ides it Water State La Carrymiles. ace the otwithlty that y meet rge and e counhighest es near no part wer the river is that I

e great

requent-

ne min-

le parts, aken on er. for hav-ce of the Saukies, to their ards, the anecdote

aries and
is people,
the comnge their
en Bay in a visit of w to their
ox River,
as they were, he found them an easy conquest, and consequent ly killed or took prisoners the greatest part of them. On the return of the French to the Green Bay, one of the Indian Chiefs in alliance with them, who had a confiderable band of the prisoners under his care, flopped to drink at a brook; in the mean time his companions went on which being observed by one of the women whom they had made captive, the fuddenly, ferred him with both her bands, whill he stooped to drink, by mexamistely susceptible part, and held him fast till he expired on the spot. As the Chief from the extreme torture he fuffered, was unable to call out to his friends, or to give any alarm, they passed on without knowing what had happened : and the woman having cut the bands of those of her fellow priloners who were in the rear, with them made her escape. This heroine was ever after treated by her nation as their deliverer, and made a chiefess in her own right, with liberty to entail the same honor on her descendants, an unusual distinction, and permitted only on extraordinary occasions

About twelve miles before I reached the Carrying Place, I observed feveral fmall mountains which extended quite to it. I here indeed would only be effected as molehills, when compared with those on the back of the colonies, but as they were the first I had seen since my leaving Nisgara, a track of near eleven hundred miles, I could not leave them unnoticed.

The For River, where it enters the Winnebago Julie, is about fifty yards wide, but it gradually decreases to the Carrying Place, where it is no more than five yards over, except in a few places where it widens into small lakes, though still of a considerable depth. I cannot recollect any thing else that is remarkable in this river, except that it is so serpentine for five miles, as only to gain in that place one quarter of a mile.

The Carrying Place between the Fox and the Ouilconfin Rivers is in breadth not more than a mile and three quarters, though in some maps it is so delineated as to appear to be ten miles. And here I Cannot help remarking, that all the maps of these parts, I have ever