Or alone with the breeze on the hill,

I have ever a presence that whispers of thee,

And my spirit lies down and is still!

Mine eve must be dark that so long has been dim Ere sgain it may gaze upon thine;
But my heart has rovealings of thee and thy home,
In many a token and sign.
I never look up with a vow to the sky,
But a light like thy beauty is there— And I hear a low murmer like thine in reply.

When I pour out my spirit in prayer. And though like a mourner that sits by a tomb,

And though like a mourner that sits by a tomb, I am wrapped in a mantle of care;

Yet the grief of my bosom—oh, call it not gloom—Is not the black grief of despair;

By sorrow revealed, as the stars are by night,
Far off a bright vision appears,
And hope, like the rainbow, a creature of light,
Is born—like the rainbow—in tears.

respondent of the Tribune, relieves himself of the following:—"Yesterday it rained all day, but following:—"Yesterday it rained all day, but to-day Aurora stretched out her roys fingers and pulled the grey, gauzy, misty night cap, from the head of Mount Fenn, washed her roys face and soowy breast in trembling dow, and bathed her feet in the Schuylkill." What did she wipe them with?

we wish briefly to enumerate the advantages which we offer to our Customers and the Public.

We have always studiously avoided claiming for ourselves any power of Selling at thirty or forty per cent. under others in the trade, but simply rested our claims on our extensive experience—buying our Goods direct from the best Manufaeturers at Cash prices.

In commencing the Clothing Business some itma ago, in St. John. in addition to our large Custom Trade, we introduced a scale of prices little known previously to the respectable class of the public; this we were enabled to do, by entirely rejecting the long credit system, and supplying first rate articles at a moderate scale of Profit for cash.

Our theory has invariably been, that improvements can always be introduced. This year we endeavour to do better than last.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"There is a vast deal of good sense in this little volume. The rules relating to the important operation of eating are admirable. The moral tules are as good as the physical, and the written in a plain homely style, and the information which it contains in connection with all matters relating to health and diet, is of an extremely valuable and useful kind.—Sunday Times.

"A little book abcunding in sound, sensible, and practical advice for the transgement of health from infancy to old age. The writer's instructions are eminently judicious. This is a manuel which every household should possess, and which young and old will read with profit.—Critic.

"Here we have sure and practical rules laid down for adoption, which, if followed accurately, will tend to the coinfort, if not to the lengevity of life, As a matual for general use, it is so prepared as to avoid everything that is offensive, whilst treating upon topics requisite to be considered.—Belt's Weekly Messenger.
