Election of officers followed. Sup reme Chief Ranger Oronhyatekha was proposed by Hon. Judge Wedderburn and elected. The Supreme Chief Ranger report was, as usual, quite optim istic and not without abundant rea son. The order never was in such a flourishing condition, with a member ship on the 30th of June last of 232,818, and a surplus of over nine millions of dollars, an increase in the former of

It has been proposed to draw up a schedule of all cases in the army department which it will be the duty of the ecretary of state to submit to the viceroy before orders are passed on hem. This will be an important constitutional on arbitrary action by the military authorities. The government of India frankly acknowledges that the desire is to have it established in order to keep the viceroy and his colleagues acquainted with the policy of that department. Mr. Brodrick, it is understood here, is in favor of this also. The ecretary of state asserts that Lord Curzon and his colleagues here misaporehended the intention and practical effect of the previous decision of the his satisfaction that the points raised by the viceroy appear to leave the general principles untouched. It may be hardly necessary for me to explain the procedure, for the name carries its own explantion, but for the fit of the uninitiated reader-and who cares to write for any other?-I may say that a "Tot-Raker" is one of either sex (who said man was the lord of creation?) who goes from street to street, sorting through heaps of garbage thrown from the various houses, for anything that may have inadvertently or otherwise found its way to the dust-bin. Another branch of the business is collecting all the cigar or cigarette ends which have been smoked down, or in some cases, thrown way, by virtue of their dubious origin. Of course the former occupation is chiefly confined to the large cities, where it is the practice of the residents to, every morning, put outside their premises the ashes, etc., which have accumulated during the preceding day. These are collected by the dust-carts. but before this has happened probably they have been sorted through by some half-dozen or more of these "Tot-Rakers," and many are the strange and, in some cases, valuable finds that have resulted. CHRISTIAN WORKERS GATHER AT NORTHFIELD.

Opening Address Delivered by Dr. G. Campbell Morgan of Westminster

EAST NORTHFIELD, Aug. 4.-The twenty-third annual Christian Workers' Conference opened at Northfield this evening with Dr. G. Campbell Morgan of Westminster Chapel, London, delivering the opening address. The big auditorium was filled with an unusually large first-night audience and from the advance correspondence the gathering promises to be a record breaker. Every available place in the minary buildings is being filled, hundreds of others are living in tents, while large crowds are overflowing to Camp Northfield and the Hotel Northfield. The assembly of speakers is rich and varied, representing the best lecturers and Bible teachers both from the home churches and abroad.

On the opening Sunday, Aug. 6th, Dr. Johnston Ross of Cambridge University, England, is the main speaker. He is to be followed at different times by Prebendary Webb-Peploe of St. Paul's Cathedral, London; Prof. Jas. Denney of Free Church College, Glasgow; Rev. Len. G. Broughton of Atlanta, John Willis Baer of New York city; Thomas J. Villiers of Indianapolis, Ind.; Dr. A. T. Pierson of Brooklyn, N. Y., and others. The heart, as all know, is the largest and most important muscle of the and the moment it ceases to do its work perfectly the whole system suffers. All exertion means an increased blood supply to the heart muscle, one of the immediate effects of which is a more rapid pulse. When the exertion has been well within the powers of the individual this increased blood supply tends only to strengthen the heart, and the rapid pulse will very soon go back to its normal beat, and there will be a feeling of added strength and well-being. If, on the other hand, too much blood is constantly forced into the heart not strong enough to use it, the muscle grows too big, it stretches, loses its natural elasticity, and be-

To the Editor of the Sun Sir-In the Sun of July 29 there appeared a statement about an English boy named William Lowe being stabbed by me on my farm at Passekeag. Will you kindly permit me to correct some mistakes which your correspondent in Hampton made? In the first place he was not with me during the winter. He ran away from Mr. Scott at Penobsquis in February and came to Chas. Titus at Passekeag, who, having no use for him, sent him on to me March 24. It was not long before I found out he was very cruel to the cattle, and I alone. On the evening in question he cut one of the cows in three places handed him over to the proper authorities for punishment, but unfortunately streaming from the cow. He came back the next day for his clothes and wages, so his injuries could not have been severe.

Thanking you for this space, I am, yours very truly. MOSES RUPERT. Passekeag. Aug. 3.
