* A considerable addition to the articles imported into the United States from Canada should be made for articles named in the statistics of the Canadian Government as "Exports not reported at inland ports," amounting, for instance, in 1859, to 1,661,695 dollars, and in 1860 to 2,270,420 dollars; nearly all of which were imported into the United States, and were free under the Treaty.
