It looks as though winter had set in.

Some of the farmers have their turkeys still in the ground.

W. J. Slack, Lyn, was a visitor here over Sunday.

The season for white fishing has been on for the past week, but so far few have been caught.

Several from here went up on Sunday to Athens to hear the evangelist at the Holiness Movement Church.

Philipville

The cold snap came too soon after the rain came. Many of the farmers did not finish plowing.

We saw a number of fields of roots that were not harvested when the ground froze up.

The heavy snow storm put a stop to the work of getting out stone to build a road through our town.

Thomas Moulton has purchased from A. Churchill the large drive house and stable and will move it to his farm and convert it into a machinery hall.

Mr. Myers has purchased two lots west of J. W. Halladay's store on Main street and has erected a building for a garage and will be ready the coming season to repair and build up automobiles.

A. Haskin has purchased the Farnham estate from the executors from the executors and will turn the building into a first-class repair room. Allan has passed through the auto school and has got his diploma.

Merton Denny, Lewis Brown and E. A. Whitmore are covering some of their out-buildings with shingles.

Live stock and farm implements came down in price through so many farmers selling out.

Brown & Lynn will put in the winter in the woods cutting wood for the farmers.

Morley Williams has secured the services of Richard Lawson to help him on his large farm for 1920-21.

SEASON'S CROP AND BARN SAVED BY USE OF PEERLESS FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

While filling a silo at Jno. Pattimore's this fall, the roof of his barn became ignited from the engine. On discovering the blaze Mr. Pattimore rushed to the house and procured a Peerless Chemical Fire Extinguisher, which he had purchased a short time before. He brought it to play on the fire and before the help that was coming from Athens and Addison arrived, the blaze was extinguished. Mr. Pattimore says the machine was undoubtedly the means of saving him his season's crop and barns. He immediately purchased another machine from the company's representative, H. Moffatt, and considers it as one of the best investments he has ever made.

THE LOST HUNTER.

Addressed to the A.H.S. student who was recently lost in the woods at Hard Island.

Lost in the woods, oh lonely thought, Where foxes prowl and rabbits tread, Or wild geese with their honking sound,

Fly slowly over head, Nor do I raise my gun to shoot At fowls or wing or beasts that roar,

For now tis well past dinner time, And I am far from home.

Strange scenes but meet my eager gaze, Nor can I hear familiar sounds Within this stretch of unknown trees So far around.

Oh! may the coming nightfall bring A place to rest my weary feet, And now one more very needful thing Something to eat.

But hark! what means yon firing gun, Signal, perchance, it is for me, I will reply, then wait a while, Hoping it may be, Thus from a thicket so far north, O'er marshy land and trew strewn ground, The Nimrod of the woods comes forth, The lost is found.

Looks as though the hardware man is going to sell a lot of snow shovels this winter.
