LITERARY NOTE.

The International Monthly, published at Burlington, Vermont, at $3.00 a year, is under the direction of eminent scholars in this country and abroad, and the essays published are contributed by the most competent writers of America, Great Britain and the continent of Europe.

The December issue of this monthly completes another volume of this able Magazine. In the two volumes published this year appear most valuable contributions to popular knowledge of a wide and varied range of topics, and written especially for the American reader. A glance over the contents of the volume in hand reveals authoritative essays upon International and Domestic Politics, Commerce, Literature, Art, The Drama, History, Economics, Trade Unionism, Agriculture, Geology, Psychology, Sociology, Religion, Schools.

Probably the most noteworthy essay published during the year was by Alfred Rambaud, the great historian of Russia and a Senator of France, who wrote on "The Expansion of Russia," and whose account is practically a brief history of that empire by the one best qualified to write on the subject.

The December issue contains: "The International Position of Spain," by Arthur E. Houghton, Madrid; "The Evolutionary Trend of German Literary Criticism," by Prof. Kuno Francke, of Harvard; "The School and the Home," by Prof. Paul H. Hanus, of Harvard; "The American Negro and His Economic Value," by Booker T. Washington; "Archaeological Progress and the Schools at Rome and Athens," by Prof. Frothingham, of Princeton.

Strong statements are all right when the truth is behind them. In fact, a truthful advertiser's duty to the public is to make his statements as strong as possible. It's to our advantage to know the advantages we offer. It's to your advantage for you to know them. R. T. Craig & Co.

THE LOYAL IRISHMAN VS. THE YANKEE IRISHMAN.

We know of old, that when Greek meets Greek, great things ensue, but the South African War has taught us that when Irishman meets Irishman, under certain conditions, events of no less magnitude develop. Here is the latest instance. In the course of a stiff battle with the Boers, a Private of the Royal Irish Regiment bore down, bayonet fixed, at an uncouth looking opponent. The latter trembling, and stretching out his hand imploringly, cried, "Spare me, for I am an Irishman." "Is that so," yelled the other. "Then, begorra, you're just the man I've been looking for, for a ——— of a time." And, punctuating his observation, the "Royal Irishman" on the instant, passed his bayonet through the body of his fellow countryman—Liverpool, Eng., Paper.

NEW L. C. R. OFFICIAL.

It is announced that a new position is to be created on the Intercolonial Railway system, namely, that of General Inspectorship, and this new position has been offered to Mr. Adolphe Davis, at one time Superintendent of the Montreal Waterworks. Mr. Davis has up to this time occupied the position of Inspector of Locomotives, and has not as yet accepted the new position offered to him. One condition upon which he will insist, it is understood, is that he will have an entire free hand.

It is also stated that there is a plan on foot to divide the Department of Railways and Canals in two, and that Mr. Davis' position would be in reality equal to that of Deputy Minister of Railways.

KIND HEARTED CITIZEN.

Mr. A. F. Randolph yesterday asked Mr. Thomas, the keeper of the Alms house, to call upon him at Frogmore. Mr. Thomas did so, and was very much pleased to find Mr. Randolph very much better in health than he has been for some months past and very cheerful and hopeful regarding his recovery. He stated to Mr. Thomas that he wanted the inmates of the Alms House to have a good Christmas dinner, and he requested the keeper to purchase all the necessities for a real good dinner and not to forget the luxuries, either, and to have the bills for the same sent to him; and he would supplement what Mr. Thomas might provide with a box of raisins and a box of tobacco for the inmates. Mr. Thomas intimated Mr. Randolph that he would gladly comply with his wishes, and that the inmates of the institution would have such a dinner on Christmas Day as it had seldom, if ever before, been their good fortune to enjoy.—Fredericton Gleaner, Dec. 8rd.

THE "HOME" GAUGES THE MAN.

The true measure of a man is not the street, nor the amen corner in the church, nor the forum or lodge-room, but at his own fireside. There he lays aside his mask and you may learn whether he is an imp or angel, king or cur, hero or humbug. I care not what the world says of him, whether it crowns him with a jewel or pelts him with stale eggs. I care not a copper what his reputation may be. If his children dread his home coming, and his wife swallows her heart every time she asks him for anything, he is a fraud of the first water, even though he prays till he is black in the face and howls hallelujah until he shakes the hills.—Class Struggle.
