Particulars have been received at St. Malo regarding the desertion of the burning vessel Why Not, with her passengers on board, by the captain and crew while on the way to Jersey loaded with fodder. It appears the fire was discovered in Why Not's hold on Saturday and while the sailors were attempting to quench the flames a bucket was dropped overboard. A boat was lowered to recover it and the captain jumped into this boat and was followed by the crew. One passenger sprang overboard and swam after the boat into which he was reluctantly taken. The deserted passengers were greatly alarmed, and the excite-ment among them increased when the prove small boat was seen to be pulling for Erquy where the crew eventually landed. which is to the advantage of Russia.
