BARGAIN FOR BOTH PARTIES

About 40 Articles Slightly Affected-Canadian Industry Not Injured. He Declares.

TAFT WASN'T BLUFFING PACT BEST ALL ROUND

Reductions are made in thirteen classes, containing about forty items in all. The average reduction is about 21-2 per cent., that is, the average difference between the general tariff under which American goods have entered Canada hitherto, and the intermediate tariff un-der which they now enter. The conceded items constitute about $5,000,000 of Canada's American importations. These goods are, many of them, goods that are not extensively or at all produced in Canada, and the reduction will go to reduce the prices on dates, figs, prunes and nuts, toilet articles, perfumery, tableware china, window glass, watch actions, sheet leathers and milliners' supplies.

AN INVITATION TO CLOSER RELATIONS

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 30.—Following the proclamation of a complete tariff agreement with Canada to-day, it was announced that President Taft has invited Dominion Government officials to a conference looking to closer trade relations between the two countries and to a general readjustment of duties.

Writing Hon. Mr. Fielding, United States Secretary Knox says: "I am gratified that the recent tendencies toward a more perfect understanding between our respective countries, manifested so conspicuously in the maturing adjustments of boundary waters, fisheries, and other long-standing differences, will not be affected by the irritations which would have resulted from our failure to agree upon the tariff question "The president is confident that the policy of broader and closer commercial relations with Canada will receive the hearty support of the large majority of the people of the United States, and he has learned with much satisfaction of the existence of a similar sentiment in the Dominion. It may be added that the conditions of the present day, as contrasted with the traditions of the past, are bringing into clearer light the truth that not only mutual trade in this, but ethical and social conditions of the highest moment reinforce this common

"Let me then take this opportunity to express, by his direction, the desire of the president, that your government will find it convenient to take up with this government, at such times and in such manner as may be mutually satisfactory, the consideration of a readjust-ment of our trade relations upon the broader and more liberal lines which should obtain between countries so closely related geographically and racially as indicated by the president in his recent public

OTTAWA, March 30 .- (Special.) - Well, Canada HAS made concessions to the United States after all to secure the continuance of the United States minimum tariff and to avoid the imposition of the maxi-

But, according to the minister of finance, the arrangement will hurt no industry in Canada: does not give the United States any particular preference-because the concessions are granted in the general tariff and will apply to the whole world; will have no convenient effect on the revenue, and, as a matter of fact, serves a very useful purpose

"No doubt." said Mr. Fielding, "extremists on both sides will have the extreme view as to this arrangement. I have no doubt that some will say that the United States have the best of the bargain, and that others will say that Canada has the best of the bargain. In both cases I believe they will be wrong.

"In so far as the best kind of bargain is one where both sides met each other in good spirit and are satisfied that the spirit of compromise has prevailed, I believe it is a good thing for Capada, and that it is a good thing for the United States."

Mr. Fielding said he had every reason to believe that President Taft, altho sincere in his kindly references to Canada, had not been bluffing, but that, had Canada declined to do something, he would have had to impose the maximum duty.

And while this might have been avoided, and Canada emerged with a diplomatic triumph, such a course would only have created an ill-feeling that would have reacted unfavorably in some future negotiations.

Mr. Fielding emphasized the fact that the United States, altho desirous of getting concessions concerning the exportation of wood pulp, had not insisted on these when it was explained that it was a matter for the provinces to decide. The concessions provided by the agreement cover less than 3 per cent. of all the import business from the United States into Canada in

They will cover business amounting to about $5,000,000, against imports into Canada from the United States amounting to more than $180,000,000 in the Canadian fiscal year of 1909. They include about forty staple commodities.

One of the most important concessions made by Canada is that of the so-called omnibus clause in the tariff. Heretofore all articles under that clause imported from the United States have been subject to the general tariff of 20 per cent. ad valorem. Hereafter these articles will pay 17 1-2 per cent. ad valorem.

Our International Trade. Mr. Fielding began by a reference to the importance of the question, in view of the fact that 50 per cent. of the total trade of Canada was with the United States, that 59 per cent. of Canada's imports came fro mthe United States, and that 35 per cent. of Can-ada's exports went to the United

The Canadian government has main tained an attitude of independent ac tion, and had declined to make any approach to the United States regarding the tariff, while the question of the Franco-Canadian treaty was under

Had the United States been approached, it would have been a recogon that the United States had the right to restrict the liberty of Canada to enter into trade treases wih any country with which it might be con venient to do business. However Washington took the first step of ask ing that negotiations be opened for better trade relations. Col. Hughes: "Did not the editor of The Globe go down there with his hat in his hand?" New Treaty Favors Us. Mr. Fielding went on to say that the United States tariff had not been regarded in Canada as favorable to Canadlan rade, but taking it all in all, it was calculated that the recent Payne-Aldrich tariff was better for Canada than the old Dingley tariff. On the basis of last year's imports, the changes would mean an equivalent of one million dollars in Canada's favor.

Nevertheless the tariff of to-day was quite a high tariff, and if the maximum United States tariff, was applied it would be practically prohibitive, and Canada would be obliged to adopt re-tallatory measures. If a tariff war had been entered into, the United States would have suffered more than

Canada, but both parties would have suffered in an enormous degree.

He had found that the men who would have suffered most were willing to bear the burden, if necessary, but in order to avert a great disaster, they suggested that it was the duty of the government to avert it if possible by the moment the United States expressed a desire to open up negotiations, it was a duty to meet the representatives in the same spirit with which they came to Ottawa. H. C. Emery and C.

Before these other agencies can do their part of the work effectively, society must clear the moral atmosphere of the evil forces which undo their work. It is the duty of society to suppress the saloon, the immoral show and the vice that infests all our cities. It is the duty of society to see that all its criminal laws are enforced. Our courts are woefully behind the age in their methods of work, and as a result criminals escape punishment."

Star Witness of Egyptian Preacher Declares Payment of Murdered Man's Money to Widow in Macedonia Was Never Made.

Subornation of perjury is the latest charge to be laid against Rev. George M. Atlas, and upon this charge, upon which he was yesterday indicted by the sessions grand jury, he was arrested an hour later by Detective Tipton. The charge is based upon evidence given before Judge Winchester in surrogate court, upon the motion heard before him to have Atlas furnish further and better security for the administration of the estate of Ivan Simoff, murdered in Eastern-avenue, year ago.

The man whom Atlas is charged with having procured to give false evidence is Charles Risk, a Macedonian, who accompanied him to Macedonia to bring back Babaroff, the witness in the trial of Stefoff for the murder of Simoff. Risk has confessed to the perjury, and implicated Atlas and others in his crime. He was heard before the grand jury yesterday as was Tipo Pitroff Topoloff, who arrived in the city from Macedonia on Monday.

Atlas was secured by Detective Tipton in the Simpson store. He had no idea of the further charge laid against him until told that he was in custody. The arrival of the witness from Macedonia, had been kept secret and no hint had been given that Risk, who had also testified on Atlas' behalf in police court, and in the sessions, had gone to the crown with his story.
