HE size of the bungalow illustrated is 39 ft. in width and 36 ft. in depth, exclusive of plazza.

The bungalow style of home is becoming more and more popular, but almost without exception, the owner calls for rooms above the main floor still he desires to have the low appearance, the broad spreading root with the wide overhanging eaves and if the size of ground will admit, a wide frontage. Our city lots, nar-row and contracted, have made such homes almost impossible, yet it is what most people want and it makes for more home comfort and a better place in which to rear the young. This "bungalow house" is a comfortable home and to look its best should have good width of ground with overhanging trees. It is estimated to be constructed at an exby wide sliding doors and the bal- above and roofs shingled. A BUCHNER, BARRISTER, SOLLICITOR, corner Talbot and Carling, Phone 99, Money to loan.
