

EAT MORE FISH; HELP COUNTRY

National Fish Day to be Observed in Canada
Tomorrow

Increase Will Lower Price and Retain Capital in The Dominion.

Tomorrow will be National Fish Day, a day upon which the people are asked to aid the fishing industry by having fish at their meals.

Consumption of fish per head per annum in Canada is only 22 to 24 lbs., while in Britain it is between 45 and 80 lbs., and in Japan over 200 lbs., stated Daniel J. Byrne in an address to the Montreal Lions' Club. Mr. Byrne is the president of the Leonard Fisheries, Ltd., and has been giving addresses on the fisheries of Canada at the request of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, Ottawa, in connection with the National Fish Day.

IMPORTANT INDUSTRY.

The fish industry of this country is only second to that of agriculture, he stated. The greatest fishing waters in the world are about the 10th degree of latitude and in this respect Canada is fortunate because the coast on both sides is above that degree. Canada's fisheries last year were valued at $47,000,000.

Referring to the annual fish day, Mr. Byrne said that its inception took place during the war when it was necessary to encourage the consumption of fish in order that a good supply of concentrated foods might be sent over to the boys fighting in France and Flanders. Since then, the increase in the consumption of fish in this country has been very notable.

HEALTHFUL ASPECTS.

He pointed out the health-giving qualities of fish, as has been told by medical men, particularly sea fish having a small quantity of iodine, which helps to prevent goitre. Also in the case of diabetes, doctors advised patients to eat meat but allowed them to eat fish.

Canada's best customer for fish is the United States, Mr. Byrne said, but he thought there ought to be a much greater consumption in Canada. If there were, the cost would be lowered.

Mr. Byrne said there was invested in the fish industry in Canada some $48,000,000 or $48,000,000. With an increase in consumption that figure could easily be doubled or trebled and that would mean the retaining of capital in this country, more employment and more work for the railways.

FORKE READY TO AID GOVERNMENT

Says Farmers Will Support Any Measures of Progressive Character.

Canadian Press.

BRANDON, Man., Oct. 27.—Robert Forke, Progressive leader, who has returned to his constituency after a tour of Saskatchewan, renewed his campaign here last night.

The government, Mr. Forke said, could always be assured of the support of the Progressive farmers, who measure the interests of the people, were put forward. He assured his audience that if he went back to Ottawa, there would be no effort made to break up combinations that would not receive the unqualified support of the Progressives.

Weddings

Lieberman-Jacobson

A wedding of interest to many friends of the young people participating, was solemnized this afternoon at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mrs. Harry Jacobson, and Mr. Jacobson, Douglas avenue, in the presence of 75 guests. The bride was Miss Aida Mary Jacobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan I. Jacobson, and the groom, Joshua Lieberman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Lieberman, of Toronto. Rabbi O. Mendelblatt performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a very pretty gown of sand colored georgette with gold lace and hat to match, with veil and carried butterfly roses. She was attended as maid of honor by her sister, Miss Freda Jacobson, who wore a handsome green georgette and carried red roses.

The groom, who is manager of the Canadian Universal Films, was attended by Abraham Smith, manager of the Regal Films. Mrs. Jacobson, mother of the bride, wore a smart black satin gown and carried an old fashioned nosegay of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Lieberman will spend their honeymoon in Montreal, Toronto, Buffalo and other large cities. They will reside in Saint John. Among the many gifts received were numerous checks. From the associates of the groom in the city came a handsome case of silver and from his staff in the office a beautiful eight day clock. The groom's gift to his bride was a platinum watch.

Covers were set for 75 guests at the home of the bride's parents, for wedding supper.

Lyons-Murray

Tremont Temple, Boston, was, at 8:30 o'clock on Monday, Oct. 12, the scene of a pretty wedding, when Miss V. V. Murray, granddaughter of Mrs. William Watters, of 43 Albert street, became the bride of Albert H. Lyons, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyons, of 79 St. Patrick street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Massie, pastor. The bride, who was attended by Miss Louise Kearns, of Cambridge, Mass., was becomingly gowned in a costume of cocoa brown with hat to match. The groom was attended by Clarence G. Lingley, of Somerville, Mass. Immediate relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Lyons are residing at 89 Hancock street, Cambridge, Mass.

Would Use Canadian Ports More For Flour Shipments

vices are that Minnesota wheat can be taken to Buffalo and ground and marketed much cheaper than it can be done by mills in Minneapolis. For the week of Sept. 20 to 26, Buffalo produced 240,174 barrels of flour. In the corresponding week two years ago the output was only 122,461 barrels. The increase is chiefly in flour made from Canadian grain, and it competes with flour from Canadian mills in outside markets. As one of the curiosities of comparative rates, the rate on flour from Buffalo to Stone, Quebec, is 23 1/2 cents, while from Georgian Bay ports, a shorter distance, it is 29 1/2 cents. From Buffalo four roads get a share of the haul, and from Bay ports one road gets it all.

The Buffalo Sunday Express recently printed two pages of pictures of the harbor and grain elevators, with this announcement: "Buffalo is the greatest grain centre on the North American continent. The elevators dotting the harbor are loaded to capacity. Meanwhile hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent in building additional elevators. Thus Buffalo is also America's flour milling centre." Among the pictures shown is one of the "first unit of the Saskatchewan elevators now in course of construction, with three more units of the same type to be built." There are 27 grain elevators in Buffalo, and more are being erected. The writer in the Express utters this boast: "Buffalo's jealous giants (the elevators) are immortal. They will brook no infringement on their prestige. On their rugged shoulders rests the bread basket of the world. It is going to stay there."

THE Express goes on to show that the present storage capacity of Buffalo's grain elevators is 31,450,000 bushels, with 5,500,000 being added this year and 5,000,000 more contemplated, making a grand total of 41,950,000 bushels storage capacity. Grain ships in the harbor in winter stored last year 30,000,000 bushels, and much more such storage is expected this year. Read carefully this extract from the Express:

"Like mighty magnets the Buffalo grain elevators attract to themselves the grain shipments from all parts of the nation, and from the great Canadian Northwest. Especially heavy is the latter, and a fact connected with it is tending to make Buffalo the country's greatest milling centre as well as the greatest grain centre. There is a stiff duty charged on wheat shipped here from Canada, something like 45 cents a bushel. This is evaded by having the wheat shipped here from Canada in bond, ground into flour in Buffalo mills, and exported to England. Thus Buffalo gets the trade, and its flour mills are kept busy and busy."

THIS is confirmed by the fact that in two years Buffalo has increased its milling capacity by 11,000 barrels per day, while the output of Ontario mills has been reduced over 9,000 barrels per day in the same period. Nor should the opportunities for mixing American soft wheat with Canadian hard be overlooked; nor what that would mean in competing with Canada in the world markets. Last year, says the Express, 290,000,000 bushels of grain passed through Buffalo. There is a steady increase in the quantity from Canada. Buffalo handled 74,395,512 bushels of wheat in 1920. Last year it handled 180,275,738 bushels. The increase was largely in Canadian wheat. What is not milled can be easily shot down to Baltimore, Philadelphia or New York for export. Canada is a remarkably good friend of Buffalo.
