. Let us be practical about this situation.

Some hon. Members: Shame.

Mr. Clancy: There is nothing shameful about that suggestion at all. The English have been in this country for a long time and we will be here for a long time yet.

An hon. Member: Oh, oh.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: Order, please.

Mr. Clancy: Sit down. I know the names of those individuals who have already come to a conclusion in respect of this issue. I remind members that I have a right to say in this house what I think. I state definitely that you had better beware of any attempt to drive the citizens of the western portion of Canada too far.

Mr. Speaker, may I call it six o'clock?

HOUSE OF COMMONS

CONCURRENCE IN INTERNAL ECONOMY COMMISSION REPORT RESPECTING MEMBERS' TRAVELLING EXPENSES

Hon. G. J. McIlraith (President of the Privy Council): Mr. Speaker, it being six o'clock may I be allowed to revert to motions? I believe there has been an agreement in this regard among the house leaders of all the parties.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: Does the house agree?

Some hon. Members: Agreed.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: We will revert to motions.

Mr. McIlraith moved:

That the report of the commissioners of the internal economy commission, made on June 23, 1964, and printed in Votes and Proceedings of July 27, 1964, be now concurred in.

Motion agreed to.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: Does the hon. member for Winnipeg South Centre wish to speak?

Mr. Churchill: I have nothing to ask, sir.

At six o'clock the house adjourned, without question put, pursuant to standing order.
