For the Farms

The proof of the value of boy work-I ers on farms is that nearly every farmer who got boys in 1916 wanted them again in 1917. In 1916 a little over 2,000 boys went on the farms in Ontario. In 1917 nearly 8,000 were demanded and this year more than 25,000 will be required.

Hundreds of letters from farmers have been received, speaking in the highest terms of the work done by the boys. In many, many cases no other farm labour was used because none could be had. Nor was any other needed because the boys did all the work well and willingly.

This year Canada asks that no less than 25,000 boys shall enroll in the Soldiers of the Soil to help Canada raise the food our Allies and armies must have to win the war.

25,000 volunteer boy workers will help very materially to solve Canada's farm labour problem,

ENROLLMENT BEGINS APRIL 8 and it is necessary that it be complete by March 23 so that the farmers of Canada will know for a certainty that this help will be forthcoming when it is needed, They can then go ahead with seeding, being assured of help for cultivating and harvesting.

Boys from 15 to 19 inclusive, can enroll with High School Teachers, Y. M. C. A. Secretaries, Scout Masters, Etc. Farmers can apply for boys to the Provincial Minister of Agri-have more sense than the average human, who killed all sorts of small creatures indiscriminately, no matter whether or not they might be his best friends. The snake and beetle, for example, were very useful and destroyed plant-eating insects. No country in the world, he said, was so free from harmful bugs and insects as was New Brunswick, where anyone could sleep in the open air or on the ground and be liable to the attacks of no poisonous creature. "No insect does much damage in its own country," he said, "it is the foreign insect which we have to fear. Instead of killing indiscriminately, we must fight bug with bug and insect with insect."

The secture proved highly interesting and educational and it is regrettable that a larger audience did not take advantage of this opportunity to hear a splendid talk on this highly important subject. W. J. Shea, who acted as chairman for the evening, introduced Mr. Leavitt. At the conclusion of the lecture Mr. Leavitt was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

FAST SHIP-CALKING DEVICE DOES TEN MEN'S WORK

DOES TEN MEN'S WORK
Speed being one of the essential elements in the present wooden shipbuilding programme, it is of interest to know that a calking machine, designed to accomplish the work of ten men, has been developed, says the April Popular Mechanics Magazine. The apparatus is provided with two tandem rotary disks that tamp the tarred oakum into the seams as it is guided along between the planks.

TROUBLES OF PERISCOPES.

(Hamilton Spectator.) It is related that the captain of a British trawler in the North Sea recently 52c. attacked the periscope of a U-boat with a shovel and did so much damage that a shovel and did so much damage that the German had to submerge and travel off. The story recalls the exciting cruise of a British submarine up the Dardanelles at the time of the Gallipoli operations. In commencing its perilous journey, the vesel had to dive beneath nets and sea mines of all descriptions for a great distance before clear water was reached, and finally on venturing to rise to the surface, the commander to rise to the surface, the commander found himself surrounded by a great number of small vessels, which fairly covered the water. He related at the time how some person in one of these boats leaned over the side and actually seized the periscope in his hands; but fortunately those hands did not hold a shovel, and the British boat was able to the beautiful to the beautiful the periscope in his hands; but fortunately those hands did not hold a shovel, and the British boat was able to the beautiful the periscope when the beautiful the periscope in the perisco
