pions, which are highly useful in the field of medicine for radio therapy.

Several foreign scientists have offered to come to Canada to use the TRIUMF machinery in their own experiments dealing with sub-nuclear particles.

A film produced, written and directed by Dr. Moss has received showings on this campus and is available to interested persons who would like to know details as to the workings of TRIUMF, and its implications for the scientific world, as well as implications for Canada's position in the field of advanced nuclear physics.

Action Group, the Health Research Group and the Public Citizen, have been set up. On campuses, Mr. Nader has advocated the establishment of local, student-consumer groups patterned after the Public Interest Research Group he established in Washington, in 1970.

In November 1971, Mr. Nader announced what has come to be known as his biggest raid -- the massive citizen's investigation of the United States Congress. The book, Who Runs Congress? The President, Big Business or You, released in 1972 was just the first of a series of books dealing with the congress project.

The organizers of The Spoken Word plan to bring internationally-known people such as Mr. Nader to the city semi-annually with funding from the contributions made to the annual Alma Mater Fund by alumni of the university.

BACUS to bring back Monte Carlo- With Help

The shimmer of chandeliers, the sparkle of vintage champagne, the emotional current flowing from a winning crowd searing the elegance of the aristocracy, this is Monte Carlo.

An evening of first class entertainment with all the excitement of a casino, Monte Carlo has been a regular function of the Commerce undergrads (BACUS).

Designed to let your bets ride easy on your pocketbook, Monte Carlo still allows you to play the big ones as you've always wanted.

Introduced in 1962 as a night of gambling and dancing, it has since grown to become a formal affair, with the major entertainment in the Jubilee Auditorium. It was a great success until it met with a loss in 1972, and it was discontinued.

This year a group of Commerce students intend to bring Monte Carlo back in grand style. With entertainers in the auditorium, dancing in the social room and gambling in the downstairs lobby, Monte Carlo '75 promises to be Edmonton's only entertainment extravaganza.

A project as great as Monte Carlo cannot get to its feet with only thirty energetic people. We need volunteers! If you would like to help with anything from making posters to running a blackjack table for a couple of hours, (we will provide professional training in this exacting field), we would welcome your participation.

We cannot offer wages but we assure you that you will not be disappointed in becoming a volunteer for Monte Carlo '75. You can meet friends through our brief training program. (it will only be 3-6 hours and we need lots of dealers) and you will become a fantastic evening climaxing the next evening at the afterbash for all volunteers.

If such a project interests you then give Terry a call at 469-7672 in the evening, or drop by CAB 329 anytime to sign your name.

The date is set for Jan. 31, 1975 but you'll be hearing a lot more from us soon.

So get your gambling duds ready gents, inform your ladies and make it at Monte Carlo '75.

WHY COMMIT YOURSELF TO THE PRIESTHOOD?

Why be a priest? Certainly, in times as difficult as these we live in, being a priest is a lot harder today than it was in years past.

And committing oneself to anything for any amount of time seems to be one of the conflicts of our modern age. But the priesthood is a challenge. A big one.

Today, more than ever before in history, men and women, young and old, are searching for religious meaning, for withdrawal from isolation and alienation to joyful community experiences, for Good News in the midst of discouragement and hope in the place of pessimism.

The Paulists are trying to minister to these needs. As a contemporary religious community serving the American people, our mission is to communicate the love of Christ to people.

Every Paulist is a missionary: in the pulpit or the parish house . . . on campus or in the inner-city . . . with the spoken or the printed word . . . he is communicating to people. His mission is to all of America. His message is love; the love of Christ for all people.

It isn't easy but the Paulist welcomes commitment. Welcomes the challenge. If you are interested in the Paulist way of life, send for the Paulist Papers.

CCA calls for reconsideration of drug legislation

Steps may be under way towards the legalization of some drugs as the Canadian Criminology and Corrections Association has sent a letter to Health Minister Marc Lalonde, calling for reconsideration of present legislation.

In an article printed in a last week's Globe and Mail the CCC stated that Cannabis should be removed from the Narcotic Control Act and its sale should be under governmental control.

Quoting the association, the article states, "Manufacture and sale of cannabis by government is supported by the association to ensure the purity of the product and that profits would be in public hands rather than going to organized crime."

The letter also recommends, says the article, that profits should be used to sponsor research, education, and treatment related to the misuse of drugs and alcohol.

The association also supported many of the recommendations contained in the Le Dain report which was tabled indefinitely in 1972 after it was termed unpopular.

The report calls for, among other things, the gradual legalization of soft drugs.

The CCA is an affiliate of the Canadian Council on Social Development.

New SST-Cancer Report

Geneva (ENS) - The future of super-sonic transport jets -- or SST's -- received a major setback this week with publication of a critical article in the prestigious Environmental Conservation journal in Geneva.

The report, by American chemist Harold Johnston, confirmed earlier fears that SST's, in sufficient numbers, could significantly raise the number of cancer cases throughout the world. The high-flying jets release pollutants in the stratosphere which cause a reduction in the protective layer of ozone. Ozone is the atmospheric agent that protects the earth from the sun's cancer-causing radiation.

Professor Johnston, who's studied the SST for the U.S. government, says that a five-percent reduction in the ozone layer would cause at least 42,000 additional cases of cancer a year in the U.S. alone.

Johnston's conclusions were substantially the same as those expressed in a Soviet scientific journal somewhat earlier.
