between Richibucto and port in Prince Edward Island.

FOUND - The body of Richard Long, pilot, who was drowned off the Richibucto Harbor May 19th, was found at Chockfish Cove on Saturday last. An inquest was held by Coroner Smith at Beatoche. The body was interred at the Catholic Burial ground, North West, near Richibucto, on Monday.

LOWTHER - An obliging Richibucto correspondent says - The barque Alexander Keith, owned by George McLeod, Esq., which sailed from this place for Havre, direct, took on 900 boxes preserved Lobsters, valued at $5,400. The shipper is H. O'Leary 200 boxes, and John H. Bell 700 boxes.

EVANGELIST - Mr. Needham, Evangelist, has been holding services at Chatham during the past two days. The first was in St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday afternoon and the second in the Reformed Episcopal Church yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Needham also delivered addresses to ladies only during the evening.

A S. W. BOOM CASE - Among the judgments of the Supreme Court at Fredericton on Saturday last was the following: -

McMillan vs. South West Boom Company. The Court directs each side to be as argued at Michalunas term after common motions and the point of allowance of the Act containing Boom Charter.

For SCOTLAND - Rev. Mr. Wilson of St. Andrew's Church left Chatham on Monday night accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, who goes to Scotland, via Halifax, to visit her friends at home. Mr. Wilson intends to join his wife on the other side during the summer, when they will return again together. We wish Mrs. W. a safe and agreeable passage.

CHAPOUS or "ANDOVER" TIME-TABLE - After the first side of the time-table had been struck off with the ANDOVER advertisement upon it, we received notice of the change in her time of making trips. The announcement among the new advertisements, therefore, is the correct one. The last commenced running on the new time-table yesterday.

MRS. W. - We have much pleasure in directing attention to the Card of Miss Fairley, who is desirous of establishing herself here as a music teacher. Some of our musical friends in St. John, where she resided until driven away by the great war, have recommended her very heartily and we, therefore, hope she will meet with abundant success in her profession.

St. John's EPISCOPAL CHURCH - On Friday last a congregational meeting was held in St. John's Church, Chatham, for the purpose of choosing a minister from among those who had already preached before the congregation. It was resolved to invite the Rev. J. A. McMillan of Drummondville, Ontario, to be Pastor of the Church, and another meeting will shortly be held by the congregation for the purpose of signing the call.

THE REV. BARRY W. VESLEY - The Rev. Barry W. Vesley, of Richibucto, and which was the subject of a notice in our issue of the 11th inst., is in the city, and has been invited to occupy a place above the ordinary level of citizenship here, and to be invited to occupy a place of position of responsibility. It could not be expected that every thing connected with the fund would go so smoothly as the friends of St. John might desire, but though a few persons in the City and elsewhere have not been able to make their individual prejudices or notions secondary to the great general interest, their conduct will not be permitted to interfere to any great extent with the work of the day.

A contemporary says with much truth: "The most pressing necessity of the hour in St. John is the providing of tenement houses for the laboring classes."

A great many of the people who were turned out as absolutely homeless, and provided themselves with shelter, and the amount of rent they are able to pay is very little in comparison to anyone to erect tenement houses for them. But these people must be provided with shelter before the cold weather sets in. There are needed as laborers in the city, and must be retained.

It is proposed to widen Dock Street ten feet on the east side and Mill Street ten feet on the west side; also to extend the rail along the wharves from Portland Bridge to Robertson Place.

Great activity prevails in building matters, and business is taking hold of the minds of the people in a way that is very gratifying to their friends everywhere.

Meeting of the Diocesan Synod - On Tuesday, the 3rd, a large number of delegates assembled at Fredericton to attend the Diocesan Synod. Afternoon services were held at the Cathedral. After prayers His Lordship delivered his charge which was a very able one.

Among the matters referred to were the recent admission of the Danish colony of two hundred souls into full connection with the church; the fire in St. John from which many practical lessons may be learned; which he exhorted the clergy to impress thoroughly upon their flock. He thanked them for their loyalty to the Church in resisting the new schism - Reformed Episcopalianism - which found no adherents among New Brunswick clergy of the church of England.

At the business meetings various reports were submitted. That on Temperance Societies recommends the formation of a Diocesan Temperance Society; that on Foreign Missions showed a marked increase in that branch of work.

The resolution passed at last year's meeting of Synod, allowing the attendants at the Cathedral to elect two delegates came up for final action, when it was rejected by a considerable majority. A discussion arose, which lasted some two hours or more, but finally a reconsideration was had, when the resolution was agreed to and has now become law.

The canon for the confirmation of a Bishop, elected by the Diocesan Synod, having been rejected by the Laity in the Provincial Synod, it was resolved that the same canon be again introduced with the understanding that proper safeguards be taken for the well-being of the Church. Carried.

The debating during this afternoon was warm and spirited, but conducted in a truly Christian spirit.

Resolutions of sympathy with the sufferers by the St. John fire were passed. The election of delegates to the Provincial Synod which meets in Fredericton in September next elicited considerable interest.

The following was the result: Clerical delegates - Rev. G. O. Roberts, Gen. M. Armstrong, Canon Ketchum, Canon Brigstocke, T. E. Dowling, J. F. Carr, G. Schofield, F. Partridge, L. A. Hoyt, T. Neale, Canon Murray, Dr. Jarvis, Lay delegates - His Honor the Chief Justice, Judge Ritchie, Hon. R. D. Wilnot, R. Lester Peters, Wm. Carman, G. D. Street, G. A. Blair, G. S. Schofield, Wm. Jarvis, E. R. Chandler, Wm. Wilkinson, L. C. M. 400

The Temperance matter was discussed and held over until next meeting of Synod.

The question of the practicability of a Divinity chair in the University of New Brunswick was discussed. The matter was referred to a committee to make enquiries and report at next meeting.

A committee was also appointed to select from the authorities of Kings College, Windsor, what faculties and privileges with the Bishop of Nova Scotia should be required on the part of the Bishop of Fredericton or the Synod, to make the Divinity chair at Windsor equally available for Divinity students of New Brunswick and to give him such rights and privileges with the Bishop of Nova Scotia as in that institution. The Synod adjourned sine die on Thursday.

A choral service took place in the Cathedral on Thursday evening. A sermon was preached by the Rev. Partridge, and a collection was taken up for the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel.

The Fourth of July Excursion. - The excursion on the Andover, to which we referred in last issue as being in progress when we went to press, was a very enjoyable one. The accounts we have heard and read concerning it almost cause regret on the part of the representative of the ADVANCE that business prevented him from accompanying the party - and especially Messrs. Adams and Wilkinson, who were fellow-passengers with him for three years in New York from the time he started to the finish. The day was a beautiful one, and most of our readers know how enjoyable a company can be got together on the Miramichi, even in a hurry, by such gentlemen as Messrs. R. Call, Hon. Mr. Mulrennan, Alex. Morrison, Esq., and our other leading men, who on this occasion, succeeded admirably in securing a party well calculated to give our New York friends a fair idea of Miramichi hospitality. We do not remember having participated in a more spirited and thoroughly enjoyable excursion. Of the Luncheon the Advocate, which publishes such an elaborate report of the occasion says -

The Luncheon was one of the interesting episodes of the excursion, not only on account of its extent and quality, but also on account of the intellectual treat enjoyed by those who listened to the speeches of Judge Morgan, Mr. Thos. Adams, Mr. Dunn and others. The American Consul Agent (R. R. Call, Esq.) presided at the table, and he expressed in his usual happy manner, the pleasure he experienced in welcoming his young friend, Mr. Adams, as well as the American gentlemen he had brought with him to visit our country. He with others took much pleasure in giving to the strangers on their first visit to Miramichi, a most cordial and hearty welcome. Alex. Morrison, Esq., F. R. Winslow, Esq., Senator Mulrennan, briefly endorsed the remarks made by Mr. Call.

Mr. Adams then rose, and in a few touching, simple sentences, briefly reviewed his history from the time when he first started out in life, and said that the honor done him as well as his American friends would not be forgotten. Mr. Adams then introduced his American associates to the company.

Judge Morgan, in reply, gave one of the most stirring addresses we have listened to for some time, an address which was full of expressions of loyalty to the American Republic, and contained some of the most ardent avowals of good will and attachment to England's Queen and the people of her Colonies more than any we have heard of since the late war, and which he said had interests identical with those of the United States, and therefore, the two countries could well afford to entertain a united and cordial friendship. The other gentlemen also made a few remarks, those of Mr. Dunn being marked for their conciseness, elegance of diction, and fervent expression of loyalty to the great Republic, the Mother Country and her dependencies. Rounds of cheers were then given for the visitors, and the party again sought the dock, to have a look at the boat which was then nearing Newcastle again.

The further progress of the trip is thus given by our contemporary: -

After a brief stay at the wharf, the steamer proceeded up stream, taking the North West branch, where the boat was met by a party of gentlemen, who had come to look at the fine iron railway structure which spans the river at that point. Here the party were entertained in a most hospitable manner by Mr. Edward Sinclair, who carries on business at Bridgewater. He was loudly cheered as the vessel steamed away again, leading for the "Tickle," the narrow strip of water which separates the Island from the mainland through which the river flows. Passing under one of the arches on the northern side of the river the steamer headed for the other shore near 1877 to 1871. The law of 1867, when the County Courts were established, made no extra allowance for summing juries for the County Court. The law authorizing extra allowance was passed in 1875. The Auditor recommended that the extra allowance be paid to the jury on the 15th day of July.

It was stated that the account was put in last January Session, and referred to the Auditor to report upon at the July sitting.

Councillor Crocker said that the County had a claim against Mr. Mitchell and this was his office.

The Secretary-Treasurer stated that formerly $80 was paid for summing juries for the alterations in the Court House, the amount being $380.

Councillor Crocker asked, seeing that the expense would be $1200 more for proposed improvements of the look-up and market house, whether they should pay any further.

The Secretary-Treasurer intimated that the Council had a right to make an assessment for these purposes, if necessary.

The consideration of the subject together with Councillor Fotheringham's resolution relating to Market Houses was left over till the January Session.

The Council adjourned sine die.

index had to be supplied - ordered that $24 be paid.

Account of $34 of S. Thompson, Esq., for filling in assessment lists, was passed. Account of A. D. Davidson, Coroner, for $16 was passed.

Coun. Fotheringham thought the Coroner got work done as necessary, and made the county bleed thereby; he thought the leak should be stopped. Every one was satisfied in complaining of the bills when the inquiries they represented were thought unnecessary.

Account of S. Wilcox, for board of prisoners in the Chatham lock-up, $13.43, was presented. Councillor Fotheringham stated that these men were charged only for the other parties paid; the account was passed.

James Mitchell Esq., late Sheriff of Northumberland tendered an account of $424 for summing juries for the County Court from 1877 to 1871. who not having paid a poll-tax of 35 cts levied wrongfully by the Collector in the latter place, had costs for over $2 put upon him.

After considerable discussion the Secretary-Treasurer said the Council had nothing to do with the matter.

WHO OUGHT TO GET THE MOST? - Councillor Whitney said that last January a suit was brought to pay over an $8 fine for an assault of a fishery officer on the County, but he stated he paid it to the Dominion Government.

The Secretary-Treasurer said it was a question if under the Fishery Laws the fine did not go to the Dominion Government.

A resolution was passed requesting that the Secretary-Treasurer pay James Oats for cordwood when he completes his contract.

MARKETS FOR CHATHAM AND NEWCASTLE. Coun. Hutchison showed the elevations and plans for the Market Houses for Chatham and Newcastle. They are plain wooden buildings 120 ft. by 40, open in front and having hipped roofs.

100 TAY-FLOUR HIGH-CONSTABLES, ETC. John Buckley was appointed collector of dog tax for Newcastle in place of Charles Crocker.

An application by Angus Campbell, keeper of the Jail, for an advance of ten cents a day for boarding prisoners on account of the high price of flour was not concurred in.

James Campbell and Alex. Edge were appointed constables for the Parish of Glemel.

Councillor Crocker thought the Secretary-Treasurer should be authorized to pay the contractors for the alterations in the Court House, the amount being $380.
