ander, infielders, Manager Rickey of the Browns has cut down his squad to panictime size. All told, Branch has let out eleven players.

Jean Dubuc of the Tigers is the latest to join the baseball colony at Hot Springs. The Spa is fast filling up, as the Highlander equad of hurlers is already there The usual number of players who go to the springs annually are also on hand.

Lee Tannehill, former Sox shortstop, who was released the other day by Minneapolis, may not hook up with the Los Angeles Club, as was reported. The coast leaguers think the old southsider Connie Mack said at the time he dis-posed of Eddie Collins to the Sox that he would develop a star to fill the famous second-sacker's shoes. Now, with Baker gone, it is up to Mack to find two lu-minaries. He thinks he has one in Young Kopf.

Cy Falkenberg and George Mullin are coaching "big nine" college teams. Cy is down in Champaign showing Illinois tossers how to hold the sphere, while Mullin is handling the Indiana diamond

Fred Clark has excused three Pirates from taking the spring trip. They are Herbert Kelly, student at Notre Dame; Joe Conzelman, who is attending Columbia University, and Syd Smith, catcher, who is coaching the University of South Carolina. Looks like there ought to be a lot of brains on the Pittsburg squad this summer.

Otto Knabe, leader of the Terrapins, has already decided upon his line-up for the 1915 season. He picks his men as follows: Swacina, first base; Knabe, second base; Doolan, shortstop; Walsh, third base; Duncan, left field; Zinn, centre field; M. Meyers, right field; Owens, Jacklitsch, Russell and Kerr, catchers; Bender, Quinn, Suggs, Balley, Wilhelm and Conley, pitchers. The club will go to Fayetteville, N.C., March 15 to train.

Herman Schaefer, who was uncondi-tionally released by Washington several weeks ago, has been offered a place as coach and adviser by Manager Donovan of the Yankees.

Nowadays a critical examination of that $100,000 infield conveys the im-pression that somebody has short chang-ed Connie Mack. Still the retirement of Home Run Baker relieves the Polo Grounds authori-ties from the responsibility of declaring the right field seats a war zone when-ever the Athletics come to town.

"Baker was always anxious for the season to end so that he could hurry back to his farm in Trappe," says a team-mate. Run Home Bake one might call-

If somebody had to give up baseball for agriculture why couldn't it have been Cy Pieh?

Matty and Marquard are of the opinion that the proper time for Baker's retirement would have been immediately before the world's series of 1911.

Connie Mack plans to play a man named Wilhelm Kopf on third base in spite of the fact that an individual named Napoleon Lajoie will be on second. Jim Gilmore says that his league will stand for no soldiering next season. This may prove a death blow to militarism. We trust that both sides will respect the neutrality of Jack Barry.

Folk who complain of the difficulty of changing a $100 bill should observe the ease with which Connie Mack has broken a $100,000 infield.

If Frank Farrell really intends to come back into baseball Joe Grimm loses his title as the gamest man in the world. Now that Hughie Jennings is the di-ector of a bank he no longer roots for Baker is gone, but a close scrutiny of the fielding averages of the Cleveland team convinces an observer that the farming classes are still well repre-sented in the game.

Yes, Baker has retired, but let's see: How many farewells did Adelina Patti give? ODDFELLOWS' LEAGUE.
