Miss Bessie A. Jackson, youngest daughter of the late Thomas Jackson, of London township, was yesterday united in marriage to Mr. J. E. Middleton, son of the Rev. Eli Middleton, now of Weston, but formerly pastor of the King Street Methodist Church, and president of the London Conference. The ceremony was performed by the groom's father at 2 p.m., at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Homer Jackson, con. 7, of London. The bridesmaids were the Misses Jennie Steele, Florence Munro and Miss Maude McDonald-the latter a cousin of the bride. Mr. J. F. Atkinson supported the groom. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Homer Jackson. The bride was beautifully attired in white organdie, with bridal veil, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and maiden-hair fern. The bridesmaids looked extremely pretty in pink, white and blue, respectively, and carried carnations.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served on the lawn. About 60 guests were present, many of them coming from Montreal. Peterboro, Toronto, London and other places. The young couple received many beautiful and valuable tokens of esteem. Mr. and Mrs. Middleton left the city via the C. P. TUPPER'S CHARGES

Met by Mr. Sifton in the House-Vote To Be Taken Today.

[Special to The Advertiser per C.P.R.] Ottawa, June 29.-Mr. Sifton will reply to Sir Hibbert Tupper this afternoon, and it is understood that a vote will be reached before the house adjourns. While it is not known what course the government will take on the debate, there can be none as to the fate which awaits Sir Hibbert's resolution. He must have known that when he framed it in the first place the resolution is wholly unconstitutional. It asks parliament to relegate to a couple of judges the responsibility of trying ministers of the crown for neglect of duty in a matter which exclusively belongs to parliament itself, and therefore should be referred to a parliamentary committee. Again it asks that Judge Dugas should be tried by two judges, when Sir Hibbert knows that a judge can only be tried by impeachment after he has been put in possession of all the charges against him. As to the insufficience or otherwise of Commissioner Ogilvie's report. the evidence has only just been printed, and Sir Charles was speaking from advanced proof sheets. If it is found after the members have had a chance of perusing it to be lacking, then a fuller and a more complete inquiry may be ordered, but as yet this is not known. The government has already promised parliament the fullest investigation into the whole matter, and the public may rest satisfied that this course will be pursued apart altogether from whatever Mr. Tupper may say

CIRCUS DAY

The Big Show Pretty Nearly Owns the Town.

Imposing Pageant - Interesting Scenes at the Depot and on the Street.

The old circus grounds on Richmond street north, near Cheapside street, are crowded today with some 30 tents, the property of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells' great show.

The procession this morning was one of the finest that ever passed along the streets of London, and was witnessed by thousands of citizens and visitors. The procession was booked to move off at 9:30, but did not start from the grounds until 10:15. It came down The Saints' Chance-Thomas Donley Richmond street to the V, and then continued down Park avenue to Dundas, east on Dundas to Weilington, south on Wellington to King, west to Park avenue Park avenue to Dundas, Dundas to Richmond, Richmond to York, York to Talbot, Talbot to Dundas. Dundas to Richmond, and up Richmond to the grounds. The entire route along which the procession pass-ed was crowded with spectators. The crowd was so dense at the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets, that traffic was completely blocked for some time. Little groups started to gather on the street corners as early as nine o'clock, and they waited patiently two hours to see the pageant. Windows along the line of march were at a premium. Every point of vantage was quickly taken. The glitter of the gold on the wagons, the playing of the bands, and the fine display of handsome and spirited horses made the sight a very pleasing one. The ele-phants and a number of wild beasts in the cages tickled the little folks immensely, and they laughed in great glee when a cage of monkeys hove in sight. The steam organ (no circus would be complete without one) played all the popular airs of the day. The procession was about a mile in length.

The first train carrying the effects of the circus arrived before daylight this morning, and for some three hours a procession of circus attaches, wagons and various animals kept the attention of the hundreds of persons who went down to witness the debarkation, which took place at the G. T. R. crossing at Maitland street. The labor-saving devices employed in unloading the three trains proved of great interest to the crowd. The droves of elephants, which were the most attractive feature to the small boy, assisted greatly in the work, being made to shove the heavy wagons around. Shortly after 12 o'clock crowds began to move toward the show-grounds. There was considerable cheering of the union 'busses, which left the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, crowded with passengers, while the empty cars were hailed with derisive cheers.

Mr. Carr-Absolutely impossible. Adjourned.

NOTES.

The Montreal Street Railway Company was fined $2 and costs yesterday in two cases of overcrowding its cars. The London Street Railway pany are not apprehensive of any fines for overcrowding during the strike. An amusing incident occurred at the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets. A party of ladies were stepping on to a street car when a stranger approached them. He spoke to them, and they immediately re-cognized a friend. At his request they left the car and boarded the union bus, amid the loud cheers of the crowd of bystanders.

The 27 union 'busses were kept constantly crowded the greater part of the day. The horses were changed every hour, so that good time was made in conveying passengers to the circus grounds. A number of the conveyances in use were voluntarily loaned to the union by citizens. The crowd at the corner of Rich mond and Dundas streets made the street resound with the cry of "scab!"

but refrained from violence. No arrests were made. The circus people generously supplied the union 'busses with a number of horses gratis.

Hamilton Herald, Wednesday: The trouble at Chatham yesterday was the outcome of an attempt on the part of the league directorate to put the St. Thomas team on a business basis. At present, it appears, the club is in the hands of a number of adventurers, who have caused no end of dissatisfaction among the baseball enthusiasts of the Saintly City. These people have apparently had but little baseball experience, and the club at once took to the toboggan. The patronage dwindled away to nothing at all, and there were loud cries for a change. Some weeks ago Tom Donley, a St. Tho-mas hotel man and all-round sport. made application for the franchise, and the application was granted providing Mr. Donley could make satisfactory arrangements with the then owners of the club. In this Mr. Donley was unsuccessful, and the anvil chorus at once began its work. Matters were getting serious with the Saints, and the disbandment of the club seemed imminent. The league believed that with Mr. Donley and the St. Thomas Street Railway Company in charge of the team, the situation would be greatly improved, and its step in demanding the immediate payment of moneys due the league was taken largely with a view to bringing about this change. It is not known, however, whether Mr. Donley is still anxious to become a magnate, but if he at Highgate.
is not, there would seem to be but little Mr. Joseph hope of the continuance of a team in

By Closing Down of United States Tin Plate Mills.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 29.-As a result of the failure to settle the tin-plate wage scale at Chicago conference, all the tin-plate mills in the country are preparing to close down, and tomorrow at midnight there will be a general suspension. Nearly 50,000 men will be thrown idle by the shut down. How long it will last is a matter of speculation. Circulars have been sent out to all the lodges notifying them of the non-success of the Chicago conference, and it is expected that the sentiment of the men on the question will reach the local officials' office about next Monday. There are rumors of a mass meeting to be held Saturday, but the local officials would not talk on the subject.

This year part of one township was taken under a municipality. Can the school trustees compel the clerk of the municipality to give them a portion of their assessment of that portion, or what course shall the said trustees take in order to get their proportionate levy? Ans .-The assessment and collection school rates is not affected by part of the section having become part of an organized municipality, whose assessment is not binding upon the school section, whose trustees, therefore, cannot compel the clerk to furnish a copy of part of the municipal assessment The trustees appoint their assessor, who prepares an assessment roll for the whole section, upon which the school rates are collected by their collector.

FAGGED OUT-None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength has gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however, is a cure-one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength.
