Building the Ark

The construction of the ark by stages gives a very realistic idea of how Noah and his children worked to complete the task. The old patriarch is shown pleading with his neighbors to follow the word of God and prepare for the great catastrophe. But his hearers, who have gathered about to watch Noah and his family, toil, laugh and mock him as he speaks Then, finally the great ark is completed. The mockers still gathered about, see the old man load in the beasts two by two, and still they laugh, and refuse to listen to his pleadings. Then Noah ordered his sons to enter the big boat, and when the doors are closed the people rush
