US DEFEAT OVERMIND

Richmond, which may be in doubt though the chances there favor the Liberals.

For a long time the election of R. L. Borden, in Halifax, was a doubt, but at 10 o'clock a bulletin was issued from the Conservative headquarters announcing the return of R. L. Borden, Conservative, and E. Blackader, Liberal, the former by a majority of one hundred and thirty.

The outstanding feature of the election is the defeat of Hon. W. S. Fielding in Shelburne-Queens by F. B. McDurdy, a successful banker and broker of Halifax, and who is largely interested in pulp and paper mills in that riding.

This is Mr. Fielding's first defeat in thirty years of public life. His friends looked on this contest as the fight of his life, but they thought he would pull through. The result shows his defeat by 129.

Another sensation of the election is the defeat of Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia in Halifax, who goes down against a majority for his opponent, A. DeW. Foster, an undergraduate at Acadia College, who has a year to put in before his graduation in arts can take place. Foster's father is a cousin of Hon. George B. Foster, minister of finance.

A strange thing is the way several of the fishing counties have voted against reciprocity. Lunenburg, Digby and Shelburne-Queens having returned opposition candidates.

On the other hand, the mining counties of Pictou and Cape Breton have elected government candidates in spite of the proposal to reduce the coal duty by eight cents a ton.

The excitement in the city tonight was intense, the crowds round the Conservative headquarters evincing the most enthusiasm.

IMITATION SILK

It is Made in the United States, But of Wood Pulp from Norway.

(Textile Manufacturers' Journal).

In the manufacture of artificial silk pulp from Norway is utilized being shipped here in bales. This pulp, cut into test sheets, each individual sheet is carefully weighed and a certain quantity placed in a metal tank for chemical treatment.

The various chemical solutions used are mixed in huge iron tanks, from which they are pumped under ground through a series of lead pipes to the departments requiring the various compounds. This pulp, having been macerated and digested, is submitted to still further chemical action under certain fixed temperatures which are not allowed to vary even one-half a degree.

When it is ready for final transformation into silk the solution closely resembles molasses in color and consistency. At this stage it is pumped from the tanks to the spinning frames. Here specially constructed pumps are attached to each spindle, which carefully measure off the required quantity of the solution. This is forced through tubes with an outlet containing fine filaments as there are in the filaments of the silkworm. Through this it is passed to a tank running the length of the frame and containing a chemical mixture which fixes the solution instantaneously into a thread.

This strand is carried over a wheel down through a tube to a rapidly revolving spindle; the rate of speed is about 5,000 revolutions a minute. From this the strands are afterward unwound on reels into skeins. The air in the spinning room is completely changed every three minutes, being pumped off through hoods placed over each of the spinning frames. This is done to remove any possible fumes and to provide thorough ventilation for the operatives.

One of the interesting features in connection with the entire operation is the fact that the yarn is handled as little as possible. The specially constructed stores and bleaching arrangements are ideal, and when the skeins are finally carried to the large drying-rooms on the fifth floor one marvels at the change which has so rapidly taken place. From here they are taken to the sorting-rooms, where each individual skein is carefully examined by skilled operators.

A CHICKEN HATCHED BY A QUAIL

(Morganton Post).

An incident of some interest is reported from the Woodland neighborhood. Last week on the farm of W. L. Riley, at that vicinity, a quail's nest was found in which a hen had laid an egg. With this was found the usual number of quail eggs.

The last of the week the egg hatched and the quail seemed to lose all interest in her own eggs and turned her attention to the chick, leaving her nest and disappearing with the young. The hen, however, was broken and showed that she would have been hatched in another week.

Salt water or turpentine form a solution which is often used by breeders to harden their hands.

REBELS REPULSED IN ATTACK ON CHENG-TU

Peking, Sept. 20.—A despatch from the Cheng-Tu victory says that tens of thousands of rebels have attacked Cheng-Tu, but that the rebels have been everywhere defeated. An edict has been issued commending the victory and ordering the troops in the provinces of Hupeh Yu Nan and Szechuan to suppress the rebellion.

Independent reports from Chung King, however, do not bear out the victory, but rather forebode the likelihood of further disturbances.

NO TERMINAL FACILITIES.

(Canadian Courier.)

George R. Geary, K. C., mayor of Toronto, has a rather neat and expressive way of putting things. One of his best phrases is now going the rounds at the city hall.

The mayor and several aldermen were discussing certain railway matters, and incidentally the peculiarities of a certain civic departmental chief, noted for his hostility, were dragged into the discussion.

A railway language was in order, the mayor made a bit by remarking that "the main trouble with Mr. — is that he has no terminal facilities."

The phrase bids fair to stick to that unfortunate civic chief.
