

tion of the Triennial. Pennsylvania increased 774, a gain of almost nine per cent., and a number greater than the membership of thirteen of the smaller Grand Commandries. Massachusetts gained 505, which is greater than the membership of ten states in the list, or of Scotland with her foreign Encampments. North America has 98,874 of the Templars of the world, against 4,880 in Great Britain and Australia, or more than nineteen times as many."
