To the Farmers of this Canada of Ours!

Gentlemen,-We thank you for your ever-increasing patronage, and remember we do not class our Queenston Cement with the water limes and hydraulic cements now on the market, but we guarantee our cement equal to the Imported or Domestic Portland Cements for all farm structures, such as Basement Walls for Stables, House or Cellar Walls, Cisterns, Hog Pens, Poultry Houses, and for all kinds of stabling. Kindly investigate our system of ventilation. This system is fully covered by letters patent, but to our patrons we make no charge. Write us for our new pamphlet for 1899, containing valuable information, prices, etc.

MR. A. HUME'S AYRSHIRES AND YORKSHIRES.

Mr. Hume's farm near Menie, Ont., is the scene of very active breeding operations in Ayrshire cattle and Yorkshire swine. We found on the occasion of our visit in January a herd of 40 Ayrshire matrons, all due to calve before the end of September, headed by the typical three-year-old bull, White Chief of St. Anne's 2986, a son of the noted cow, White Floss, and by imported Glencairn 3rd, to which most of the cows are in calf. Among the matrons may be found such as imported Eva Barcheskie, by Craigs of Kyle and out of Eva 3rd of Orchardton, in her seventh year. She has had a successful showyard career, both locally and at the big fairs. The bull which she carried from Scotland was 1st as a yearling in Toronto, and now heads the herd of Mr. A. Terrill, Wooler. A pair of her daughters are on the farm and are considered among the choicest in the herd. Her stable mate and granddaughter is one of the choicest and most highly valued females on the farm, with large and well-formed udder and prominent veins, finely formed and stylish appearance, and is due to calve about the middle of August. Dairyman's Maid 3445 would attract the attention of any shrewd dairyman, carrying as she does the deep substance and milking qualities inherited from her sire, White Prince 2nd, through his dam. Among the younger females we were shown White Princess, winner of the second prize in her class under a year at Toronto in 1898. She has grand dairy form and quality, transmitted through her sire, White Chief of St. Anne's, and strongly impressed all through the young stock on hand, their uniformity being a noticeable feature. Eva White Pearl, a November (97) calf, is growing into a splendid young cow, with a large, well-balanced udder. We also saw a 12-months-old son of White Chief of St. Anne's, which is developing into a splendid young hull, full of quality and rugged constitution, and with splendidly marked, velvety skin. Some half dozen cows have already dropped calves, and the majority are due
